Forty years ago it was not as easy to secure voters' approval for new school buildings as it is today. "Way Back When" this week says that Palatine voters, after approving a bond issue in a special election refused to give the board of education authority to erect the building.

Arlington Heights' first kindergarten was outlined in the same issue. Wife of the Methodist pastor was secured as teacher. The Methodist Church offered use of its Sunday School room and Principal Williams gave his approval. The same year the village of Palatine took over the oiling of streets (before the days of paving).

We think President Kennedy made a blunder when he cancelled the White House subscription of a New York daily newspaper critical of his Administration. We do not think the loss of the subscription price will influence editorial content of the New York Herald Tribune.

Neither will the newspapers on the White House list relish a possible charge that their editors are handicapped in their writing by the whim of the President of the United States.

We are happy that the village and county officials of our area, with few exceptions, accept comments "for" and "against" their favorite measures that appear in the Paddock newspapers.

Our advertising department tells us that June 17 to 27 is Bow Tie Week. Have you got yours?

After listening to a few speeding tales heard during a social evening, we did some investigating. Here is the Arlington Heights story, which also probably applies to other neighboring towns.

The fine for the first ticket is not arbitrary; second offense calls for a fine up to $25; third arrest permits a fine of $100 and probable revocation of driver's license by the state.

In Arlington Heights, there are two unmarked police cars which are not used for speed violations. However, if either of them is passed at an excessive speed, they will give chase. Three police cars have radar equipment.

With this explanation we hope drivers will pay more attention to speed signs. This is especially important at intersections leading to playground areas. Since the closing of schools there are no street corner watchmen.

Many people have asked us what was inside those balloon-like towers at the neighboring missile station? We had our curiosity satisfied last week when we climbed into one of them and found a rotating antenna. The covering of the towers is fiberglass.

Are you proud of your town? Is it measured only by the number of parking meters and its paved streets?

Disfigurement of many a town started with the arrival of elm tree disease. Other trees have fallen to make room for more cement and additional parking areas.

The foresight of residents of 50 and 75 years ago made possible the magnificent trees of today. Are the citizens of today doing as much for the coming generations?

Architects, developers and plan commissions must give the leadership in landscaping beauty spots that will tend to counteract some of the inroads of commercialism.

At least the North Western Railway, in asking for a suburban fare increase, is seeking to balance its budget . . . something the Kennedy administration apparently has outlawed.

POPULATION UP 20% SINCE '60

New Census Is 33,422

The 1962 population of Arlington Heights is tentatively registered as 33,422, up nearly 20 per cent over 1960.

The special census just completed, shows an increase of 5,549 persons over the official count of 27,873 recorded in the April 1, 1960 census.

The count is still open to some revision, but it is believed to be substantially correct. The deadline for further enumeration or evidence of error is next Thursday.

Official certification of the population will be made later by the director of the U. S. Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C.

The new figure represents an average increase of 222 persons per month for the village for the 25 months since the last census.

AND, IT INDICATES an added income of about $27,745 per year for the village in motor fuel tax funds allotted by the state on the basis of population at a rate of about $5 per person per year. These additional monies will represent clear profit above the cost of the census, estimated at about $4,565.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson said he hopes the funds will be available beginning in August, following certification of the new population figure.

Another benefit to the village will be a yearly increase of about $554 worth of gas heating in public buildings, Hanson explained.

THE FRANCHISE of Northern Illinois Gas Co. provides a therm to the village for every resident. This represents about a dime per person, so the yearly credit for the village will be about $3,432.

Hanson cited proper planning and foresight, good school and park systems and the variety of builders available as reasons for the village growth. Roughly 1,000 acres have been annexed within the past two years, but this area accounted for very little of the increase, he said.

He noted that the Arlington Heights growth is typical of that experienced continually in the northwest suburbs. This year's figure for the village is about four times that of 1950, 8,768.

ANOTHER SPECIAL census may be taken in 1966 if there is evidence of continued growth, Hanson said.

The village keeps abreast of the population through monthly tallies of additional water customers. Each new customer is represented by a factor of 3.9, the average number of persons per dwelling.

Open Sewer Bond Bids On Monday

Good response is expected for the sale of some $3.5 million bonds by the village of Arlington Heights Monday night.

Bids will be opened at 8 p.m. at the village hall for $1.9 million general obligation bonds and $1.6 million sewer and water revenue bonds.

A PROSPECTUS was mailed to 89 companies, but it is difficult to tell how many will submit bids, said Village Manager L. A. Hanson.

The bonds will finance a storm sewer system approved in a public referendum last December.

MRS. ALLEN SCHULTE, left, of 210 W. Freemont, Arlington Heights, describes the occupants of her household for enumerator Mrs. Ralph Slater, 406 W. Freemont, in the special village census. Thirty-five enumerators, under the supervision of three crew leaders, took the count during the past two weeks.

Endorse Plan

Community Chest Is Proposed for Fall

A Community Chest campaign will be conducted in Arlington Heights next October if a program now under consideration is carried through.

The Community Council board of directors has endorsed the plan and will recommend its acceptance by the general council at its September meeting, according to Anthony Tomaso, council president.

Twelve to 15 agencies have already indicated their interest in participating in a united fund drive, he said.

PERSONS WHO have been appointed to serve on a Community Chest board of directors, headed by Tom Stewart, council projects committee chairman, are Village Manager L. A. Hanson, Paul Collins, Charles Wilson, Steve Jurco, Don Hartman, Dr. Ed McGill and Jim Glynn.

They will meet Saturday to set up by-laws and a constitution in preparation for seeking a council charter.

If the Community Chest is approved by the council, professional assistance will be given by suburban Community Chest personal.

OTHER PROJECTS which have been submitted to the council for consideration are school referendums, research on a junior college, maternity center, books for the library, industrial development, village calendar, youth center, Sunday blue laws, support for community orchestra, inter-American Friendship Organization and improvement of the Chicago & North Western Railroad station.

The project committee will investigate each proposal and make recommendations to the board.

THE COUNCIL, which now includes delegates from 18 Arlington Heights civic groups, is concentrating on a membership drive this summer, Tomaso said. He noted that there is "a definite need and interest shown toward the council in the village" and there are 130 to 140 organizations and associations which could participate.

Interested persons may contact Tomaso at CL 5-4102 for more information.

Newhard Is Appointed To Vacancy

John F. Newhard, 418 S. Banbury Road, will fill the vacant seat on the Arlington Heights Fire and Police Commission.

He was appointed to the post, left open by the death of John J. Solon Monday night by the village board.

THE NEW commissioner, a village resident for 10 years, is a member and past president of the Cardinal Boosters Club, a member of the Methodist Church and citizens lay committee and a Boy Scout worker.

He is production control manager for the Shakeproof Division, Illinois Tool Works, Inc. at Elgin.

Drive Total Is Announced

// Residents of Arlington Heights donated $754.51 to the Salvation Army during "doughnut" day" last Friday.

Head of the drive was Police Chief L. W. Calderwood, who was assisted by the Arlington Heights Women's Club, the VFW Auxiliary and neighbors.

Twenty per cent of the money will be saved for use in Arlington Heights, Calderwood explained.

The Roller Derby is open to members of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association with an age limit of 16 and up. Trophies will be presented to the three winners with medals to all finishers.

Applications for the event are available at Triangle Roller Rink, 1000 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

Additional information on the Roller Derby with a complete set of rules will be found in the sports section.

California Crash Kills Area Man; Injures Another

One Prospect Heights man was killed, and an Arlington Heights man was injured June 15 in a one-car accident near Chowchilla, Calif.

Killed was the driver of the car, Charles D. Jones, 38, of 12 N. Elmhurst Road. Alfred E. Seyler Jr., 44, of 304 N. Drury was injured.

SEYLER WAS in the back seat asleep when Jones' rented car swerved off a state highway and smashed into a power pole.

The two men, employees of Martin Marietta Co. in Chicago, were on their way to a company project when the accident occurred. They had flown to San Francisco the day before to visit friends.

Seyler was taken to Chowchilla Memorial Hospital and released the same day after treatment for cuts and bruises.

SERVICES FOR Mr. Jones were June 16 at Lauterburg and Oehler, Arlington Heights.

Mr. Jones is survived by his wife, Sandra Jean; two sons, Charles D. Jones Jr. and Donald N.; his mother; and two brothers and a sister.

Stolen Car Is Reported

An automobile belonging to James Monahan, 502 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, was reported stolen Wednesday.

The white 1961 Chevrolet Corvair Monza disappeared from a parking place at the curb fronting the Arlington Heights Beauty Shop, 11 N. State Road. Police described the auto, bearing license plate 797997, as a two-door model, with red bucket seats.

Seek Answer To Dilemma

by NANCY ANDERSON

The solution to the problem of the Arlington Heights School and community nurse program is still up in the air, but the outlook is for resolution by sometime in August.

This was the feeling expressed Tuesday night at an informal meeting of village board members with School District 25 Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh.

Village Attorney Jack Siegel suggested the village "owes it to the district board of education to settle settle the situation before the district's public budget hearing in August, so plans for the coming year can be made final." Trustees concurred.

THE ATTORNEY explained that, in his opinion, the health program cannot be legally carried out as in the past. According to Illinois statute, he said, village tax monies may not be used to subsidize the school health budget, because the village does not have full control over its share, which has been one-half.

The funds have been largely devoted to school use under the administration of the chief nurse, Mrs. Thelma Carroll, supervised by the district. The parochial schools have received a free ride with services similar to those in the public schools.

Expenditures for services to the parochial schools were slightly more than one-half for those of the public schools. District 25 has 5,750 students; St. James Catholic, 1,483; Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic, 1,129; and St. Peter's Lutheran, 528.

DURING THE past year the cost to the village and the district was $12,256 each. Clabaugh had recommended a boost for each to more than $17,800 for the coming year, but the village board cut the program from its budget.

The increase was intended to cover the salaries of an additional nurse and an extra full-time secretary. Three nurses and two half-time clerical personnel are now employed.

As the situation stands, the school district would assume full cost for the program for the coming year without hiring additional staff, and the parochial schools would be dropped. This would signify little change for the public schools, except for assuming the cost previously paid by the village. The administration would continue much as it has existed.

HOWEVER, this set-up could provide an improvement in service for the school district. With the parochial schools included, the ratio of nurses to students was about one for every 3,000; with public schools only, the ratio would be about one to 1,900. One of the district's aims in suggesting more personnel was to reduce the original ratio.

But this is not the basic issue. Nor is it a struggle over the issue of "church and state."

As Siegel commented, the question is "just how far we're going to go." Village officials feel keenly that the village's lines of responsibility and direction in a health program should be established.

THREE GENERAL possibilities are open:

1) The village could ignore further action on the issue and abandon any health program other than the token services of the health officer and village health board now in operation. District 25 could continue its own program as presently set up, and the parochial schools could do without, organize individual or cooperative programs, or participate in a public school plan.

To Expedite Work

Engineers Prodded by Trustees on Project

The engineering firm for the Arlington Heights Park Manor special assessment projects was prodded a little Monday night by the village board, with suggestions that work should be speeded up.

The seven trustees, by unanimous vote, requested the board of local improvements to expedite planning by Consoer-Townsend and Associates as much as possible, so work on the projects can begin this fall.

THE FIRM had indicated plans couldn't be ready for three months. Villagers at the meeting pointed out that a public hearing would then have to be held, and construction would probably have to be delayed until next spring.

The proposed projects in the 120-acre area include installation of sanitary sewers, water mains, a storm sewer and paving.

The board of local improvements was also asked to advise the trustees on progress as soon as possible, and plans were indicated for an early meeting of the two groups.

The trustees approved payment of 25 per cent of the attorney's fees for the Park Manor projects, in accordance with a request by the improvements board. A like guarantee was given for payment of the person who will be appointed to make the spread of the assessment in time for the approximate figures to be available at the next public hearing.

THE SIZE of the payments will depend on the bidding.

The village board also requested the improvements board to consider an improvement on Grove Street, suggesting it be extended from South Belmont to South State. Condemnation of some land would be necessitated if the suggestion is followed.

Mouth Voltage

Sales of electric toothbrushes are expected to reach almost a million this year. Women are the best customers.

Flag Raising Marks Shipment to Peru

Raising of the Peruvian flag with the American flag on the village flag pole Saturday will mark the first shipment of supplies to Comas, Peru.

More than two tons of good will items are being sent by the Arlington Heights Inter-American Friendship Organization.

The duo-flag ceremony, which will be at 2 p.m. at Davis and Dutton, is a traditional gesture for sister cities, explained Wayne Brennan, president of the friendship organization. He said the cooperating committee in Comas is making arrangements to do the same there.

PARTICIPATING with Brennan in the ceremony will be John G. Woods, village president, and Brig. Gen. K. L. Davis and the drum and bugle corps from the Nike base. Abbott Laboratories, Chicago, which donated $1,200 worth of vitamins, and Glenview Naval Base, which has made arrangements for free shipping to Norfolk, Va., have also been asked to send representatives.

The supplies, in thirty-two 55-gallon drums and about 40 cardboard boxes, will leave Glenview by air Saturday morning. In addition to the vitamins, they include more than a ton of school supplies, toys, primary grade textbooks, records and hand tools.

The transportation to Glenview was handled, free of charge, by Kehe Motor Express.

Invite Entries

Plan Parade For July 4th

Civic, fraternal and commercial organizations and individuals are all being encouraged to participate in the traditional Fourth of July parade by the Arlington Heights American Legion.

"Anyone who wants to join the parade is welcome," explained Robert Brown, Legion commander. "We want this to be as much of a community affair as the community itself would like to make it."

He requested that any group planning floats or other entries in line with the patriotic theme notify him at CL 3-8783 by July 1.

FIRST AND second place prizes will be given for the best costumes, and several prizes will be limited to youngsters through the eighth grade.

Parade entrants are scheduled to assemble at 9 a.m. July 4 at South Junior High School.

The parade will begin at 9:30, following a route north on Dunton to Euclid to Dryden and back to the Arlington Market.

The Legion has planned races for children through the sixth grade at the market grounds following the parade. Prizes will go to the winners, and free ice cream and cookies will be served.

Arlington Debaters Compete in Tourney

Arlington High School varsity debaters will compete in the national high school debate tournament next week at Missoula, Montana.

Jerry Berthold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Berthold, 1512 N. Prairie, and Linda Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krueger, 735 S. Evergreen, will leave Monday for the four day event.

THE ARLINGTON pair is one of two Illinois teams competing in the national tournament. The other is New Trier of Winnetka, coached by Ralph McGee, 1819 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Arlington's coach is Frank Whiteside.

Jerry and Linda earned the trip to Montana State University by winning the District National Forensics League debate championship. The District included all of Illinois.

THEY ALSO teamed to capture the Northwestern University tournament.

The national tournament will be a double elimination affair with nine rounds of debate, beginning with a practice round Monday. Teams will debate both negative and affirmative sides of federal aid to education.

2) The village could establish another program with district 25 for the benefit of the village and the parochial schools, with clearly established lines of resrponsibility for each segment.

3) The village could organize of its own, aside from the public schools, for the benefit of the village and/or the parochial schools. Possibilities would then be open for expansion of a public health program with services for the needy, the aged and other groups, and special community-wide health services.

DEVELOPMENTS along the line of the second or third suggestion, while not clearly outlined, are possible.

Need for some public health service has been indicated, although it was a minor portion of the previous over-all program. And, in Siegel's opinion, there are no legal objections to the use of tax funds in support of parochial school health services.

This is the approach taken by leaders of the parochial schools. All are waiting for further action by the village board, in hope that it will see the way clear to sponsoring schools.

"According to federal law," claimed Rev. Harold O'Hara of Our Lady of the Wayside, "health services should be given to all pupils out of tax money." He pinpointed the major issue when he said, "It is really a question of who has the right to administer the health service."

EDGAR SPLETBER, principal of St. Peter's, compared the health program as a social service, to the school lunch plan in which St. Peter's participates.

Msgr. George J. Stier of St. James said that school "hasn't made a move one way or another, praying that the village will see fit to sponsor the service in whatever way it chooses."

Clabaugh sent out letters to the parochial schools, on the authorization of the board of education, offering to share the public school health program on a cost-per-pupil basis. None of thethree schools has taken concrete action on this suggestion.

DISTRICT 25 has been neutral on the issue, "neither proposing to the village what it ought to continue or ought to stop," Clabaugh noted.

The village board has met informally with Mrs. Carroll also, and plans further study of the various routes open in settling the issue. (AF

ROLLING MEADOWS — The local ban on games of chance is having an adverse effect on the annual firemen's carnival scheduled for June 28, 29, 30 and July 1. The undaunted firemen are devising new ways for people to have fun while contributing to the fund to purchase additional fire fighting equipment. "There'll be plenty of fun for all," promises Chairman Don Marshall. The affair will be in Topps parking lot on Kirchoff Road in downtown Rolling Meadows.

PALATINE — Some 1,700 Palatine Park District residents are set to enjoy opening of the broad recreation program being offered here. Last year's program has been broadened extensively under the guidance of William P. Milne, director of parks and recreation. Program activities offer activities for all ages.

HOFFMAN ESTATES — The village passed a $4.3 million revenue bond ordinance to acquire the water and sewer systems of Citizens Utilities Company serving the village. The ordinance will go into effect 21 days from today unless a petition is signed by 15 per cent of the number of electors voting for village president in the last election during that period. If that happens, a referendum must be held.

SCHAUMBURG — A special census which will no doubt result in a larger share of motor fuel tax funds for Schaumburg will be conducted in the village starting July 2. MFT funds are alloted to villages at $5 per person per year. The last census in Schaumburg was in 1960.

ELK GROVE — School District 59 board members added $55,707 to its already substantial deficit spending program during the 1961-62 school year because of errors and low cost estimates in the working budget.

Trustee James R. Young will under go surgery later this summer for a gall bladder condition. Diagnostic tests at Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, also revealed an ulcer.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — A population increase of nearly 20 per cent during the past two years has been recorded in the Arlington Heights special census, just completed. The village's population is now 33,422, up 5,549 from the count taken April 1, 1960. This figure is premliminary and subject to revision, but it is believed to be substantially correct.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS — Cook County Judge Thaddeus Adesko Monday requested the resignation of one member of the three man board of trustees of the Prospect Heights Rural Fire District and replaced him with Henry Vallely in an effort to reactivate the fire department. The department has been closed since May 1 as a result of a dispute between the volunteer firemen and the district board, with the Mount Prospect Fire Department serving the area in the interim. Following the appointment, it was announced that the fire department should be functioning again by July 1.

WHEELING — Long sought approval of plans for the installation of over three miles of sidewalks along state highways was granted the village by the state. Motor fuel tax funds are to be used.

BUFFALO GROVE — A pair of wandering mallard ducks that nested in the backyard of a resident are now the proud parents of 12 ducklings. (B8

School Bus Safety Workshop Planned

The Arlington Fender and Body Shop, 910 W. Northwest Hwy., will conduct a workshop for agencies and garages operating authorized school bus safety inspection lanes next Tuesday.

The workshop will be one of 12 in the state.

Each authorized school bus testing lane is required to have its mechanics who test school buses attend one of the annual workshops. Others connected with school bus transportation are also invited to attend.

JACK HEINTZ, who is in charge of the program for the Arlington shop, explained that representatives who attend will be given a demonstration showing how to check all safety items on a bus.

The shop is one of the largest testing stations in the state, checking 150 buses twice a year. (A

Gary Theilgaard Wins Scout Derby

Thirty-one Cub Scouts from 12 packs raced miniature cars in the Blackhawk District Pinewood Derby last Sunday.

They were the pack finalists, representing the efforts of some 300 boys in previous derbies. The tiny cars were constructed by the Cubs to meet official specifications.

Winners were Gary Theilgaard of pack 154, who drove for his brother, first place; Dennis Holman of pack 164, second; Tom Wierzbinski of pack 164, third; and Jan Hansen of pack 133, fourth. Honorable mention went to Gay Feddick of pack 154; Jeff Adams of pack 152; and Ken Sabey of pack 153.

All participants in the finals will receive blue ribbon wards.

In charge of the derby were Bob Cook, assistant cubmaster for pack 235 and scoutmaster of troop 36, and Will Granzin, Blackhawk District commissioner and pack 156 committee member. Judges were Wilbur Mottweiler, pack 156 cubmaster, and Bob LeForge, assistant district commissioner for Arlington Heights.

Bill Mohan, father from pack 236, buit the track and served as official starter. (A

Local Fathers in Finals of Contest

Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows fathers were among 38 district finalists in the Chicago Area Father's Day Council's fourth annual contest for "Father of the Year."

They are Nathaniel P. Leighton, 40, 746 S. Mitchell Ave., Arlington Heights, personnel manager for Skil Corp., and Stanley Olszewski, 47, 3603 Pheasant Dr Rolling Meadows, a machinist with Teletype Corp.

Leighton was entered by his daughter, Mary Sue, 15, a student at Sacred Heart of Mary High School, and Olszewski was nominated by his daughter, Christine, an eighth grader at Carl Sandburg Junior High School.

THE FINALISTS were selected through a letter-writing contest conducted for all elementary and high school children in public, parochial and private schools of Chicago and Cook County.

Each of the 2,000 eligible schools was entitled to enter one best letter, and the final group was narrowed down by the council to entries representing the best letters in the 38 Cook County school districts.

The winner, Stanley Kalinowski, 41, of Melrose Park, was named Tuesday night in ceremonies at the Palmer House. (A

Present Budget Tonight

Preliminary Is At $2.6 Million

A preliminary budget of $2.6 million will be presented to the District 25 Board of Education tonight, Thursday, for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

Estimated expenditures total $2,261,300, up $282,240 over this year's estimates. Anticipated receipts for the coming year are $2,263,850, an increase of $282,132 over the 1961-62 tentative budget.

THE FISCAL year runs from July 1 through June 30.

200 Pupils Enroll In Summer School

About 200 youngsters will begin work Monday in District 25's four-week summer program of remedial and enrichment classes.

This is the largest group of summer school students ever enrolled, according to Martha Sapp, general director. Classes will be held at Park School and South Junior High School.

ALTHOUGH the majority of students are from Arlington Heights, the registration list also includes 45 from Mount Prospect, five each from Prospect Heights and Palatine, and one each from Barrington and Feehanville.

Of these schools, only Palatine has a summer program. Miss Sapp explained that Palatine students were accepted because registration there closed earlier than in District 25. which had a June 11 deadline.

The remedial reading program has the highest enrollment, with 114 students. Other remedial courses are in arithmetic and language skills. Each class, limited to a maximum of four pupils, will meet one hour daily.

COURSES IN the enrichment program are science and instrumental music. The eleven students enrolled in music will receive individual lessons and participate in small group instruction twice a week. (A

Committee To Avoid Area Spat

In an effort to head off problems with neighboring communities, the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday night approved a standing committee for discussion with representatives from other village boards.

The suggestion was made by Trustee William J. Moore, who referred specifically to recent difficulties between Mount Prospect and Des Plaines over a 325-acre area between the two communities. The land was annexed by Mount Prospect last week.

Moore had discussed such an intercommunity relations group with a Mount Prospect trustee before recommending it to the board.

Village President John G. Woods was empowered to appoint two board members to the committee. (A

Feature Northwest in 'Modern Hospital' Mag

Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, is featured in the June issue of Modern Hospital magazine, winning the editors' acclaim as the Modern Hospital of the Month.

Northwest was billed as the hospital "designed to triple its capacity within the next few years, matching the growth of the community it serves."

Operating at capacity on several levels during recent months, the hospital is ripe for testing, its designers claim.

The two-building, 110-bed structure was designed for expansion to 300, but Alan B. Campbell, administrator, feels that the most urgent need is the addition of from two to four operating rooms.

ANOTHER recommendation that Campbell strongly urges for consideration is the inclusion of at least one room that is equipped to handle suicidal or mentally disturbed persons who are frequently admitted to the hospital.

When the hospital is expanded, of course, both the nursing unit and the ancillary building will be extended, with a matching complex also being built alongside the existing structures. All facilities on the north side of the building can be extended outward.

Because of the heavy patient load, space problems in the administrative section and visitor waiting room are also plaguing officials and consultants.

ACCORDING TO architectural theory, the task of expansion is one that should be accomplished with a nonchalance that will justify Modern Hospital's praise. Northwest's prime concern, and one the magazine article neglects, is the funds necessary to undertake expansion.

Presently a financial committee headed by Warren Lattof is considering bids from various architectural firms.

When architects and contractors have been selected, the plans will go before the administrators for approval and amendment, and the work of procuring funds from the generous industries, businesses and residents of the community and area serviced by the hospital will begin. (B8

Fine Two Youths In Beer Pouring

PARIS, ILL., (UPI) — Two Ridge Farm youths were fined $5 each Tuesday for pouring beer down a telephone mouthpiece at a public booth.

Dale Onley, 21, and Robert Boyles, 19, told Police Magistrate Grover Hoff that they were "trying to get the telephone operator drunk."

CHIEF OF THE BIG WATERS Nation of YMCA Indian Guides presents a pledge of $5,000 to Mrs. William Busse, co-chairman of the wind-up building drive at Northwest Suburban YMCA. Chief O. Kahila made the pledge in behalf of the 27 tribes of 'Y' Indian Guides in this area, consisting of approximately 10 fathers and 10 sons in each tribe.

Last report on the wind-up building drive indicated over $60,000 raised toward the goal of $120,000. The campaign is being extended through June in order to complete calls on all 'Y' minded families.

Joe Schneller Toasts Business Anniversary

JOE SCHNELLER

Joe Schneller, president of Schneller Furniture Co., will uncork a champagne party tonight, Thursday, to celebrate the anniversary of his 14th year in the furniture business.

Commemorating a sales career which began on a solo basis at 1321 Michigan Ave., Chicago, in 1948, the celebration will extend through Saturday, June 23 at 22 S. Dryden and 15 N. Hickory in Arlington Heights. Today Schneller's operation includes seven qualified salesman, his wife, and himself.

Boasting a customer list of over 6,000, Joe admits that "we owe our growth to our customers."

FEATURING A separate Colonial shop, Schneller furniture today offers complete service in all brand name bedroom, living room, and dining room sets, and custom draperies.

As a further aid to customers interested in obtaining the season's most recent stock in furniture style, Schneller makes yearly visits to factory showrooms in North Carolina to survey the early spring and autumn southern markets.

Presently, the veteran "chairman" is looking forward to the completion of the street fronting the Hickory store.

"Then people won't think they're driving up an alley to the colonial shop."

IN A FINAL assessment of his business success in Arlington, Joe summed up his thoughts by saying, "We only hope that we will be able to spend the next 14 years in the suburbs." (B8

'Shot' Part Of Day's Work

ST. LOUIS, (UPI)—Gun Collector John Boxdorfer of Chester, Ill., was showing a youth group at the Missouri Historical Society the workings of an old muzzle loader weapon.

Jerry Kleiman, a TV news cameraman, was filming the scene.

Suddenly Boxdorfer's weapon fired. The shot splintered an overhanging tree limb on which a squirrel had been resting.

The squirrel landed on Kleiman, biting and scratching.

Kleiman ended up at the hospital Monday for a tetanus shot. But he did complete his assignment.

Recommends Action

College Committee Makes Its Report

A ten-man committee representing the interests of Township High School District 214 reported to the Board of Education Monday evening the findings of the North Suburban Chicago Regional College Survey, strongly recommending that the board immediately endorse a program to establish a junior college in the district.

The area encompassed by Wheeling Township was labeled by the survey the "central core" most urgently requiring the facilities of such an institution to insure a continued education for all high school graduates who nay "reasonably be expected to benefit from such study."

Headed by former board member George Sheppard, the committee consisted of C. Conley Stewart, Robert B. Vogoler, Arthur Aronson, M. Edward Smith, Arthur Skelton, Vance Folkman, Arthur Kelter, Mrs. Agatha Reinsma, and Mrs. Mary Yado.

AFTER A one-hour discussion, in which Sheppard stressed the crowded conditions of today's universities and the increasingly scrutinous admissions procedures, the board moved to accept the report of the committee and lend its support to endeavors to form a junior college district in the area.

The discussion revealed that if action to form such a district is not taken soon by local organizations, the state or Federal government would very likely establish a district under its own control.

The committee suggested that two sites be purchased, with construction commencing on the one as soon as possible, and the other being held in reserve for future needs.

Based on a California study which came up with the figure 2,750 as ideal for a junior college enrollment, the survey estimates that construction of a junior college in this area would cost about $20 million.

So fast has Arlington Heights Federal Savings grown (current assets: $26.5 million) that we must now announce the expansion of our new Williamsburg Colonial building—far ahead of the schedule we envisioned when we opened these doors in December 1958. Work will begin in late summer for completion in time for Federal Savings' 10th anniversary next spring. The expansion program means more comfort and convenience for our Federal Savings patrons.

It's National Recreation Month

Suburbanites Seek Added Leisure Time

'Explosion' Is Not All Bad

(This is the third in a series of articles on National Recreation Month now being observed throughout the nation. Theme this week is "Recreation-and-the-Arts." Theme for the month is "New Horizons for Your Free Time.)

by MELDA LYNN

The term "population explosion" can be heard many times when the northwest suburbs are discussed.

We are informed of the problems this explosion brings through trying to keep school, recreation and government services adequate to the needs of the growing population.

This explosion has brought about many good things, however, including a new type of explosion — a cultural explosion.

Along with the increased number of people moving into the area, along with the newfound freedom of more leisure time, suburbanites of all ages are finding recreation outlets which actually result in a contribution to themselves, their community and their country.

Participation in art, music, dancing, drama and writing—while providing recreation also contributes a very special, vibrant new asset to the world—American culture.

THE NATIONAL Recreation Association, a non-profit organization which sponsors National Recreation Month, has been encouraging local recreation groups to stress programs for all ages in the performing arts.

Park districts, churches and schools, the Northwest Suburban YMCA and youth and adult service organizations are all increasing their program scopes to include participation in music, art, drama and writing, both through active participation and appreciation.

Athletes, businessmen, housewives and factory workers can be found in the same class bent over easels creating what could well be masterpieces on canvas.

GOLDEN AGERS are finding new interests by joining music, dancing and reading groups—young adults are "treading the boards" of the neighborhood theater stages—and teenagers are finding expression through classes in instrumental and vocal music—learning to appreciate Beethoven as well as rock 'n roll.

By taking part in the performing arts, either as groups, families or individuals, they are finding a new way to express themselves—as free men in a free society and becoming important voices in the American way of life.

Summer recreation programs in the area for 1962 all have increased emphasis on arts and crafts classes. A special drama instructor to provide a program in connection with all playground activities has been added to the Mount Prospect Park District staff.

IN PALATINE, the community band will again offer recreation for those who volunteer their talents to play. The weekly band concerts will be enjoyed by the spectators who in turn find pleasurable recreation in listening.

A co-operative grade school-park district band program in Mount Prospect has been gaining in popularity each year.

The Sweet Adelines provide an opportunity for recreation for those who prefer to use their vocal cords to make music.

Painting classes, ceramics classes, jewelery making, photography, creative writing and many other art courses for the novice or the "pro" are becoming a regular, necessary part of the good life of the northwest suburbs.

AREA residents are learning to use their leisure time to bring happiness to themselves—and while doing it—they are making a place for America in the history books of the world—right along with their forefathers who didn't have time to devote their energies to the arts because they were too busy building this country out of a wilderness.

Today's performing artists tell the world through rhythm, color, tone, spoken and written word that the freedom found in America is the kind that will prevail and will produce a culture unmatched anywhere in the world—a culture born through new horizons discovered in their leisure time. (B8

'I Have Arrived'

When I am dead and buried on my tombstone I would like to have it written, "I have arrived." Because when you feel that you have arrived, you are dead.—Yul Brynner.

Forest View

Site Work to Chicago Firm

The Board of Education of High School District 214 met Monday, abandoning portions of the proposed agenda to devote its arbitrary powers to the problem of site development at Forest View High School.

Charles Fyfe, member of the building committee and chairman of the finance committee for the school, acquainted the board with the problem of fickle finance.

The original budget set the task of developing the Foreset View site at $326,000, but several changes in this part of the building program call for resultant changes in the budget.

ANTICIPATED cost of storm sewer work was about $50,000, but this program has been replaced by the installation of a swale, a drainage ditch that could be dredged for about $15,000.

The problem now facing the board is whether to hold the diffierence in the two projects available for future improvements, or to allocate this money to other sections of the budget. The portion of the budget accounting for fixed equipment had overrun its allotment by approximately $13,500.

If this unbalanced situation is not remedied, many of the school's athletic facilities will be deferred. These items would include baseball backstops, tennis equipment, track and field stations, and scoreboards.

AFTER A three-hour debate, President John Haas announced that the board had reached a decision to award the site work to Robert A. Black, Chicago, on a bid of $305,000.

The remainder of the budget will be frozen until members can reach a decision on deferments. (ACM-E

'Space' Books Now at Public Library Here

BY BETTY AINSLIE

The most fascinating books to young readers are the much read and yearned over books on space. With sputniks, missiles and space capsules, youngsters are now facing the very definite possibility of moon flights in their lifetime.

Arlington Heights Memorial Library, children's department, has a large collection of such books.

"We buy all the good space books we can," declared Edith Lindsey, children's librarian. "And we have a hard time keeping any of them on the shelves."

MANY NEW ones are added every month; here are a few boys and girls might like to add to their summer reading list.

"Seeing the Earth From Space" by Irving Adler is written for early space enthusiasts to enjoy at their own level. This book has detailed reports on each new moon man has put into the sky and what each tells about Earth—its shape, gravity atmosphere and cosmic rays.

Science teacher and space expert Leo Schneidier has written "Space In Your Future". He takes a tour through some astronomical observatories, telling about the tools of the astronomer, the telescope and spectroscope, and what they have taught about the solar system, the galaxy and the universe.

A VERY first space book called "What is Space?" by Elmer Kane is lavishly illustrated in color for the very young reader, carefully telling about the area called space.

"A Handbook for Space Travelers," by Walter B. Hendrickson Jr., is designed to furnish young space fans with the basic information needed to understand scientific objects from the first Chinese rockets to present day satellites.

A revised edition of a popular older book is "The Exploration of Space," by Arthur C. Clarke. The earlier book appeared in 1952; the new one tells how rockets have grown since then from 14 to several hundred tons.

WHAT WILL future space ships look like? What kind of fuel will they use? What will be found on the planets? These questions are all answered and brought up to date with the latest information available.

A book illustrated with cartoon-like characters is "You and Your Space Neighbors," by John Lewellan, who makes the study of space facts as interesting and stimulating as the weirdest science fiction.

Is there life on other planets? If so what kind? These questions are in a book for older boys and girls called "The Sky is Our Window," by Terry Maloney. This book, which begins with the simplest phenomenon, makes even the hardest bit of space science easier to grasp. The author is one of England's foremost astronomers.

"ROCKETS AND Satellites," by Franklyn Branley, is a timely book because these two words have become a familiar part of present day conversation. Branley defines the difference between them for the very young space fan.

"Messages From Space," by Clive E. Davis, describes the methods used in getting back information from the sound of rockets and satellites. It also describes how scientists follow the path of a satellite and how it is controlled from the earth, how they collect and store data, and how various instruments were used on the Atlas, Discoverer, Echo and Thor-Able-Star.

A collection of stories of the exploration and settlement of outer space is gathered in "Space Pioneers," by Andre Norton. Here the reader is given a glimpse into the future of space travel through the ever popular science fiction.

"Man Alive in Outer Space," by Henry B. Lent, is the story of the men behind America's first man into space, the men the Air Force calls space surgeons. Details of how the surgeons test and retest every problem of space flight, coupled with many pictures, are sure to delight the space-minded boy or girl. (A

FEDDERS

AIR CONDITIONERS of the HIGHEST INTEGRITY

FACT — The only way to get real cooling power out of any air conditioner is to build it in with better, more powerful components.

FACT — These new Fedders use the most powerful twin-cylinder compressors available. They develop more potential cooling power than single-cylinder compressors used in many air conditioners today.

FACT — To capture—and deliver—as much of this cooling power as possible, Fedders uses nothing less than three-row cooling coils. Many models use four-row coils—even five rows.

Fedders cooling ratings are among the very highest. The cooling power of each model is accurately stated right on the air conditioner itself. More important, it is completely validated by these above facts which are far more reliable than mere claims. This high integrity with which every Fedders is built is an old, old story—Fedders has been top-rated in every competitive test conducted by independent consumer organizations from 1954 through 1958.

If there's any other way to build a good air conditioner, we never heard of it. We never heard of a better way to buy an air conditioner, either.

Mexican Girl Scouts Guests In U. S. for Senior Roundup

Two Girl Guides from Mexico will be the guests of the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County for three weeks beginning June 16. Miss Rosalind Knight and Miss Beatrice Anya Torres, both of Tempes, Mexico, are Girl Guide Rangers, the equivalent of Senior Girl Scouts in the United States.

Mrs. Ruth Crawford, president of the Girl Scout Council, announced that the international visitors are coming to the United States to participate in the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup, an encampment of some 10,000 Scouts. The event, sponsored by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., will be held from July 18-31 at Button Bay State Park, on the shores of Lake Champlain in Vermont.

Misses Knight and Torres will be among 150 international guests from 15 nations who are expected to attend the roundup. Girl Guide associations will be represented from Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Great Britain, Greece, Japan, Luxembourg, Mexico, New Zealand, Nigeria, Peru and Sweden.

The two Mexican girls will join with six Senior Scouts from Northwest Cook County Council to form a Roundup patrol.

Among the local group are patrol leader, Susan Yates and Sandra Johnson of Arlington Heights and Jayne Wittenberg of Palatine.

The 3-week council stay will serve to introduce girl scouting in the United States to Misses Knight and Torres. Besides having the opportunity to get to know the girls in their patrol, the Mexican visitors will attend meetings and help with the preparations necessary for the scouting event.

Working hard at keeping the folks at home informed will be correspondents, Jayne Wittenberg of Palatine and Jo Boswell of Arlington Heights, radio commentators: Sandy Johnson and Jackie Miller of Arlington Heights, who will be taking tape recordings of all the important happenings, and Photographers, Sue Yates and Sue Larson of Arlington Heights.

Case Pending

Lawyer Denies School Attack

The attorney for the driving school which has requested a temporary injunction to restrain Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 from continuing driver training classes for adults this week denied the school is attacking the system of adult education.

Harry R. Booth, attorney for the plaintiff, Acorn Auto Driving School, Inc., said the school is basin gits case on a special statute on driver education which has no direct relation to edult education.

William R. Engelhardt, attorney for district 214, had suggested the basic question to be decided in the suit is whether or not a school district can teach adults. If successful, he commented, the suit might restrict the rights of high schools to teach almost any subject to cover so many possible subjects and activities.

THE CASE will be heard Friday in the Circuit Court of Cook County by Judge Cornelius Harrington. District 214 and two co-defendant districts, Leyden High School District 212, Franklin Park, and Thornton Fractional High School District 215, Calumet City, have filed a motion to dismiss the case.

"We do not dispute adult education or believe that it should be restricted," Booth said. "However, the legislature of Illinois has passed a law which says, expressly, that driver education shall be limited to persons within the ages of 15 to 21, whether or not they attend public school.

It is on the interpretation of this law that the major arguments for both sides rest. The high school districts claim, in effect, that the statute does not restrict the driver education classes, it simply outlines one specific area.

THE DRIVING school further seeks a permanent injunction to prohibit school districts from providing driver training instruction or classes of any kind to persons above the age of 21.

Booth said the suit was brought on behalf of about 40 driver schools in the metropolitan area.

"These schools have lost a great deal of money by this unfair competition," he claimed. "They pay substantial taxes and other expenses and have property interests in the business. Thus, they're entitled to protection against this illegal and unfair competition."

"The schools are not engaging in adult education, but in a business, with their driver training courses for persons above 21," he charged. (A

Begin Acquisition Of Land by Jan. 1

The land acquisition program for improved Illinois 53 north of U.S. 14 probably will begin in December or early in 1963.

Roger Nusbaum, deputy chief highway engineer for the Illinois Department of Highways, said this week that first emphasis will be made to complete that portion of the multilane roadway between the Northwest Tollway and the Northwest Highway.

SEVERAL property owners in vicinity of Rand and Wilke Roads have expressed concern in the land acquisition program in their area. Nusbaum said that this phase of the program is not being pushed and won't be until surveyors and appraisers have completed the program south of the Northwest Highway.

He explained that where there were hardship cases, such as that of the Elks Club building, Wilke Road north of Palatine Road, which was partly under construction when the revised route was published, the property already has been obtained.

NUSBAUM SAID there were several similar cases where committments to builders by property owners in the Blue Bell Estates area would have resulted in undue hardships by delaying acquisition. Several properties in Blue Bell Estates already have been obtained.

"However, the rest of the acquisition program will go forward later," Nusbaum said.

Military Police Hunt Dick Hauff

SEOUL, KOREA, (UPI)—Military police Wednesday were searching for Army Private Richard W. Hauff, 1001 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, who escaped from custody Friday while under arrest on charges of larceny and forgery.

HAUFF, former Arlington Heights resident and ex-owner of the Mt. Prospect Country Club, escaped from a military police escort in Seoul while outside a stockade.

The 26-year-old private, who life for alleged association with Chicago hoodlums and for his "playboy" activities, was assigned to the First Cavalry Division.

He was arrested by military police April 11. (B8

Eye Change Of Zoning Class Here

Service stations and other drive-in businesses where persons are served in cars should be special uses, rather than permitted uses, in general business districts, the Arlington Heights Village Board suggests.

The board voted Monday night to ask the plan commission to review the zoning classification involved and consider a text change in the ordinance.

THE BUSINESSES involved include gasoline service stations and other places where flammable liquids are sold, banks, restaurants, refreshment stands and the like.

Village Attorney Jack Siegel cited special traffic problems involved with these businesses as the reason why they should be required to seek special permission, rather than receive automatic grants, by the zoning ordinance.

Poole Bid Taken for Car, Truck

A bid of $3,301.48 for a car and truck was accepted by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday night.

The bid, by George C. Pooe, Inc., was about $670 under the budgeted amount of $4,000. A station wagon will cost $1,812.72 and a three-quarter ton pick-up truck, $1,488.76.

One dissenting vote on the bid was cast by Trustee Norval Stephens, who indicated he was concerned that only one bid was received for the vehicles. Other blanks were sent to Lattof Motor and Eddie Ruck Pontiac of Wheaton. Lattof did not respond and the Ruck bid arrived too late for consideration. (A

'Guest' Is Top Speaker Of Evening

One of the guests earned top prize in the Arlington Heights Toastmasters competition June 13.

OTHER speakers were Don Carl, also a guest, Don Heine, Marshall McEuen and Bob Stredronsky.

Dist. 214 Students Allowed One Day of Excused Absence

Question Getting More Examination by Board

Arlington-Prospect High School students will be allowed one day of excused absence each year for religious purposes through unanimous actions of the Board of Education on June 11.

The absence for part or all of one school day must be arranged by the religious group with school officials no later than one month before the date of the absence.

Further study of excused time for religious groups which might require more than the single day of absence is being made. Mentioned specifically as groups which observed special religious holidays during the school term were the Jewish and Eastern Orthodox faiths.

The question of excused time for religious purposes arose April 30 when a delegation of Roman Catholic clergymen and parents protested the "unexcused" absences given 519 Arlington and Prospect students. The students had attended a four-hour "Day of Recollection" religious observance on April 11 at St. James and St. Raymond Catholic Churches.

PREVIOUS school policy had limited excused time for religious purposes to one hour, and the students attending the special program were given unexcused absences for three hours.

With an excused absence students may make up work missed and even take tests for full credit. An unexcused absence leaves the decision to the individual teacher as to whether work or tests should be made up.

Heart of the controversy with public school authorities was their suggestion that "Days of Recollection" be scheduled for weekends, during school vacations or on "institute" days when schools are closed.

MSGR. LYNCH agreed it would be possible to hold the observances on these days but pointed out experience had shown attendance was higher when held on regular school days. He stated it was an incentive to students to attend when they could be excused from school.

Participating in the "Day of Recollection" were 10 Catholic parishes in the high school district.

Before a decision was reached on the excused time question, Robert Diekhoff of Mount Prospect spoke before the school board urging that no special arrangements be made. In a prepared statement, Diekhoff stressed that it was the duty of the school board to educate students to the fullest extent, pointing out that absence from class would interfere with this.

HE ASKED the board not to grant extra excused time during the school year for religious education, noting that in the particular instance cited the program could be scheduled for non-school days.

Charles Fyfe, board member from Elk Grove, emphasized his feeling that all groups should be allowed only one day of excused time to be fair to all. He called the proposed policy which permitted excused absences for any day required by the liturgical calendar of any organized religious faith a "blank check" since the exact number of such groups or special days required by liturgical calendar was not known.

The major Jewish holy days of Yom Kippur, Rosh Hashanah and Passover normally all fall in the regular school year. The Eastern Orthodox churches follow the Julian calendar which may put Christmas, New Year and Good Friday during the school year for their members.

THE DECISION to continue the study of the needs of religious groups not served by "time off' for regular school vacation periods came when discussion revealed board members apparently evenly divided on whether such absences should be approved.

This point was disputed by George Paris, member from Mount Prospect. Paris stressed one day off was not "fair" to all since Jewish and Eastern Orthodox students did not have their major religious holidays during school vacations such as Roman Catholic and Protestant students since the school vacation calendar was based on the regular Christian holidays.

Fyfe countered by noting all students did have the time off from school during vacations whether their religious holidays fell within that period or not.

MRS. EUGENIA Chapman, board secretary, who had proposed the time off for religious groups not included in the regular vacation, asked if this meant Jewish children should be asked to observe Rosh Hashanah on Good Friday since they were excused from school on that day.

Both Charles Lockwood and John Haas agreed with Fyfe that the proposed policy for more than one day excused time was too much a "blank check" and might encourage still further requests for excused time for religious instruction or trips.

To avoid stalling the entire religious excused-time issue, George Laubenheimer of Mount Prospect, chairman of the special committee which studied the problem, suggested the subject of groups requiring more than one day be set aside for further study and information.

The board agreed, with Mrs. Chapman specifically asking for a check to determine if any other school district in the Chicago area denied time off for religious holidays of Jewish or Eastern Orthodox students.

Idiotic Ideas

The kind of man who wants the government to adopt and enforce his ideas is always the kind of man whose ideas are idiotic.—H. L. Mencken.

Correction On Accident

Paddock Publications erroneously stated in last week's editions that Lois I. Laing, 1739 Verde, Mount Prospect, ran a stop sign and collided with bicyclist Joseph H. Heckenbach at the intersection of Wheeling and Camp McDonald Roads.

State Police reports indicate it was Heckenbach who ran a stop sign on Wheeling Road and hit the rear wheel of a school bus, driven by Mrs. Laing.

THE BUS was going west on Camp McDonald Road, which does not have a stop sign at the Wheeling Road intersection.

Paddock Publications regrets this error. (B8

Speed Causes Auto Mishap

Leola C. Henning, 241 N. Bothwell, Palatine, was charged with driving too fast for existing conditions after an auto accident at Northwest Highway and Euclid last Thursday.

She was the driver of a car which struck a car driven by Leona P. Dyson, 317 Wheeling Road, Wheeling, in the rear while it was slowing to make a left turn. Both cars were going southeast on the highway.

The left front of the Henning car and the right rear and fender of the Dyson car were damaged. (A

by ED LANDWEHR

Just replacing spark plugs in your auto engine might solve your motor trouble, and then again, it might not. Sometimes, additional service is necessary to get the most efficiency out of the old bus.

And just replacing tubes in your TV set might solve a problem, too, but then again, something else could be causing these tubes to wear out before their natural life span. Here is where professional knowledge and modern electronic equipment will give you the answer.

We're not a tube selling outlet at LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, but specialists in servicing and maintaining electronic appliances. We're proud to offer you services that will give you complete satisfaction, and save you money in the long run. Phone CL 5-0700 next time and find out the difference.

For One Year

Nancy Bohac To Germany

An Arlington High School student left last week for a summer's study in Germany.

Nancy Bohac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohac, 2209 Heron Court, Rolling Meadows, sailed Friday with 800 American Field Service students for summer educational programs abroad.

The Arlington High School honor student and cheerleader, who will be a senior next year, will live with the Heinrich Hanneken family in the small town of Friesoythe (pop. 4,000) near Hamburg, in northern Germany.

SHE WILL attend school there until Aug. 1.

Accompanied by a Waukegan AFS student, Nancy took the train to Montreal last Wednesday. Their ship, "The Seven Seas," arrives in Rotterdam June 25.

She will return Aug. 30 in time to enter her senior year at Arlington.

A Latin student, Nancy has had to "bone up" on her German. Her German hosts, a family with seven children, speak English, however.

THE AFS officials try to match the students and hosts according to family size, religion, and interests.

Nancy's new "family" is very interested in music, and Nancy is an accomplished pianist.

"She has been on 'Cloud Nine' ever since she was notified," exclaimed Mrs. Bohac. Nancy's biggest problem was limiting herself to 40 pounds of luggage.

HELPED BY an organization in Arlington Heights, Nancy paid part of her own expenses from what she had saved for college.

Nancy's older brother, Bob, was a valedictorian of this year's graduating class at Arlington. Her father teaches mathematics there.

LIMITING HERSELF TO 40 pounds of luggage was a big problem for Arlington High School student Nancy Bohac, who left last week for a summer's study in Germany, as part of the American Field Service program.

Committeewoman Is Named for District

The appointment of a Northbrook housewife as Republican state central committeewomen of the 13th Congreggional District was announced this week by Ralph E. Church Jr., Republican state central committeeman.

The new appointee is Mrs. Austin L. Wyman Jr., 1728 Marcee Lane, Northbrook.

Church, a resident of Evanston, also announced the appointment of a three-member advisory committee to the new committeewoman. Its members are Mrs. George T. Coker Jr. of Arlington Heights, Mrs. William L. Dease of Chicago, and Mrs. Charles Witham of Streamwood.

THE MOTHER OF five children, Mrs. Wyman has been active in the Republican Party in Northfield Township for 10 years.

Mrs. Coker is president of the Wheeling Township Women's Republican Club, Mrs. Dease is recording secretary of the 50th Ward Regular Republican Organization, and Mrs. Witham is committeewoman of Hanover Township.

Purpose of the advisory committee is to assist the committeewoman, Church said. (B8

Dads Share Their Day with Graduates, Birthday-ers

Local dads celebrated Father's Day in almost as many different ways as there are Dads. A few were vacationing out of town; a few more exchanged greetings of the day with out-of-town guests vacationing here. Many shared parties with just-graduated children or the fidgets with bride-to-be daughters. And lots of Dads didn't do a bloomin' thing which is just what they wanted to do.

The eighth grade graduation of twins, Georgette and Georgine Lalish, was a double-good reason to make a family reunion of the Father's Day graduation party in the Lalish home, 830 N. Dryden. Gathering for barbecue picnic fun in the Lalish backyard were 70 Chicago and suburban family members, some of whom haven't been together for many years.

Georgette and Georgine are the carbon-copy type twins and the bewilderment of long-time-no-see relatives added to the day's gaiety. So did the Father's Day greetings which ricocheted back and forth between the several fathers present.

MR. AND MRS. Ernest Poulos, 1225 N. Dunton, entertained 30 Chicago relatives at a Father's Day dinner party Sunday to honor the host's father, James Poulos of Chicago.

Next day the hostess was guest of honor in her own home at a surprise birthday party planned by her daughter, Linda. A shaggy-haired neighbor begged a haircut from Mrs. Poulos and used the excuse that she had to stay home to work on this column to lure the birthday child away from the scene of Linda's party preparation.

Other neighbors helped with the cake supply and when Mrs. Poulos returned home it was to find a dozen local friends awaiting her. The timing was cut as fine as the hair and several more guests arrived after Mrs. Poulos.

Last Friday afternoon five neighborhood friends planned to surprise Mrs. Vincent Weidner in her home to celebrate her birthday. She surprised them, however, with an impromptu invitation to "Come on over" at just the moment they were leaving their homes with the party makings. So they entered 1135 N. Dunton saying, "Surprise?" instead of "Surprise!"

THE HIGH school graduation of Virginia Bliss, daughter of Robert Blisses, 1307 E. Eastman, brought relatives here from Ohio and Maryland for a "Blissful" family get-together. Here from New Philadelphia, Ohio for the commencement and a week's visit were Virginia's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Cooke. Her uncles, aunts and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bliss of Baltimore and Mrs. Floyd Cecil, Linda and Ralph of Dayton who shared family pride in Virginia's accomplishment and the fun of a 4-day reunion in the Bliss home. The Arlington High School alumnus will attend Knox College in Galesburg this fall.

Twenty-five Barrington, Palatine and local relatives Wednesday night congratulated Mary Hoggay upon her graduation from South Junior High School at a party in her home immediately after the commencement. Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hoggay, 312 W. Wing.

Those attending the South School's eighth grade graduation saw double twice last Wednesday night as two sets of identical twins received their diplomas. Nancy and Frances Palmatier and Carol and Karen McNeeley received congratulations later from their immediate family members, probably the only people really sure of which twin they were greeting.

NANCY AND Frances (nicknamed "Francy" of course) are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Palmatier, 408 S. Patton, and have recently adopted identical hair styles to eliminate the one and only way teachers and classmates had of telling them apart. A "quickie" family celebration was all they've had time for to mark their diploma-getting; they've been too busy confusing friends at the many graduation parties given by the young set.

Carol and Karen, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McNeeley 605 S. Dunton, were honored at an open house immediately following Wednesday night's commencement, receiving the best wishes of local aunts and uncles and family friends from Bellwood.

Sunday before their graduation Carol and Karen were confirmed in the Congregational Christian Church of Arlington Heights. A family dinner later brought them the blessings of their grandmother, Mrs. Flora McNeeley, and their uncle and aunt, the Vernon Sallees, all of Downers Grove.

MR. AND MRS. Ray Brunk and Mrs. Leon Thomas, all of Muskegon, Mich. left here Saturday after a week's stay with their children and grandchildren, the John Thomas family, 1111 W. Euclid. Their visit was occasioned by the graduation from Arlington High School of their grandson, Bill, who will be heading Michigan-way this fall to attend his father's alma mater, Michigan State College.

Marie Thourson and her dad shared family congratulations Sunday at a combination graduation-Father's Day party in the Thourson home, 821 N. Gibbons. Joining Marie's Chicago area uncles and aunts were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stanley, here for the day from Union, Ill. Grandpa Stanley swapped Father's Day greetings with his son-in-law and congratulated Marie upon her graduation from Miner Junior High School.

For a father who likes fishing, being in Northern Michigan on a lake where they're biting good would be an ideal Father's Day. Clarence Loechl does and he was. Just how ideal Sunday turned out to be he'll report, and small, son Clarence, will confirm or deny, when they return home to 1213 N. Dunton today after a week in Michigan.

AUNTS, UNCLES and more than a dozen cousins wished Greg and Lynette Burmeister happy birthdays last Thursday at a double-header party in the Burmeister home, 1134 N. Dunton. The celebration was right on the day for Greg who was 6; for Lynette it was a summer re-run of the May 7 event when she was four and celebrated at a little family fun-fest.

Father's Day Greg and Lynette took Mom and Dad to Genoa to visit Mom's folks, the Franklin Wilkes, so they could give Grandpa their greetings of the day and have fun on his farm.

Mrs. Henry Hinneberg, 838 N. State, entertained at a dessert luncheon for eight local friends a week ago Tuesday afternoon. The ladies, lifelong Arlington Heights residents, meet together regularly for a social afternoon.

LAST THURSADY afternoon 12 local ladies ended a season of regularly scheduled lunch-eon-and-bunco sessions. enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Andrew Horcher, 623 N. State. Next Thursday they'll climax this season's get-togethers with an annual potluck dinner that will be outdoors, weather permitting, in the garden of Mrs. Harold Chamberlain of Palatine. Their plans are flexible and will be an outside-in-party in the Chamberlain home in case of rain.

Her guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Ankerberg, the Tommy Thomas family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumann, their son, Clayton, and his wife, and another son, Daniel, a minister who is visiting here from Boston. A UNIQUE surprise shower for a grandmother-to-be was given recently for Mrs. Sam Valenzo Sr., 816 S. Cleveland, by Mrs. Chad Lindner and Mrs. Betty Usher in the Lindner home, 923 N. Yale. Showerers were 12 of Mrs. Valenzo's coworkers in the Arlington Medical Laboratory, and their gifts were for "when baby comes to visit Grandma."

In this category one gift-giver, probably a veteran grandmother, thoughtfully included ear plugs. Mrs. Valenzo will attain her grandmotherhood via her son and daughter-in-law, the junior Sam Valenzos of Elk Grove Village. At this writing the event was "not yet, but any time now."

THE PARTY whirl began for Miss Goede April 20 when a family friend, Mrs. L. Rosen, and an aunt, Mrs. Harvey Langguth, gave a miscellaneous shower in the Langguth home in Des Plaines. The party, too, was a successfully planned surprise and 15 friends and relatives in the area delighted in the honor guest's first, but not final, stage of happy-shock.

WHAT KIND OF A DISCOUNT?

Lately, the most used word of many advertisers seems to be "Discount." They give the impression that these firms are in business to sell things below their cost. Suddenly they have become philanthropists.

Of course you know such selling is not continuously possible. Either the price on "blind" articles of their own or unknown makes is higher, or service is discounted to a minimum. We continue our policy of dependability, fair prices and every possible service to please you.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Response to Boat Program Is Good

Shades of John Paul Jones and Long John Silver!

Boys of the northwest suburbs are apparently keenly interested in a new boating program now being set up by the Blackhawk Scouting District, which serves Arlington Heights Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Elk Grove Village.

The initial response to last week's announcement about the program was unusually good, stated John H. Dunham Jr., 100 East Marion, Prospect Heights, in charge of the district's first nautical venture.

PRESENT PLANS call for a father - and - son meeting early next month, Dunham said, at which time films and slides will be shown and the Sea Explorer program of the Scouts will be explained.

Dunham emphasized that this will be a father - son organization, with all boys 14 and older invited to participate whether or not they have previously been Scouts. The place and date will be announced when available. Dunham's phone number is CL 3-3246.

The 30-foot whaleboat which will be the nucleus of the new program is already "beached" at Camp Baden-Powell on river Road, where it will be readied for next summer's sailing. A gift of the U. S. Navy, which has discontinued the use of whaleboats in its recruit training, the boat is valued at $7,500.

DUNHAM WANTED to express publicly the thanks of the Blackhawk district for the help he received in moving the boat from Great Lakes to Camp Baden-Powell.

Joe Wetsler, operator of a boat service at McHenry, provided the heavy duty trailer, while Ken Kutch and Bill Metcalf, both of Elk Grove Village, handled the negotiations with the Navy. (ACM

'Cat Lovers' Yowl Protests Over Ban

ANTIGO, WIS. (UPI) — Cat lovers were up in arms Tuesday, protesting an ordinance passed by the City Council prohibiting cats from running at large.

"Please pass a law to tie up the kids—you may as well go whole hog on this idea," said a non-cat owner who called the ordinance "one of the craziest of the crazy laws passed in this town."

"I dislike seeing cats catch birds as much as anyone else," said Mrs. Robert W. Meyer. "But if all the birds that are laid in egg form grew to be adult birds, we'd be up to our neck in bird feathers. Cats kill birds mostly weak in body and mind."

THE WHOLE trouble started with the passage of the ordinance. Things went along just fine, and then the Antigo Daily Journal began receiving letters to the editor.

"Sure cats kill birds," said Carol Baraniak. "So they do and they have done for years and they always will, just as they will always dislike dogs and dogs will always be chasing cats. It is a natural occurrence."

"They still catch mice," she said.

"What harm can a cat do?" asked a young broken-hearted animal lover. "Some of the people that are complaining the birds are eating their peas and berries are the same people that are complaining the cats are killing the birds, but still they don't want cats around. I think they should make it a law against having gardens. It makes as much sense."

THE ANIMAL lover goes on: "I've seen my cat bring home more mice than birds. Perhaps we should get rid of the cats and have more mice around. I suppose mice are clean compared to cats."

Mrs. Meyer also objected to the ordinance because it would "place an undue hardship on our police department."

"They can hardly be expected to be chasing cats through the bushes and up trees. Catching cats will be a lot harder than catching dogs.

"An enforceable law will not change the nature of cats," Mrs. Meyer said. (ACM

Q. I've been criticized for wearing perfume in the office where I work. Am I being improper?

A. Probably your perfume is too heavy. It is quite all right to wear perfume in the office, but it should emit a dainty and delicate fragrance, not a heavy and cloying one.

Suburb-Builder 'Marriage': Necessity?

Annexation Deal Studied

—Almost all towns have a policy of border-extension in well-ordered, large-lot residential building or industrial properties to improve the municipal tax base.

—Builders and developers, as a matter of survival in the keen home-sales business, seek the best possible price advantage in cutting corners — smaller lots, narrower streets, private utility agreements or even narrower sidewalks.

Last week both the Village of Mount Prospect and builder-developer Salvatore DiMucci appear to have achieved a happy merger in achieving both their goals.

Mount Prospect annexed 325 acres, ranging south to Algonquin Road. This brings the village near the Busse-Algonquin-Higgins Roads industrial developments, particularly the choice new United Airlines property.

DiMUCCI GOT one of the best annexation agreements recently negotiated in the northwest area.

The new annexation, which covers property in an irregular border from north of Golf Road south to Algonquin Road, and from the extension of Meier Road on the west to Linneman (Church) Road on the east. All of the property borders Busse Road.

This brings Mount Prospect to the Busse-Algonquin corner where the Village of Arlington Heights has planned to start a sanitary sewer line to serve a new Trendel Builders subdivision near Algonquin and Goebbert Roads; the new Forest View High School, due to open in September; and eventually the Klehm nursery properties at State and Algonquin.

These parcels are to be annexed to Arlington Heights, bringing both villages down to Algonquin Road and continuing the unvoiced but existing competition for choice industrial properties to add to the villages.

THE DiMUCCI-Mount Prospect "marriage" appears to have been a happy mating on both sides, but there is some evidence that for Mount Prospect it was a marriage of necessity.

Mount Prospect officials have spoken openly of the "interest" of a nearby community to annex the DiMucci property through a corridor. Specifically, a village spokesman explained the Public Service Company had prepared an annexation petition for their highpower line right-of-way to the City of Des Plaines, at the reported request of DiMucci who wanted to annex his property to Des Plaines.

Since the utility firm corridor runs almost due east-west from the Des Plaines area on the east side of Elmhurst Road to the DiMucci section, annexation of the two parcels would have permanently "locked" Mount Prospect from any expansion to the south.

Before the petition was submitted to Des Plaines, the Public Service Company notified Mount Prospect of the contemplated action—and Mount Prospect officials began a fast "wooing" of DiMucci.

And DiMucci appeared ready to talk about a "marriage contract" but his dowry terms were specific and demanding.

DiMUCCI knew Mount Prospect had to make an agreement with him if the village did not want to run the risk of being cut off from all southern expansion, but since neither he nor Mount Prospect could be sure just what kind of agreement he might have been able to negotiate with Des Plaines, there was a limit to what demands could be made.

That DiMucci ended up with most favorable terms now is a matter of record.

Just how favorable the final terms are is highlighted by the fact that in two major instances DiMucci's plans for portions of this area had been turned down by the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals last year.

In the annexation agreement DiMucci got single-family, apartment and commercial zoning. He got 60 x 120 feet lots, with five-foot sideyard requirements for the single-family areas. He got reduced street and sidewalk widths.

THE APPROVAL of apartment zoning usually is difficult (but not impossible) in the "suburban" Mount Prospect area. The lot sizes in Mount Prospect nearest the DiMucci development and just outside Mount Prospect in the area are substantially larger than the 7,200 square feet lots permitted DiMucci.

In the annexation, all of the 325 acres went into the village under single-family zoning, but village trustees state the zoning will be changed later.

DiMucci, in spite of the unusually favorable agreement with Mount Prospect, has not sought anything that other developers in this area have not sought and often achieved. Reduced lot sizes from the county's minimum of 10,000 square feet have been granted in Elk Grove Village and Rolling Meadows, as examples.

But in addition to the favorable property agreements. DiMucci achieved even more in the annexation agreement.

DiMucci retains the right to operate his own water and sewer service, with the village granting him a 25-year franchise if necessary. No discussion of rates for this sewer and water service for the potential Mount Prospect residents in the DiMucci development was included in the agreement.

THE VILLAGE did request an option to purchase the Utility Sewer & Water Co. in five years, with the price set at $600 per customer. The Utility (DiMucci) firm now has a contract with Citizens Utility Co. for service.

(Citizens Utility Co. operates several private water operations in the northwest area. Their most publicized operation is in Hoffman Estates where lengthy legal maneuvering continues on the village's attempt to purchase the firm's operation and on complaint regarding excessive rates.)

Other agreement terms cover building permit fees, inspection, waiving of cash bond, rental of fire hydrants and provision of trees along parkways. While DiMucci did agree to donate a lot for a fire station, no areas in the 325 acres were to be given for schools or parks.

In addition, DiMucci's final "wedding present" was the agreement by Mount Prospect for two liquor licenses to be used in the 325-acre area.

IRONICALLY, when DiMucci applied to the county a year ago for permission to develop 145 acres of the newly-annexed territory as a "planned development" with reduced lot sizes, Mount Prospect was one of the official objectors along with Elk Grove Village and the Elk Ridge Villa Home Owners Association.

This home owners group is from the first unit of the proposed massive DiMucci development. The first unit of homes was built under county zoning.

Even though Mount Prospect later withdrew its objection, Elk Grove Village did not.

The proposed "planned development" did not seek 7,200 sq. ft. lots, but only a reduction from the county minimum of 10,000 sq. ft. to 8,750 sq. ft. for 452 homes. It included a small shopping center and 19 two-story apartment buildings containing 89 units.

THE COUNTY zoning board of appeals recommended to the county board that the application be denied, and called the commercial and apartment proposals "clear cases of spot zoning" which it defined as "classification of small detached areas different in classification from that accorded adjoining lands."

The county board deferred action for five months on the "planned development" zoning, finally returning the entire matter to the zoning board for application of a zoning variance rather than the "planned development."

One facet noted by the zoning board in recommending denial of the request for the "planned development" was the existence of restrictive covenants covering the areas around the four corners of Busse and Golf Roads. These covenants, held by home owners in the area, stipulate that homes must be built on 20,000 sq. ft. lots. According to one of the home owners who hold the covenants, these are due to expire in January, 1963.

A SECOND DiMucci request for rezoning of part of the newly-annexed property last year was turned down by county commissioners and the zoning board. This request covered several parcels in the 325-acre area.

One of these was a 1.3 acre lot at the northeast corner of Algonquin and Busse Roads which was to be used for a gasoline filling station and car wash. Next to this area was to be a five-acre retail shopping center. To the east of the shopping center DiMucci proposed a combination restaurant-cocktail lounge on another 1.3 acre site.

The major area was 13 acres to be used for the construction of efficiency apartments.

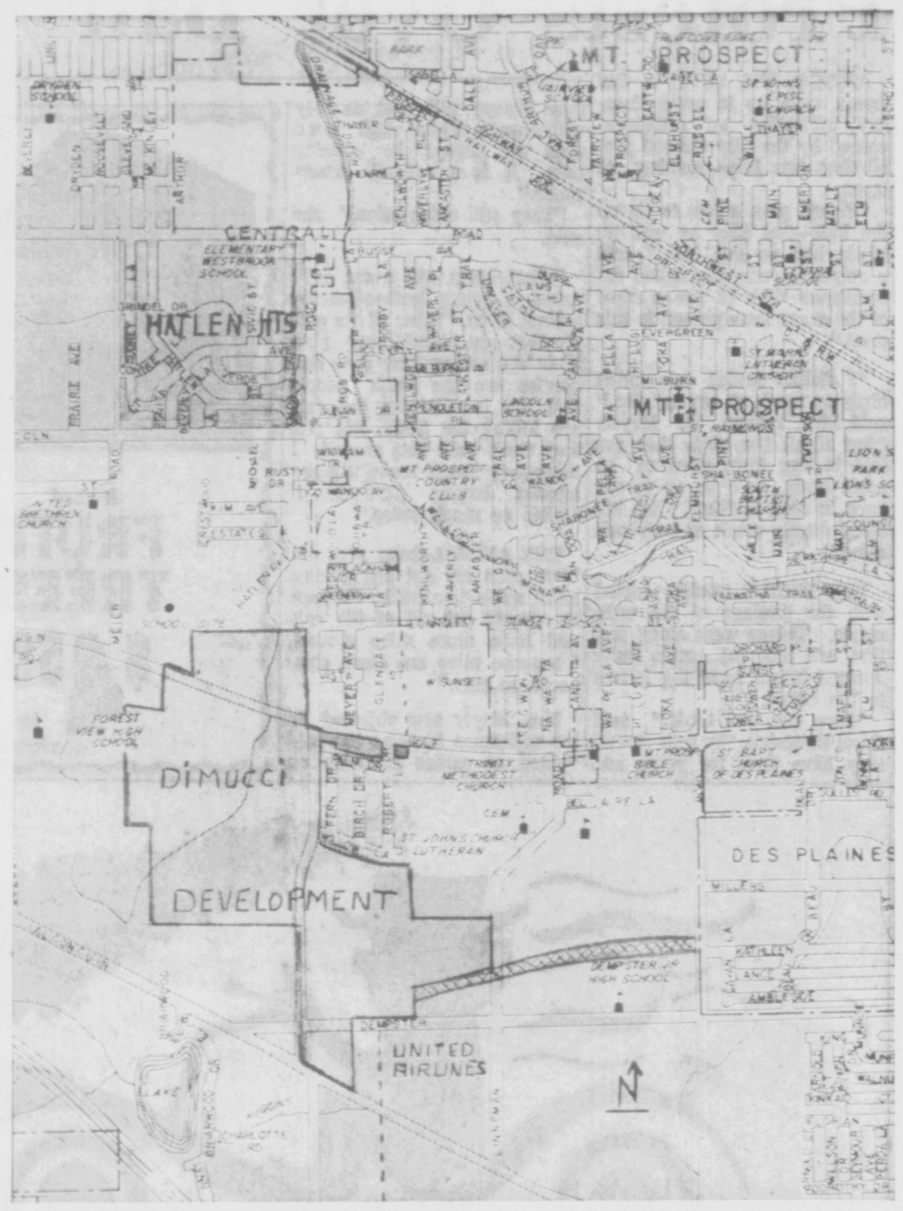
All of these applications were denied by the county.

As recently as March, 1962, Elk Grove Village filed an objection to a sidelot reduction being sought by DiMucci from the county for an 82-acre site bounded by Busse, Willow Lane, Linneman Road and the Commonwealth Edison (Public Service) right of way.

The major problem of these new annexations and the rapid development of the area south of Central Road is the intensification of financial and enrollment headaches for hard-pressed Elk Grove Elementary School District 59 board. District 59 already has heavy tax and budget problems, but the addition of more than 500 new homes or apartments will even further overburden the schools.

DiMUCCI won a decision before the Illinois Supreme Court against the local school districts making it unnecessary for developers to dedicate land for public use. According to Roger Bardwell, Superintendent of District 59, DiMucci "has resisted all efforts to work with us and is the only builder who has not aided the district through land or money contributions."

The Mount Prospect-DiMucci "marriage" may have been in the best interest of the village, but only time can reveal whether the merger will remain a happy one—or even more important if the merger will create unsolvable problems for the general community. (B8



TWO LARGE SECTIONS of land were officially added to Mount Prospect at the village board meeting June 12. An ordinance was passed annexing the DiMucci development and dropping the village limits within reach of the United Air Lines property marked on map. Hatlen Heights was annexed previously, but an appeal was registered to the annexation. It was announced June 12 the appeal has been dropped and the subdivision is officially a part of the village. VIRGINIA TERRACE

Appropriately, today, the first day of summer, carries news of Terrace graduations and vacations.

A week ago Saturday, when Darrell Elder, 1334 N. Chicago, received his masters degree in education at Northern Illinois University, De Kalb, on hand were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Elder and his sister, Janet, as well as wife, Francine and their son, Darin. Following the ceremonies, the senior Elders hosted a dinner celebration at Sweden House in Elgin, and then spent a few days with their son and his family here before returning to their home in Sullivan.

Their wedding anniversary celebration took La Rue and Andy Reed, 1328 N. Yale, to Sahara Inn for cocktails last Friday night, followed by dinner at O'Hare Inn.

They spent two weeks in northern Minnesota with Dwaine fishing at Gunslint Trail, returning occasionally to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Atchey, in Findlayson, with whom Marge and daughter, Reva Ann, were staying. The Pickels also took time out to celebrate Reva Ann's third birthday June 3.

Q. Is it all right for a young man to smoke his date's cigarets?

A. It is excusable to smoke one or two, if he happens to be out of cigarets. But certainly not all evening. He must, as soon as possible, buy some fresh cigarets for himself and his girl. A14

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

The ladies may not like this, but the needle-spikes they wear so proudly are giving fits to floor covering manufacturers and engineers.

According to the experts, a 110-pound woman trotting along on her shaft-type heels exerts a force of three quarters of a ton per square inch. Put another way, the same 110-pound female clipping along on heels of this type is mangnifying her weight to between 12,000 and 60,000 pounds. Thus, it is plain to see why no flooring surface made — vinyl, tile, concrete, steel, maple, oak — can stand up without damage to the pounding of these lethal weapons.

Now, let's spike those rumors and assure yourselves that most anything for the weekend handyman from quality brand paint and wallpaper to venetian blinds and glass of a hundred uses is carried at PALATINE PAINT & GLASS CO., 9-11 North Bothwell, Phone FLanders 9-0954.

THIS WEEK'S HOUSEHOLD HINT: If you have painted shelves in your medicine chest, you'll have less trouble with sticking bottles if you give the shelves a waxing.

A Good Home

". . . be it ever so humble, there's no place like home." — John Howard Payne

THE words of this inspirational song came to Payne while traveling in Italy. Since 1882 it has cheered disconsolate wanderers.

But, home is more than where the heart is. The home, like the church and school, is an institution. Together these three blend their efforts into the making of Christian citizens.

When the home atmosphere is one of love and faith, the task of the other two institutions is simple. Sadly, this fact is ignored by many modern parents who expect church and school to do the entire job.

The truth is: There's no place like a Christian home. And a Christian home is founded on the church.

Chicago Youth Is Killed In Crash of Stolen Auto

A 17-year-old Chicago youth was killed in an auto accident June 13 while driving a stolen car on a Northwest suburban highway.

Dead was William Schwitzer, 17, of 3037 Addison, who was taken to the Northwest Community Hospital by Black ambulance service and the Palatine police squad.

The car, stolen shortly before the accident, had been taken from Extra Disa, Route 1, Spring Grove.

SCHWITZER HAD been traveling west on Kirchoff Charles A. Kruger, 24, of 623 Amanda, McHenry, had been driving a tractor-trailer south on Illinois 53.

State police report that Schwitzer disobeyed a stop sign and the tractor-trailer struck the car. Both went off the road and the cab of the trailer landed on top of the car. The tangled wreckage caught fire.

Kruger, too, was injured and taken to the hospital. Damage to the demolished cab was $11,000; to the totally wrecked car, $1,700. The accident occurred about 2:50 a.m.

IN ANOTHER accident, a second tractor-trailer and a car were involved on Illinois 53 and Illinois 58.

Rose M. Radicek, 47, of Elmwood Park, was traveling south on 53. She attempted to make a right turn off the Illinois 58 cutoff.

Robert F. Dwyer, 25, of 373 Bierman, Villa Park, driving a tractor-trailer, who was behind her, left the road to avoid striking the car and the trailer struck a tree.

Dwyer was injured and taken to the Northwest Community hospital.

There was no damage to the car and $25,000 damage to the trailer. There was no contact between the trailer and car.

IN A THIRD accident at Grand and Wolf at 3:15 p.m. on June 17, Harry S. Fetzer, Jr., 18, of Melrose Park, was pulling away from a Mobile gas station and his car struck a boy on a bike.

The youth, Richard Jenkins, 6, of 925 Wolf, Melrose Park, was taken to the Elmhurst Hospital with injuries. There was no damage to the car.

In another accident at 9:55 p.m. on June 17, Bjorne Juell, 41, of 9595 Higgins, Rosemont, was southeast-bound on U.S. 12.

So was Thomas C. Hanson, 58, of 3820 N. Sheffield, Chicago. When Juell stopped for traffic ahead, his car was struck in the rear by the other vehicle.

A passenger, Robert Hanson, 41, was injured and taken to the family doctor. Neither driver, nor another passenger, Esther Hanson, 14, was injured.

Damage to each car was $75. Hanson was charged by state police with following too closely.

OTTO G. Aichinger, 36, of 366 Adele, Elmhurst, was southbound on U. S. 12, at 2:35 a.m. on June 15.

Peggy Sullivan, of 823 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights, was northbound. She turned to go west on Foundry Road, according to state police and failed to yield to Aichinger, causing the first car to collide with hers.

Both drivers and a passenger in the second, Katherine Johnston, of 910 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, were injured and taken to Northwest Community Hospital. Damage to the first car was $800; to the second, $700.

The second driver was charged with having no driver's license and failure to yield right of way.

On June 17, at 4 a.m., William P. Dickinson, 36, of Box 148A, Long Grove, while traveling on U.S. 12 at Illinois 53, was involved in an accident.

While traveling south on 53, his car swerved suddenly and struck the traffic signal on the center divider, causing the vehicle to swerve into the ditch on the other side of the roadway.

He was injured and taken to Northwest Community hospital. Damage to his car was $600.

THE SAME day, at 2:15 a.m., on Illinois 83 at Illinois 62, Edward J. Meyer, 49, of 118 Austin, Carpentersville, made a left turn into the path of a second car.

This was driven by Leslie G. Slone, 21, of 347 S. Keeler.

Both drivers and a passenger in each, Sylvia Meyer, 47, and Patricia Slone, 18, were injured and taken to the Holy Family Hospital. Damage to the second car was $300.

Meyer was charged by police with failure to yield the right of way.

THE DAY previous, at 10:30 p.m., on York Road at Devon, where Henry E. Hausechild, 21, of 15W490 George, Bensenville, was driving, a second car pulled onto the roadway.

This car, driven by James D. Schmit, 20, of 6127 N. Maplewood, Chicago, came onto the road from the shoulder and directly into the path of Hausechild's vehicle.

Hausechild and a passenger, Eric Nystrom Jr., 20, of 920 Medinah, Bensenville, were injured. The other driver and his passenger, Janet Hasz, 20, of 13 S. Wille Road, Mount Prospect, were uninjured.

Schmit was charged with failure to yield the right of way and Hausechild was charged with not having license plates and driving with a suspended license.

On this day, too, at 3 p.m. at U.S. 45 at a mile north of Illinois 72, there was another accident.

Larry G. Moore, 27, of 5590 N. River Road, Rosemont, was driving on 45, when Cecil Chitty, Moore. Moore's car struck Chitty's.

MOORE AND A passenger in the other car, Anna Lou Chitty, 24, were injured and taken to the Lutheran General Hospital.

Damage to the first car was $800; to the second, $1,000. Chitty was charged with failure to yield the right of way at an intersection. (A14

Green Bay Folks Breathing Easier

GREEN BAY, WIS., (UPI) — Residents are breathing easier here this year.

It's just a year since a strong fish smell permeated the downtown area, with tons of dead alewives liding the banks and floating on the surface of the Fox River.

This week only a few of the fish — a species of ocean herring that are good for little except mink food — dot the waters, and the over-bearing smell is not present.

HEALTH officers and conservation department spokesmen find it hard to explain the phenomenon of the dying fish last year, but partly attribute it to water temperature, the number of fish making the runs up the river and the oxygen reading — in places ranging from zero to only three-tenths of a part per million.

Early this week there were oxygen readings ranging from 1.3 to three parts per million, and the temperature rise this year was gradual.

Officials — and residents — are not anticipating a repetition of last year's "operation removal," when the fish were hauled away in truckload lots.

Township Road Ruling Released

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., (UPI) — The Attorney General held last week that a Township Highway Commissioner is no longer authorized to prohibit placing or construction of ditches, drains, tracks or any other equipment on a township or district road.

The general assembly, the opinion said, deleted from the list of appropriate highway authorities the highway commissioner. (A-14

Migrant Children's Day Center Opened

MADISON, WIS., (UPI) — Wisconsin's first day-care center for migrant workers' children will open July 9 in Spring Lake, Margaret Connet, the center director, said Monday.

The center, financed through federal child welfare services funds, will have a budget of about $6,000 and a staff of seven.

The center's main function will be to insure the children get proper education and to gain knowledge for possible centers in other communities visited by migrant workers.

Mrs. Connet said the project is a demonstration and could be done by local communities for less money than is being spent this year.

"The number of children who need this kind of service is large," she said. The center, to be located in a school building, will provide facilities for 20-25 children less than 7-years old.

Classes will begin at 6:30 in the morning. Transportation will be provided, the director said. Breakfast, lunch and two snacks—in the morning and afternoon—will be served.

The rest of the day will be divided into play periods and a rest period in the afternoon, she said.

Spring Lake is the heart of Wisconsin's pickle growing country, where some four to five thousand migrant workers come each year, Mrs. Connet said. (A14

The Village of Hoffman Estates, Cook County, Illinois (the "Village"), for value received, hereby promises to pay to bearer, or if this bond be registered as hereinafter provided, then to the registered holder hereof, solely from revenue derived from the combined waterworks and sewerage system of the Village as hereinafter set forth, and not otherwise, the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) on May 1, 19....., together with interest thereon from the date hereof until paid at the rate of four and one-half per cent (4½%) per annum. Interest shall be payable November 1, 1962 and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of May and of November in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at ....., in the ..... of ....., Illinois.

This bond is issued for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring and improving and extending the combined waterworks and sewerage system of the Village and is payable solely from the revenue derived from the operation of such system and shall not in any event constitute an indebtedness of the Village within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation.

This bond is one of an authorized issue of bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $4,300,000 of like tenor and effect, except as to number, maturity and redemption privilege, issued under the authority of Division 139 of Section 11 of the Illinois Municipal Code, approved May 29, 1961. Under such Code and the ordinance authorizing the issuance of these bonds, all revenue received from the operation of the combined waterworks and sewerage system of the Village shall be deposited in a separate fund designated as the "Village of Hoffman Estates Waterworks and Sewerage Fund" to be used only to pay the cost of operation and maintenance of the system, to provide an adequate depreciation fund, to pay the principal of and interest on the waterworks and sewerage revenue bonds of the Village issued under the authority of such Code and to maintain the special accounts created by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of these bonds.

The Village reserves the right to call for redemption prior to maturity bonds numbered 3211 through 4300 as a whole or in part in inverse numerical order on May 1, 1972, and on any subsequent interest payment date, but only out of revenues from such system at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest at the coupon rate to the date fixed for redemption, and bonds numbered 1021 through 4300 as a whole or in part in inverse numerical order on May 1, 1982, and on any subsequent interest payment date, from any funds at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest at the coupon rate to the date fixed for redemption. Notice of the call of any bonds for redemption shall be given by mailing notice to the holders of registered bonds, by filing notice at the place of payment and by publication in a newspaper of general daily circulation and published in the City of Chicago, not less than thirty days preceding such redemption date. Bonds called for redemption in such manner shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption if the paying agent has funds on hand to redeem such bonds.

It is hereby certified and recited that all conditions, acts and things required by the Constitution and the statutes of the State of Illinois to exist, be performed or happen precedent to or in the issuance of this bond, exist, have been performed and have happened, and provision has been made for depositing in such Waterworks and Sewerage Fund revenues received from the operation of such combined waterworks and sewerage system, to be applied in the manner hereinabove set forth. It is hereby covenanted and agreed that the rates charged for water and sewerage service shall be sufficient at all times to pay the cost of operation and maintenance of such combined waterworks and sewerage system, to provide an adequate depreciation fund therefor, and to pay the principal of and interest on all waterworks and sewerage revenue bonds issued by the Village under the aforesaid Division 139 and to maintain the special accounts created by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of these bonds.

This bond may be registered as to principal only in the name of the holder in the Bond Register of the Village in the office of the Treasurer of the Village, and such registration shall be noted hereon by the Treasurer on the back hereof. If so registered, this bond may be transferred by the registered owner in person or by attorney upon presentation of this bond to the Treasurer with a written instrument of transfer on a form approved by such Treasurer and executed by such registered owner. If this bond be so registered, the principal shall thereafter be payable only to the person in whose name it is registered, unless this bond shall be discharged from registry by being registered as payable to bearer. Such registration shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons, but such coupons shall continue to pass by delivery.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Village of Hoffman Estates, Cook County, Illinois, has caused this bond to be signed by its President, its corporate seal to be hereto affixed and attested by the Village Clerk, and the coupons hereto attached to be signed by facsimile signatures of such President and Village Clerk, which officials, by the execution of this bond, do adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on such coupons, all as of the 1st day of July, 1962.

Section 5. The Village covenants and agrees with the holders of the Bonds and coupons that so long as any of the Bonds remain outstanding and unpaid either as to principal or interest:

(a) The System shall be operated on a fiscal year basis, beginning on the first day of May and ending on the last day of April of each succeeding calendar year. After the issuance and delivery of any Bonds issued under this Ordinance, the revenues from the operation of the System shall be set aside upon receipt thereof and deposited in a national or state bank in Illinois in a fund to be designated as the "Village of Hoffman Estates Waterworks and Sewerage Fund." Such fund shall be used only to pay the cost of operation and maintenance of the System, to provide a depreciation fund as hereinafter set forth, to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds issued by the Village under the provisions of Division 139 as aforesaid and to create the special accounts hereinafter provided.

The entire revenues of the System shall be credited on the first business day of each month, except as hereinafter provided for the Bond Redemption and Improvements and Extensions Accounts, to the following accounts in the Waterworks and Sewerage Fund in the order named:

(1) Operation and Maintenance Account. An amount shall be credited to such account each month to cover the estimated operating and maintenance expense for the current month.

(2) Depreciation and Contingencies Account. The sum of $833.33 each month shall be credited to such account, commencing one month after the acquisition of the System. If part of the Bonds are issued for the construction of the improvements and extensions authorized, then credits in proportion to the amount of Bonds issued for such purposes to the total amount of Bonds authorized shall be made to the account, commencing one year from the date of issue of such part of the Bonds issued. Credits shall continue until a maximum of $120,000 is on deposit in the account. After such account aggregates the sum of $120,000, no credits shall be made to such account except that, when any money is paid out of such account, payments into such account shall be resumed and continued until such account has been restored to the aggregate sum of $120,000. The moneys in such account shall be used for replacements or unusual repairs for which funds are not otherwise available. Each expenditure made from such account shall be made only after certification by an independent consulting engineer or firm of engineers employed by the Village (the "Consulting Engineer") that the expenditure is necessary for the continued effective operation of the System.

If after the acquisition of the System and the completion of the construction of the improvements and extensions to the System hereinabove provided it shall not have been necessary to issue more than $4,000,000 principal amount of the Bonds, the sum of $833.33 provided to be deposited each month in this account shall be reduced to an amount which shall be in the proportion that the amount of Bonds outstanding bears to the total authorized issue of $4,300,000.

(3) Bond Principal and Interest Account. For the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on the Bonds issued under the provisions of this Ordinance as such principal and interest shall become due, there shall be credited to such account each month an amount at least equal to the sum of:

(i) one-fifth of the interest becoming due and payable on the next interest payment date on the Bonds then outstanding, and

(ii) one-tenth of the aggregate yearly amount of principal due and payable on the next principal maturity date of the Bonds then outstanding, until the moneys accumulated in such account shall be at least equal to the interest and principal requirements on all of the outstanding Bonds for the then fiscal year. For the purposes of this paragraph, principal and interest due on each May 1 shall be considered to be interest due during the fiscal year ending on the last day of the preceding April.

Funds sufficient to pay interest or principal, or both, of the outstanding Bonds, together with fees and expenses of the paying agent, shall be transmitted to the paying agent not less than fifteen days prior to the current payment date of such interest or principal, or both.

(4) Reserve for Bond Principal and Interest Account. There shall be credited to such account each month, commencing May 1, 1963, an amount of $1,500 or, if the System has not been acquired by such date, then commencing one month after the acquistion of the System. If part of the Bonds are issued for the construction of the improvements and extensions authorized, then credits in proportion to the amount of Bonds issued for such purposes to the total amount of Bonds authorized shall be made to the account, commencing one year from the date of issue of such part of the Bonds issued. Credits shall continue until a maximum of $250,000 is on deposit in the account. After such account aggregates the sum of $250,000, no credits shall be made to such account except that, when any money is paid out of such account, payments into such account shall be resumed and continued until such account has been restored to the aggregate sum of $250,000. If the amount available in the Bond Principal and Interest Account for payment of principal and interest is not sufficient to meet such payments when due, the additional amounts required shall be charged to this account. Interest from investments of funds in this account shall be transferred to the credit of the Bond Redemption Account.

If after the acquisition of the System and the completion of the construction of the improvements and extensions to the System hereinabove provided it shall not have been necessary to issue more than $4,000,000 principal amount of Bonds, the sum of $1,500 provided to be deposited each month in this account shall be reduced to an amount which shall be in the proportion that the amount of Bonds outstanding bears to the total authorized issue of $4,300,000.

(5) Surplus Account. Any revenues remaining each month after providing for all of the credits listed above shall be credited to the Surplus Account. At the end of each fiscal year, funds in this account shall be used to make up deficiencies in prior accounts numbered (1) through (4) and 50 per cent of the balance in the account shall be transferred to the Bond Redemption Account and 50 per cent of the balance in the account shall be transferred to the Improvements and Extensions Account.

(6) Bond Redemption Account. The revenues transferred to this account from the Surplus Account shall be set aside in this account and used for the purpose of redeeming or purchasing Bonds prior to maturity.

Prior to May 1, 1970, the moneys in this account shall be used for the purchase of Bonds at not more than par plus accrued interest to the date of purchase regardless of numerical sequence after invitation for tenders. Bonds so purchased after invitation for tenders shall be those that represent the greatest savings of principal and interest to maturity. Moneys in this account beginning on May 1, 1970 shall be applied to the redemption of Bonds numbered 3211 through 4300 callable on May 1, 1972 and on any subsequent interest date.

After Bonds numbered 3211 through 4300 have been redeemed in full, tenders for purchase may be received and purchases made until May 1, 1980. Bonds shall be purchased at not more than par plus accrued interest to the date of purchase regardless of numerical sequence and the Bonds so purchased shall be those that represent the greatest savings of principal and interest to maturity. After May 1, 1980, no tenders for purchase shall be received. Moneys in this account beginning on May 1, 1980 shall be applied to the redemption of Bonds callable on May 1, 1982 and on any subsequent interest date. The Village Treasurer shall review annually the amount of moneys on hand in the Bond Redemption Account and recommend to the President and Board of Trustees the amount of Bonds to be purchased or redeemed from time to time.

All Bonds so purchased or redeemed shall be cancelled and shall not be reissued.

(7) Improvements and Extensions Account. The revenues transferred to this account from the Surplus Account shall be held and used for improvements and extensions to the System.

If in any fiscal year the Village shall fail to set aside the full amount herein provided for any of the purposes specified, then an amount equivalent to such deficiency shall be set aside for such purposes from the first available revenues of the following fiscal year or years.

Any moneys remaining from the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds after completion of the acquistion of the System and the construction of the improvements and extensions herein provided shall be transferred to the credit of the Depreciation and Contingencies Account.

Funds accumulated in any of the accounts and not required for expenditure within a period of ninety days in the judgment of the President and Board of Trustees shall be invested insofar as practicable and may be invested by direction of the President and Board of Trustees only in bonds, notes, Treasury bills or certificates of indebtedness of the United States of America, provided that all securities so purchased shall mature or be redeemable at the option of the President and Board of Trustees at a date or dates prior to the time when in the judgment of the President and Board of Trustees the funds so invested may be required for expenditure and in any event not more than ten years from the date of the investment.

(b) The Village will charge rates for water and sewerage service sufficient at all times to pay the cost of operation and maintenance of the System, to provide an adequate depreciation fund, and to pay the principal of and interest on all revenue bonds issued under Section 11, Division 139, of the Municipal Code and to make payments into the Reserve for Bond Principal and Interest Account as herein required. Any holder of a Bond or any of the coupons of such Bond issued under this Ordinance may by a proper civil action, at law or in equity, compel performance of all duties required by Section 11, Division 139 as aforesaid, including the making and collection of sufficient rates for the purposes aforesaid and the proper application of the revenue from the System to those purposes. No free water or sewerage service shall be furnished.

The Village will not construct, operate, grant a franchise for or permit the operation of any waterworks or sewerage system or combined waterworks and sewerage system within the Village which will compete with the System.

(c) The Village will maintain and keep proper books of record and account separate from all other records and accounts, in which shall be made full and correct entries of all transactions relating to the System. Not later than three months after the close of each fiscal year, the President and Board of Trustees will cause to be prepared a statement in reasonable detail, sworn to by the Village Treasurer, showing the cash income and disbursements of the System during such fiscal year, the assets and liabilities of the System at the beginning and close of the fiscal year, and such other information as is necessary to enable any holder or owner of the Bonds to be fully informed as to all matters pertaining to the financial operation of the System during such year. A certified copy of such statement shall be filed with the Village Clerk and such statement and books of record and account shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any holder of any Bonds. The President and Board of Trustees will also cause an annual audit of such books of record and account for the preceding fiscal year to be made by a recognized and independent certified public accountant and will make such audit available for inspection to the holders of any of the Bonds. A copy of each such financial statement and audit shall be mailed to all Bondholders who shall have filed their names and addresses with the Village for such purpose.

(d) The Village will carry insurance on the System of the kinds and in the amounts which are usually carried by operators of similar properties, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, fire, windstorm, public liability and any additional insurance covering such risks as shall be recommended by a competent independent engineer employed for the purpose of making such recommendations, and all moneys received for losses under such insurance policies shall be deposited in the Depreciation and Contingencies Account and be used in making good the loss or damage in respect to which they are paid, either by repairing the property damaged or replacing the property destroyed, and provision for making good such loss or damage shall be made within ninety days from the date of the loss. The payment of premiums for all insurance policies required under the provisions of this paragraph shall be considered a maintenance and operation expense.

The proceeds of any and all policies for public liability shall be paid into the Operation and Maintenance Account and used in paying the claims on account of which they are received.

(e) No additional waterworks and sewerage revenue bonds sharing ratably and equally with the Bonds in the revenues of the System shall be issued except as hereinafter provided:

(1) Such additional bonds may be issued if additional funds are necessary to pay the cost of acquiring, improving and extending the System as provided in Section 1 of this Ordinance; the need for additional funds to be evidenced by a certificate of the Consulting Engineer setting forth (i) the amount of the award on condemnation or the negotiated purchase price of the System, (ii) the amount of funds necessary to complete the construction of the improvements and extensions of the System described in Section 1 of this Ordinance and (iii) the amount of funds available for the foregoing purposes, which certificate shall be approved by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village, and shall be made of record in the proceedings of the President and Board of Trustees before any such additional bonds are authorized and issued; or

(2) Such additional bonds may be issued to supply additional funds to construct improvements, extensions, repairs, or rehabilitations to the properties of the System if each of the minimum deposits required in paragraph (a) of this Section 5 to the several accounts described therein has been made to the date of the proposed bonds, and the revenues derived from the System for the fiscal year then preceding, as shown by an audit of an independent certified public accountant, were sufficient to pay all costs of operation and maintenance and leave a balance equal to one hundred twenty-five per cent (125%) of the maximum principal and interest requirements in any one year on the Bonds then outstanding and on the bonds proposed to be issued; the need thereof to be evidenced by a certificate of the Consulting Engineer (i) giving a reasonably detailed description thereof, an estimate of the cost thereof and an estimate of the time of completion thereof, and (ii) showing the feasibility of such revenue financing with a reference to then existing rates and anticipated earnings based thereon, which certificate shall be approved by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village, and shall be made of record in the proceedings of the President and Board of Trustees before any such additional bonds are authorized and issued.

When additional bonds are issued, provision shall be made for proportionate increases in the deposits in the Depreciation and Contingencies Account and the Reserve for Bond Principal and Interest Account under Section 5, paragraph (a) of this Ordinance.

In addition to the foregoing, if, prior to the payment of all the bonds hereby authorized, it shall be found desirable to refund part of the bonds hereby authorized, said bonds may be refunded notwithstanding the restrictions as to the issuance of additional bonds set forth in this paragraph (with the consent of the holders thereof unless the bonds to be refunded are subject to redemption and provision for call and redemption thereof is duly made), and any refunding bonds so issued shall share ratably and equally in the revenues of the System and the pledge thereof under this Ordinance with the portion of the bonds hereby authorized which are not refunded; provided, further, that if any such bonds are refunded in such manner that the interest rate is increased or the refunding bonds mature at a date earlier than the maturity of the bonds not refunded, then such refunding bonds shall not share ratably and equally in the revenues of the System with the portion of the Bonds remaining outstanding authorized under this Ordinance.

The Village further covenants that any additional bonds so issued under this paragraph (e) of Section 5 shall mature serially on May 1 of each year and bear interest payable semi-annually November 1 and May 1.

When the conditions herein specified for the issue of additional bonds have been met, then upon the issue thereof any such additional bonds, when issued, shall be entitled to the equal and proportionate benefit and security of the pledge of the revenue and income derived and to be derived from the operation of the System with the Bonds herein authorized, without preference, priority or distinction as to participation of such pledge of revenue or in the benefit of one bond or coupon of each of said issues over or from any other issue by reason of priority in execution, issue, delivery or negotiation thereof, or by reason of the date or dates of said Bonds, or the date or dates of maturity thereof, or for any other reason whatsoever, the intent hereof being that each and all of said bonds, as aforesaid, and the coupons evidencing interest thereon, shall have the same right and pledge as to payment and security, with the same legal effect as if each and all of said bonds and coupons had been issued, executed, delivered and negotiated simultaneously as one proceeding.

(f) The Village will not sell, lease, mortgage, or dispose of the System or any substantial part thereof, until all of the Bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest, or provision is made for such payment by irrevocably depositing sufficient cash funds for such purpose with the paying agent designated in the Bonds.

(g) The Village will construct the improvements and extensions to the System as provided in this Ordinance, will operate the System and cause such operation to be carried on as efficiently and economically as possible, will cause all repairs and replacements to be made which are necessary to keep the System in good repair and working order and will pay the cost thereof out of the revenues of the System as long as any of the Bonds or interest coupons thereon are outstanding and unpaid, and will not do or suffer to be done any acts which would affect the System in such a way as to impair or affect unfavorably the security of the Bonds.

(h) The proceeds of the sale of the Bonds (including all obligations held or investments thereof and the proceeds of such investments) shall be applied to the payment of the cost of the acquisition of the System and the construction of improvements and extensions to the System as provided in this Ordinance including engineering, legal and other expenses and, pending such application, shall be held for the further security of Bondholders until paid out or transferred as herein provided.

(i) The Village will at all appropriate times cause the Village Engineer or Consulting Engineer to submit and give all necessary or desirable advice and recommendations concerning rates and charges, renewals, replacements, extensions, betterments and improvements for the System to the end that the System shall be operated and maintained in the most efficient and satisfactory manner. The Village shall cause such engineers to make in writing a full survey, review and report on the physical condition of the System once every three years commencing in 1964.

(j) As long as any Bonds or coupons are outstanding, the Village will require that proper connections to the System of the Village be made wherever water or sewerage service is available.

Section 6. The provisions of this Ordinance shall constitute a contract between the Village and the holders of the Bonds authorized to be issued under this Ordinance until all such Bonds and the interest thereon are paid in full, or until provision is made for such payment by irrevocably depositing sufficient cash funds for such purpose with the paying agent designated in the Bonds.

Section 7. As soon as may be after this Ordinance becomes effective the Bonds shall be sold by the President and Board of Trustees in such manner and in such amounts from time to time as they may hereafter determine, and if the Bonds are sold to bear interest at a rate or rates less than four and one-half per cent (4½%) per annum, as herein provided, the President and Board of Trustees shall adopt a resolution directing that the officials of the Village execute the Bonds as herein provided for bearing interest at such lesser rate or rates and upon execution of the Bonds that they be deposited with the Treasurer and be delivered by the Treasurer to the purchaser or purchasers thereof upon receipt of the purchase price and the President and Board of Trustees shall also designate in the resolution the paying agent and the depositary for the "Village of Hoffman Estates Waterworks and Sewerage Fund."

Section 8. If any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this Ordinance shall be held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any of the other provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 9. All ordinances, resolutions or orders, or parts thereof, in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

Section 10. Within ten (10) days after this Ordinance has been passed, it shall be published once in the Hoffman Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in the Village, and if no petition is filed with the Village Clerk within twenty-one (21) days after such publication, then after the expiration of such twenty-one (21) days this Ordinance shall be in effect. But if within such period of twenty-one (21) days a petition is filed with the Village Clerk signed by electors numbering 15% of the number of electors voting for President of the Village at the last preceding general municipal election asking that the question of acquiring, improving and extending the System and the issuance of revenue bonds therefor, as provided in this Ordinance, be submitted to the electors of the Village, the President and Board of Trustees shall call a special election in the manner provided by law to vote upon such question. If a majority of the voters voting upon such question at such election vote in favor of acquiring, improving and extending the System and the issuance of revenue bonds therefor, as provided in this Ordinance, then this Ordinance shall be in full force and effect, but if a majority of the votes cast are against acquiring, improving and extending the System and the issuance of revenue bonds therefor, as provided in this Ordinance, then the Village shall proceed no further under this Ordinance.

Passed by the President and Board of Trustees this 14th day of June, 1962.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

Graduation celebrations continued this week, as Ridge Parkers extend good wishes to their young people. David Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Butts, 916 N. Salem, graduated recently from the University of Kansas with a degree in business administration. His parents attended the ceremonies in Lawrence. David will be home until Aug. 20, when he reports for Officers Candidate School in the Navy. His friend, Miss Nancy Noyes of Kansas City spent a week with the Butts here, and returned Sunday.

Mrs. Butts recently entertained in honor of Mrs. Pat Eckstein to introduce her to her new neighbors.

Newcomers to the Ridge Park area are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hosek, and their children, Ron, Jim and Linda. Mrs. Hosek's mother, Mrs. Elsie L. Hoffman, also lives with them. The Hosek's have lived in Arlington for several years, and Mr. Hosek is with Globe Hamilton Color Works, Inc. The Hoseks live at 804 W. Elm, in the Bauer home, and the Bauers have moved to Glendale, Ariz.

The Tollefsons and their seven children recently visited West DePere, Wis., to attend the ordination and Mass of Fr. David Baeten, as well as the dinner and reception in his honor at St. Boniface Church there.

They spent several hours with him, and made plans for his short visit here in September. This weekend the Bones expect to welcome Raya Helou of Caracas, Venezuela, who also comes by way of International Hospitality Center.

They took time out from rehearsing, however, to go out to dinner in honor of Barbara's eighth birthday.

Home from a Wisconsin vacation in Muscoda and Blue River, are the F. Deane Shumate family of 717 N. Salem. En route, the Shumates stopped to see Charlene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thingvold.

Kieselbach, joined him at a family party following ceremonies. The Kieselbachs visited the Platts for supper Father's Day.

Since all three birthdays in the Pecoraro family fall during the same week in June, this called for a special celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Pecoraro, 727 N. Kennicott, and Mike, spent the day with a cook-out, bowling, dinner at Henrici's and the movies.

The Adwalt Hartwig family of N. Beverly Lane were among the 300 persons attending the wedding reception of their nephew, Henry Blume, at the V.F.W. hall on June 9. Earlier in the day Henry and Miss Suzann Ortiz were married in St. Matthew's Church in Lake Zurich.

Since the Kenneth Anderson family are making plans to leave soon for their future home in Thailand, many of their neighbors are having farewell parties for them. On June 7 Mrs. Virginia Vlach entertained for Irene at an afternoon tea party. Immediate Beverly Lane neighbors, Donna Gotlund, Louise Luedeking, Eleanor Farrell, Mrs. Walter, Mrs. Anetsberger, Mrs. Hartwig, and Mrs. Vlaches' mother, Mrs. Wiese, were there to hear all about the Anderson's move to far-off Thailand.

JILL Anderson's high school friends have been feting her, too, with goodbye parties. Monday night Yvonne Hartwig and Mary Anne Glover were cohostesses at a surprize barbecue party for 10 girls. The affair was held at the Hartwig residence, 728 N. Beverly Lane.

On the same day as Mrs. Vlaches' party, her cross-the-street neighbor, Mrs. Priscilla Ogg, was also acting as hostess. Her guest list included 80 — all pupils in her kindergarten school. The group divided in half, with 40 coming in the morning for hot dogs and ice cream, and the other 40 having their treat in the afternoon.

Mrs. H. Barrows Ayres of N. Euclid Avenue, American Home Chairman of the 7th District IFWC, attended a board meeting June 15 at the Investors Savings & Loan Association in Chicago. The various chairmen presented their projects for the coming year and in her program of work Mrs. Ayres stressed protection from fraudulent selling, which is under the direction of Atty. Gen. William G. Clark.

A fishing trip to Spooner, Wis. this past weekend provided a short vacation for Emil Hanner and Norm Hoym.

MRS. RICHARD Kozakiewicz of Lincoln Lane rejoined her college classmates of 10 years ago at a reunion at St. Mary's of the Woods in Terre Haute, Ind. Her stay from Friday to Sunday included a banquet, alumni meetings, and attendance at baccalaureate services for this year's graduates.

The weekend of June 9 the entire Kozakiewicz family took off for New York to attend the wedding of Marcia's brother, John Steczynski, to Jennepher Quelly in Yonkers. On Friday evening they attended the rehearsal dinner, and on Saturday they all took part in the marriage ceremony at Sacred Heart Church. Twins Kathie and Susie were flower girls, and Ricky was the equivalent of ring bearer. A reception at the bride's parents home rounded out a full weekend.

'Voice' of School District 15 Is Retiring

Became Secretary Here Back in '42

by JOHN REDDY

"Palatine elementary schools . . ."

For some 20 years this has been Mrs. Dorothy Behling's singing response to parents, teachers and assorted callers who have had occasion to phone.

But on June 29, Mrs. Behling no longer will be the "voice" of District 15. Instead, she will retire to her home at 49 N. Smith St., Palatine, where she will care for Julie Ann Dufield, a 3-month-old girl who is her only grandchild.

MRS. BEHLING'S daughter, Mrs. Garth Dufield, will resume teaching at the Carl Sandburg School in Rolling Meadows while her husband works toward an engineering degree at Illinois Institute of Technology.

Mrs. Behling started work for the school district in 1942 when there were eight teachers, one principal and 300 students — all of whom she could call by name. Now there are more than 6,700 students, and 290 teachers.

The jovial secretary took the position only as a stop-gap measure to permit her neice who had the position to join the rationing board in Barrington. The assignment was intended to last only two or three months.

SO, UNPREPARED so far as formal secretarial training was oncerned, and without having previous secretarial experience, Mrs. Behling filled the breach and became the jill-of-all-trades for the then principal Joseph Clittenberg at the Wood Street School.

She says she didn't find the adjustment to school routine difficult, explaining "I like being around children." She served as nurse, secretary, bookkeeper, kept board meeting minutes and went door knocking during the 1946 campaign for consolidation.

Offices of District 15 were moved to the Oak Street School in 1948, the year, according to Mrs. Behling's recollection, that the first large waves of students began arriving in the district.

WITH CONSOLIDATION of the Plum Grove, Wittenberg, Kitty Corner, Bradwell and Wood Street schools came additional administrative work. So in 1949 a second secretary, Mrs. Doris Ambos, was hired and after nearly eight years on the job Mrs. Behling took her first vacation.

Along with the growth of the district has come necessary administrative changes. The central office, Mrs. Behling comments, does not provide the opportunity to see as much of the children as the position previously permitted — "taking a little fun out of the job."

One can't imagine a rapidly growing school district like that in the Palatine - Rolling Meadows area not having periods of apprehension and outright panic.

BUT MRS. BEHLING, who seldom if ever says something without a well-wishing smile dressing the phrase, says "One doesn't talk about the times when there wasn't money to pay the school teachers next month or when you had to find classrooms overnight for 500 kids."

Records indicate this period to be around 1952 and 1953.

Asked if she recalled youngsters who have gone on to bigger and better things in scoring their niches in society, she says "If I said something about some and not about the others, some would feel hurt . . . you don't talk about things you're not supposed to because it could hurt someone's feelings."

Perhaps the most difficult aspect of the job, Mrs. Behling recalls, is lining up substitute teachers on the spur of the moment. She said that on some mornings she has had to find and place as many as 18 substitutes.

REFLECTING on the dynamic growth of the district, Mrs. Behling remarked: "I think that Mr. Jordan (Marion Jordan, superintendent of the district from 1947 to 1961) did a beautiful piece of work for District 15."

She says she always has enjoyed the public relations aspect of her job, declaring, "I like people," and "I never saw the kid I couldn't get along with."

About the sometimes nerve-racking job of answering a constantly jangling phone, she says, "If people could tell me their story first, the second time they've told it, it wouldn't be so bad."

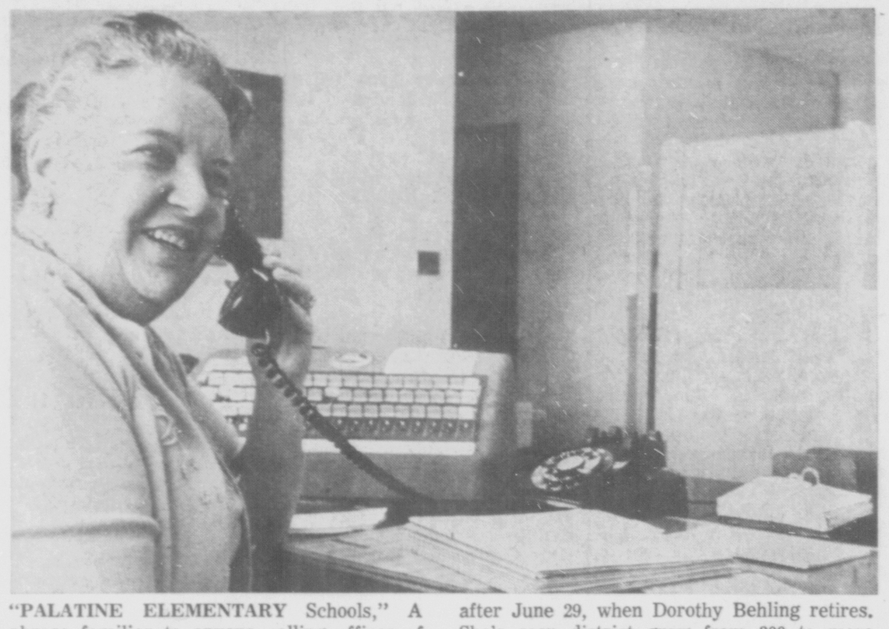
WHILE VISITORS to the district office in Stuart R. Paddock School, Palatine will miss her cheery greetings, Mrs. Behling regrets that she will 'miss going to school every day. I suppose now I can tell my friends, who keep asking 'are you still going to school'? that I've graduated."

She was surprised on June 9 by the handiwork of her working companion Doris Ambos, who planned a recognition luncheon in her honor. Some 58 persons, neighbors, former school teachers — all friends — were on hand to greet her when she "went to lunch with the gang."

"Now you be sure and include in anything you write that they gave me that luncheon," she repeated on several instances during an interview.

BUT IF NOTHING at all were mentioned about the luncheon, Mrs. Behling is the type of person about whom there could be no doubt would be touched by the departing gesture.

"Palatine elementary schools . . . ," goodbye. (B8



"PALATINE ELEMENTARY Schools," A phrase familiar to anyone calling offices of school district 15, will have a different ring after June 29, when Dorothy Behling retires. She's seen district grow from 300 to more than 6,700 students. (B8

'Samson' Won't Be Menu for July 4th

HYANNIS, MASS. (UPI)— "Samson" won't be the main dish at a July 4 "Reverse Freedom Riders" Barbeque here.

"Samson" is a 140-pound goat who arrived in Hyannis June 16 from Little Rock, Ark., a gift from southern segregation ists to Negroes who took the so-called reverse rides.

The 3-year-old animal. which was shipped by Malcom G. Taylor, chairman of Little Rock's Freedom Riders North Committee, was intercepted shortly after arrival by representatives of the local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and is resting comfortably at one of the society's farms.

SIXTY-FOUR Negroes have arrived in Hyannis since the reverse rides started. At present there are six mothers and their 36 children left in a camp set up for the "refugees." The others have found jobs or moved on.

State officials are working to find jobs and housing for those remaining. (B8

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The Bonnye Bluebirds, under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Cryer, ended their second year with a gusto. A Mother's tea was held a week ago Saturday in Mrs. Cryer's home at which the girls served their mothers cookies and candy they had made the previous day. The Camp Fire program was also explained to the mothers, since the girls will fly up this fall.

Mrs. Cryer was presented with a necklace and earrings as a token of appreciation from all the mothers for her work with the girls during the past two years.

With the memory of the tea still fresh in her mind, Thursday Mrs. Cryer took four of her girls to the home of Mrs. Virginia Bartik, who had three more Bonnye Bluebirds, plus Johnny and Tom Bartik, in her car ready to head for a picnic at the Nature Center on Milwaukee. The girls fried hamburgers over a charcoal grill and enjoyed all the trimmings of a picnic lunch before visiting the museum, taking the nature trail hike and playing a game of baseball.

Kathy Bartik, Nancy Bayert, Diane Erd, Evelyn Gallagher, Patty Gleason, Libby Griffith and Linda Hostler are all members of this group.

MOUNT PROSPECT

Mount Prospect Camp Fire Girls will be attending the 35th Annual Day Camp in the same woods that Miss Ehard took her girls some 35 years ago. In reminiscing with Miss Ehard, we find that organizing day camp today for 385 girls is quite different than it was when she took just a handful of girls and started camp at 4 a.m. to watch the sunrise or stayed on into the night to observe its beauty.

Miss Gertrude Timmerman, Day Camp chairman, reports a total registration of 385 girls, who will be attending Day Camp June 19-22 at Deer Grove. The theme is Westward Ho, which will be carried out by teaching the girls square dances, the safety of camp craft, and the experience of learning about nature first hand from the forest preserve naturalists.

After four days of camping, cooking, nature study and first aid study, the girls will rally around the Council Fire and receive the many honors they have earned. Three groups will be taking the rank of Woodgathers: the Tom Ya Shu Ga girls under the leadership of Mrs. Eileen Fischer, the Geupkatanda girls and Mrs. Jean White under the leadership of Mrs. Iris Billmire, and the Wicaka girls whose guardian is Mrs. Deppen.

The Merry Maids of the Nahwee Pa Watani Camp Fire Girls have been having a busy and interesting few months working on their Woodgatherers rank. The girls, Valerie Bodenstab, Jane Denne, Lynn Hedke, Carol Kaske, Marth McCormick, Debbie Robey, Jean Schroeder, Ellyn Seeman and Kathy Weigt, each planned a meeting and held it at her home.

May 7 they planned and served a pot luck dinner for their parents. May 19th they went on a progressive cook-out, having breakfast at Kathy Weigt's, lunch at Jane Deene's and dinner at Valerie Bodenstab's. They all marched in the Memorial Day parade and will attend day camp together.

Their activities were brought to an end as they all took their Woodgatherer's rank at a Luncheon and Council Fire planned for them by their leader, Mrs. Marg Denne, and her assistant, Mrs. Evelyn Bodenstab. (B9

WALLY GRACE looks on as Howard Lester, new athletic director at Arlington High School, addresses the athletes and parents at the spring sports banquet. Lester, former baseball and basketball coach at Arlington, has been athletic director of Prospect High School for three years.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS Sports Editor Bob Frisk presented Wally Grace with a special plaque at Paddock's Sports Night last December. The plaque was given in recognition of Wally's many years of service to the chain of suburban newspapers.

ADMIRING THE ART work by Ed Fischer of the Arlington High School art department are Wally Grace and his wife Lena. The Graces were honored at a special testimonial dinner-dance in May at the Itasca Country Club, and the picture held a place of honor behind the speaker's table.

A LIFETIME PASS to Arlington High School home athletic contests was presented to Wally by Principal Eugene Oliver at a special ceremony last winter. Dr. Oliver is also leaving Arlington, assuming new duties with the admissions department at the University of Illinois.

Wally Grace Story

Retirement Follows 36 Years of Service

by BOB FRISK
SPORTS EDITOR

H. W. Grace has retired.

This charmingly personable man has completed thirty-six distinquished and memorable years in Illinois education. He has served as an administrator, teacher, and coach.

For the past 17 years he served as athletic director of Arlington High School.

He is known as Wally, "Pappy," or Mr. Grace.

The form of address doesn't matter. Everyone knows him as a friend.

Two weeks ago Wally completed his final duties at Arlington, preparing the way for successor Howard Lester. He straightened out his files, checked over some last-minute details as only a detail-man like Wally can, and walked out of a tiny office that has a certain significance of its own.

WALLY AND his delightful wife Lena will leave for St. Petersburg, Fla. in the fall where they are building their own home.

Wally Grace was respected in his chosen profession. He had the same approach in the classroom and on the playing field. If you weren't playing or studying to your capacity, he took you aside and told you so and pointed out how you could improve.

If you were a laggard, he got you moving. If you were a little boy in big boy's clothing, he made a man out of you.

An accomplished speaker, he was just as serious telling a joke as he was at his desk.

FEW administrators or educators have been so dedicated to their work. Efficiency was his middle name when it came to making arrangements for state tournaments. He drew this praise from Al Willis, executive secretary of the Illinois High School association.

"Wally was very prompt, meticulous, and accurate both in arranging an event and filing the report to the state association. He was among our most efficient tournament managers."

There are a scant number of men, at best, who have been associated with Arlington High and have done more for that school, particularly in sports. Wally can look back with pride on his contributions to AHS.

His story is one of struggle.

HIS STORY is one of success, rewarded with the fulfillment of a dream—a dream of serving in education and athletics and playing some role, no matter how big, in guiding young men and women.

His story began in 1905 in downstate Keensburg, Ill., located near Mount Carmel in Wabash County.

As Keensburg was only a two-year high school, Wally went to Mount Carmel for his junior and senior year and graduated in 1922 at 16. He graduated with the highest average in the class but couldn't be called the school valedictorian because he hadn't attended Mount Carmel for the required four years.

Next stop was the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana.

"I ATTENDED Illinois from 1922 through 1924," Wally related, "but Dad suffered some financial reverses and could no longer put me through school. I decided to teach a couple years and get enough money to complete my college degree.

"I applied at home town Keensburg which then had a three-year school. In those days you could teach in a three-year high school with only two years of college.

"There were five on the school board, including my Dad, and three voted for acceptance of my application. Dad passed for modesty sake and the fifth man passed, thinking I was too young.

"When I experienced some success in my first year at the school, that man was the first to shake my hand and congratulate me. He admitted he had thought I was too young for the position."

WALLY SIGNED his first contract at 18 in May of 1924 and was the youngest high school teacher in the state. Two boys on his first basketball team were older than their coach. He guided the basketball squad to a 17-5 record and had a 16-0 mark in baseball.

He enjoyed two perfect seasons in baseball coaching. There were no districts then as split seasons were common. One-half the schedule would be played in the fall with the other half in the spring. Records were combined for determining champions.

His first basketball captain later married his sister. Through the years Wally either coached or taught his two brothers, sister, two brothers-in-law, his wife, and his son.

GRACE WENT back to the University of Illinois in 1926 and received his degree in 1928 in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. He then accepted a position at Browns Community High School in Browns, Ill., near Mount Vernon in Albion County.

"BABY WALLY"

WALLY TODAY

Wally served at Browns for 14 years and it was here that he met his wife, Lena.

"I taught her history," he recalled, "and when she walked into my class the first day in a short yellow dress, sat down, and crossed her legs, I knew she was going to be my wife."

IN HIS first two years at Browns he served as teacher and coach but when the principal was elected county superintendent of schools, Wally was promoted to the vacated position. He was principal and coach, was responsible for numerous other jobs, and remembered that "you were a slave in those small schools."

Grace left Browns High School in 1942 and served from 1942 to 1945 at Crescent-Iroquois Community High in Crescent City, Ill.

"Luck seemed to follow me. We won 31 of 36 baseball games and didn't lose a conference game at Crescent City. We won the district tourney twice."

The association of Wally Grace and Arlington High School was initiated with a phone call in May of 1945.

"IN 1944 Mr. M. F. Egdorf came to Arlington as principal," Wally related, "He had come to Arlington from Watseka County, seat of Iroquois County. Mac and I had been good friends in our years as neighbors and as members of the principal's association.

"Mac called me one day in May and asked if I would be interested in coming to Arlington and serving as athletic director. The salary was $200 less, and I told him I was happy at Crescent City.

"But Mac encouraged me to think it over. I was bringing my catcher, Jerry Wall, to Wrigley Field in Chicago the following day for a workout with the Cubs, so we set up an appointment at the game.

"I MET Mac after Jerry started his workout and after an hour's consultation we closed the deal. Of course, it needed board confirmation but that came shortly.

"I hated to leave Crescent City. They treated you like a minister. When we arrived people were waiting to help unload the moving van. A neighbor had supper ready. Everyone was wonderful to both Lena and me. It was a rough decision, but I came to Arlington with the promise that I would not have to teach.

"That word was kept except when Miss Black had an overflow in American History and needed some immediate help. I had a total of two classes in 17 years at Arlington."

Wally had his choice of sports at Arlington and selected baseball because, as he readily admits, "that is my sport".

"I CONSIDER myself the luckiest high school coach that ever lived. It seemed that good material followed me. In baseball I didn't have a team that lost more than three games until my fourth year at Arlington (13-7). My last two years of baseball coaching were sub-.500 and 22 of my 96 defeats were administered in those two years."

Overall, Wally's baseball teams won 314 games.

"I used to kid Leroy Knoeppel, who then was principal at Arlington," Wally went on, "about the 'old man losing his touch' in coaching. He wanted to make me straight athletic director because the job was getting too big."

Victory No. 300 was a special one for Wally, and he likes to recall it.

"I STARTED out the 1950

WALLY RECEIVED a special award from James Hendricks, past president of the Cardinals Booster Club, at the spring sports banquet. He was presented with a large Major "A" signifying the ten sports at Arlington High School. The "45" and "62" represent Wally's 17 years at Arlington.

A SILVER PUNCH bowl with 17 cups signifying Wally Grace's 17 years at Arlington High School was presented to Wally and his wife Lena at a special testimonial dinner-dance in May at the Itasca Country Club. Joining in the applause is "Ike" Craig, a long-time friend of the Graces who served as master of ceremonies.

IT WAS A BIG NIGHT for Wally Grace (center) after his baseball team in Crescent City, Ill. won its third conference championship with an unblemished record. A victory celebration was held in the school gymnasium and the talented battery of catcher Jerry Wall and pitcher Roland Meyer posed with their happy coach.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

THE MAJOR LEAGUES, which have been criticized in some quarters for having baseball games run too long, could take a tip from the Milwaukee County Western League which operates under the West Allis, Wis., Recreation department.

"We generally play our nine inning games under two hours and everybody likes the plan," said Fred Zirkel, recreation director. Here are the "speed up' 'rules the league has been using the past three years:

—The ball is returned to the pitcher after every out without the usual throwing around the infield.

—The pitcher tells the umpire if he wants to walk a batter intentionally. He does not pitch the necessary four balls.

—The pitcher is allowed just one warmup pitch at the start of an inning.

—With two outs, the pitcher of the team at bat may warm up on the sidelines.

—The pitcher and catcher are allowed base runners in their places at anytime. Anyone on the team can be a runner for the batterymen without any kind of penalty.

A PROTECTIVE FACE GUARD attached to a football player's helmet is of little value in preventing injuries and might actually be a menace to opposing players, a University of Iowa student study showed recently.

The study was based on reported injuries among Iowa and Wisconsin high school football players and was made by Wendell P. Liemohn of Waverly, Iowa for his Master's Degree thesis.

He found that, of the four common face injuries suffered by football players—lacerations, contusions, fractures, and teeth injuries, one was reduced in number by requiring the use of the face-bar. In fact, he said, the number of lacerations and contusions has increased since the face-guard has been required equipment for Iowa and Wisconsin prep players.

He also found that the face-bar frequently served as a lever, causing the helmet to be driven off the head and thus exposing the player to severe head injuries.

He also referred to an early study for The Journal of American Medical Association, which reported that the upward force placed on the face-bar often causes the rear rim of the helmet to be driven into the back of the player's neck, resulting in severe injury to the vertebrae and spinal cord.

Liemohn also found that the face-guard cuts the player's field of vision so that he often can't see when an opponent is about to block or tackle him. Earlier studies revealed that serious injuries are often caused by the unseen opponent, Liemohn noted.

CHUCK ESSEGIAN, the hot-batting outfielder of the Cleveland Indians, still insists professional football has one big advantage over pro baseball.

The former Stanford linebacker, who needed eight years to find a regular job in the majors, points out, "In football you find out right away whether you're going to make it or not."

Qualifying Round Opens Tourney Week

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

Almost 63 years ago to the day, the Western Golf Association staged its first Western Open championships at the Glen View Country Club in Glenview.

And again in 1962, another Western Open will be contested in the Chicago area, the first in this locale since 1939.

The 59th annual Open will be held at Medinah Country Club with championship play scheduled to begin next Thursday (June 28) and continue through Sunday, July 1.

YET, THE Medinah Club will be a scene of feverish activity for a full seven days. Western Open week actually will begin Monday with a qualifying round that will fill any remaining openings in the full tournament field of 132.

On tap for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are what have come to be known as practice rounds, in which prospective tournament participants may experience the terrors of Number Three prior to championship play.

Spectators are invited to view the qualifying and practice rounds. Tickets may be purchased at the gate for each session.

THE EXACT number of openings at stake Monday will be determined at the conclusion of the Eastern Open Sunday at Baltimore, Md. Exemptions will be given to those who qualify for the final round of the Eastern because of the conflict of competing in Baltimore on Sunday and teeing-off at Medinah the following morning.

Heading the star-studded field of professionals who will be shooting for that Western crown will be defending champion Arnold Palmer and newly-crowned USGA Open King, Jack Nicklaus.

The top 30 leading money-winners on the PGA circuit this spring will be at Medinah. Included in that group are 23 of the 24 tourney winners in '62.

THE LONE tournament champ who has not entered the Western is Bo Winninger, winner of the New Orleans Open.

In addition to Nicklaus and Palmer, other well-known pros headed for Medinah are Phil Rogers, Bob Nichols, Gay Brewer, Gary Player, Tom Jacobs, Gene Littler, Billy Maxwell, Art Wall, Doug Ford, Doug Sanders, Bill Casper, Dow Finsterwald, Bruce Crampton, Bob Goalby, Mike Souchek, Dave Ragen, Jay Hebert, Lionel Hebert, Johnny Pott, Joe Campbell, Don January, Bob Rosberg and George Bayer.

Well-known local club pros who will be battling the tournament veterans are Johnny Revolta of Evanston Golf Club, Chuck Malchaski of Brookwood Country Club, Bob Harris of Sunset Ridge, Jack Bell of Medinah, Charley Penna of Beverly, Darrell Hickock of Edgewood Valley, Felice Torza of Aurora, Dave Mose of Calumet and Ed Oldfield of Glen View.

AND, OF COURSE, headlining the amateur ranks will be the venerable Chick Evans, the only non-pro ever to win the Western Open. Chick walked off with the top prize in 1910.

A glance at the lengthy list of past champions reveals the name of Walter Hagen, one of golf's all-time greats, in no less than five slots. Hagen won his first tournament in 1916 and wrapped up his fifth title some 20 years later.

Second behind Hagen with four championships is Willie Anderson. Anderson set the pace in 1902, 1904, 1908 and 1909.

THE SMITH brothers, Willie, Alex and MacDonald, monopolized the Open six times between 1899 and 1925. And then there was Ralph Guldahl whose three straight victories remains unequalled to this day.

Sam Snead turned the trick for two straight years in '49 and '50 but the top prize in '51 went to Marty Furgol. Snead came close again last year as he finished second to Palmer.

season at Arlington with 290 victories in baseball. I thought we might reach 300 that year so I told the boys that every time we won a game, we were going to vote on the star of the day.

"We'd gather at my office—there were Ronnie Thill, Harry Griffith, Ray Huffman, and others — and I'd go down the batting order, electing the star of the day by a show of hands.

"Well, we got down to victory 299 with a 4-0 win over St. Charles in the Elgin District and then beat Dundee by the identical score for No. 300 in the finals.

"WE GOT BACK to the school and started to vote on the star of the day. By the time I got through my entire starting lineup and the reserves, no hand had gone up. Ray Huffman, my pitcher and a real good one, then said, 'Coach, we've voted you the star of the day. That 300th victory is a mighty big one.' "

Throughout all these years Wally also served as an official in basketball, football, and baseball. He officiated for 26 years and finally put down his whistle following the 1954-55 season.

He was as dedicated an official as he was an administrator. He belonged to the Egyptian Officials Association, one of the pioneer groups in the state, and has a record of every game he ever officiated, with the date, teams involved, site, score, mileage, and fee.

"ONE OF MY big thrills in officiating," he smiled, "was being able to take one of my poor kids on a trip. I'd buy him a hamburger, malt, and we'd have a great time. It was a real treat for those boys, who rarely got outside their home town, to take those trips."

If Wally would have stayed at Browns High School for one more year he would have officiated in the state basketball tournament.

Wally paid tribute to the many athletes and coaches who have made his career such a memorable one. Two head coaches in the immediate area, Chuck Aldrich at Prospect and Bob Baker at Arlington, are his proteges. Chuck was a first baseman and Bob a pitcher and both were "outstanding competitors and athletes" according to their prep coach.

NAMES LIKE Al Stroker, Bill Robinson, Wally Beckman, John Shanley, Marv Berschet, Gordon Busse, Jim Stavros, Lloyd Meyer, Dick Winterbauer, Bob Mors, Mike Dundy, George Bork, et al., are the names of boys who have brought prominence to Arlington High School Athletics and many wonderful memories to Wally Grace.

Ron Grace, his son, was voted athlete of the year as an Arlington High senior and was a three-sport standout in football, basketball, and baseball.

Wally fondly recalls some of the outstanding Arlington teams in his association with the school.

"CLARENCE Iba's first two basketball teams around 1945 were good ones, and who can forget those mighty midgets of Coach Gene Bell? That 1948-49 team of Gordon Busse, Lloyd Meyer, Bill Robinson, and others almost beat Elgin, the top team in the state, and it was playing without anyone taller than six feet.

"I could go on for a long time relating some of the teams that have given me my thrills. Those three state championship gymnastics teams or those golf powerhouses under Larson (Curtis) in the "golden years of golf" or tennis just this spring in my final year."

"Every sport had its high points through the years, and it would be a rough task to try to list all of them."

IN WALLY'S 17 years as Arlington Athletic Director Cardinal units piled up 2203 victories with only 1617 defeats. The banner year was in 1957-58 when Arlington won 230 athletic contests, dropped only 100, and tied two.

"My baseball teams won a total of 17 trophies," Wally recalls. "But they're nothing but hardware now. The 144 Christmas cards I received from my former boys—they are my trophies.

"I leave Arlington High School with sadness. Almost half of my career in education and athletics has been given to Arlington. I'm thankful for the many honors and recognition that have come my way during the past school year. People have been wonderful with their generosity.

"I'm the big loser. Arlington loses one friend. I'm leaving hundreds."

Quite a guy, this Wally Grace.

Braves Set Early Pace in Hoffman Little League

Hammering out three straight decisions, the Braves swept into first place in the Hoffman Estates Major Little League.

Craig Johnson hurled the Braves to their first victory, a come-from - behind 6-3 conquest of the Tigers. Johnson collected an even dozen strikeouts and allowed only two hits for the six inning contest.

John Armfield spearheaded the victors' attack with a double and triple and two RBI's. Greg Nelson also smashed a clutch triple to highlight a three run Braves' third.

ARMFIELD walloped two homers last Thursday to lead the Braves to an easy 19-4 win over the Cardinals. Ahead, 7-2, heading into the bottom half of the third, the league-leaders erupted for seven more runs to turn the game into a rout.

Mike Ferguson went the distance on the hill for the Braves, collecting 14 strikeouts while walking six.

Gary Dean contributed a round-tripper to the winners' cause while teammates Nelson and Allen rapped out a double and triple apiece.

THE BRAVES then capped a successful week Saturday by outslugging the Yankees, 15-8, thanks to some solid hitting by Johnson and Jim Morse.

Johnson drove in four runs with two hits, while Morse banged out three hits in as many trips to the plate.

Pirates Rally; Crush Dodgers In Showdown Tilt

Trailing, 5-3, at the conclusion of the third inning, the Pirates hit the Dodgers with six runs in the fourth inning and then coasted to an important 11-6 victory Saturday in a Hoffman Estates Babe Ruth League headliner.

The victory vaulted the Bucs past the Dodgers into first place with a perfect 3-0 mark. The Dodgers, unbeaten in three previous starts, slipped into second place one-half game off the pace.

Terry Mulligan twirled a five-hitter for the winners and was credited with the victory. Earl Speigel absorbed the Dodger defeat in relief of Dave Sander.

LARRY Robertson spearheaded the Pirate attack as he rapped out a clutch double.

The Bucs also used the big inning to full effect last Thursday as they came up with an 11-run second enroute to a 14-8 conquest of the Braves.

Dick Rodenbostel weathered a six-run Braves' rally in the fifth to pick up the decision. Shaw was tagged with the defeat.

RODENBOSTEL, Moody and Robertson all banged out doubles for the winners. while teammate Mulligan slammed a three bagger. Hedlund doubled for the Braves.

The Dodgers sewed up their third triumph last Wednesday by clobbering the winless Yankees, 15-1. Lou Fetters hurled a nifty two-hitter for the winners and additionally rapped out two doubles.

Tom Goff came up with the first Yankee hit in the fourth inning.

Thrill Show Set For O'Hare Oval

The famous Newberry Tournament of Thrills, a 20-act show of motorized mayhem, will take over O'Hare Stadium at Mannheim and Irving Park Roads one night only this Friday. First event is at 8:30 p.m.

Next and every Wednesday it is something all new in auto racing thrills presented exclusively at O'Hare — the Golden Chariots—$100 claiming stock races in the opposite direction on the track each week. Men drive gold cars with lady drivers competing in pink "chariots." First race is always at 8:30 p.m.

As usual, New stock car and Cadet late model races are slated at O'Hare Saturday and Sunday nights. Among area drivers among the favorites are Dieter Holz of Arlington Heights, Butch Linden of Buffalo Grove, Don Purkey and Dick Erickson of Des Plaines, Al Warfield of Forest Park, Kenny Paulsen of Stone Park, Bill Lutz of Melrose Park, Ron Hieber of Elmwood Park and Terry Parker and Roy Czach of Chicago's northwest side.

White Sox Edge Pirates in Pony League Thriller

Punching across a run in the top half of the 10th inning, Addison's White Sox eked out a tight 5-4 victory over the host Itasca Pirates Saturday in an extra-inning North DuPage Pony League thriller.

The victory vaulted the Pale Hose into first place in the National League race with four victories against a single setback. Itasca, on the other hand, sagged into a third place deadlock in the American circuit.

Edwin Scharlau and Raycek worked on the mound for the White Sox with Raycek picking up the win in relief. Todd Toepper and Todd Camphausen split the Itasca assignment.

THE WHITE Sox picked up a victory at the expense of the Wood Dale Blues last Monday, 15-5. Wood Dale then forfeited its scheduled game with the Addison Angels Saturday.

Villa Park's Cardinals jumped into the title picture in the National League by turning back the Orioles, 12-5. Howe, Holing and Carpenter hurled for the Cards, while Sieloff, Flately and Thompson saw action for the Orioles.

The Orioles bounced back Saturday, however, and cut down the previously-unbeaten Braves, 6-4. The loss dropped the Braves into a second place National League tie with the Cards.

IN LAST week's only other game, the Roselle Reds registered their first win of the season by edging the winless Carol Stream Yanks, 7-4.

Another Big Racing Week At Arlington

The $50,000 added Warren Wright Handicap and $15,000 added Miss Chicago Stakes will highlight the second full week of racing at beautiful Arlington Park.

The spacious plant northwest of Chicago opened its doors last Monday on a continuous 73-day racing season with Intervener, an English-bred five-year-old, capturing the $17,425 Meadowland Handicap.

Saturday's Warren Wright for three-year-olds will be run at one and one-eighth miles. The Miss Chicago stakes is set for five and one-half furlongs for two-year-old fillies.

SAME POST TIME schedule that proved so popular during the Washington Park phase—2:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday with a "Matinee" first post of 3:45 on Fridays only and 2 p.m. on Saturdays—will prevail throught the 12-week session that extends uninterrupted through Sept. 10 and embraces the gala Fourth of July and Labor Day holidays.

Twelve thousand fans turned out Monday for opening day and watched a mild upset in the featured Meadowland. Editorialist was favored over the five and one-half furlongs but finished fifth.

INTERVENER slipped through on the rail to gain the lead in the last 16th and went under the wire a length and a half ahead of Neewollah, ridden by Johnny Burton. The latter, far back in the early going, finished just a neck ahead of Idle Start, piloted by Jimmy Nichols.

Fourth money went to Vital Force by a half length over Editorialist.

The winner, which earned $10,675 for his fifth victory in nine starts this year, was clocked in 1:04 3/5 against Benedicto's trac record of 1:03 1/5.

The day's mutuel handle was $1,140,377. Last year's inaugural drew 11,705 fans who bet $1,086,944.

First Roller Derby

18 Days Remain for Filing Applications

Eighteen days remain for filing applications in the First Annal Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby.

Co-sponsored by Triangle Roller Rink and Paddock Publications in cooperation with J. J. McCleverty of the traffic safety division of the Cook County highway department, the 25-mile race will be held Sunday, July 8.

Slated along the rough pavement of Northwest Highway from Arlington Heights to Pepper Road, beyond Barrington, and back, the race is expected to draw 100 contestants from six states.

A filing fee has been arranged by the promoters with an entry fee of $4 on all applications received or postmarked prior to 12:01 a.m., July 3, 1962.

THEREAFTER, the fee will be $6.00 and applications will be accepted up until one hour before race time which will be 10 a.m., Sunday, July 8.

The distance of the race was authenticated this week by Mr. McCleverty, executive director of the traffic safety commission, and James Lannefeld, traffic engineer with the safety division.

The 25-mile race is open to members of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association with an age limit of 16 and up. Anyone who has an amateur card with the RSROA is eligible.

FREE SETS of wheels and training track will be provided on the parking lot west of Triangle with the lot available at posted times.

Trophies will be presented to the three winners with medals to all finishers. A female celebrity will present the awards.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Roller Derby should contact Abe Linderman at CLearbrook 5-3316. Applications may be picked up at the Triangle Roller Rink, 1000 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

Following is a complete set of rules as it appears on the entry blank:

1. The name of the race shall be "PADDOCK - TRIANGLE ROLLER DERBY" and shall be approximately 25 miles in distance, on an outdoor marked route.
2. The race is open to any male who shall have reached his 16th birthday by the time of the race (and be prepared to prove it), and has a valid and current amateur card with the R S R O A.
3. Trophies will be awarded to 1st, 2nd and 3rd place finishers and special awards will be presented to all skaters who finish.
4. The entry fee shall be $4.00 on all applications received or postmarked prior to 12:01 a.m., July 3, 1962. Thereafter, the fee will be $6.00 and applications will be accepted up until one hour before race time which will be 10:00 a.m., Sunday, July 8, 1962.
5. Equipment and dress of the participants shall conform to R S R O A rules of racing. A head covering is suggested but not required and, if worn, must be of a secure fit such as a baseball cap or beret; provided, however, that at no time during the race may an article of dress or equipment be discarded.
6. Tools or parts may not be carried by any skater, unless a part or skate may have broken during the race.
7. There will be two authorized service stations along the race route, with a limited supply of parts and one attendant at each. In the event that service is needed, a racer must go to either station and must at all times be wearing at least one skate.

7a. If in the judgment of the official serviceman, the required service is of such a time consuming nature as would prejudice any other skater waiting for service, then such service may be delayed or refused entirely.

7b. Each racer may have his own serviceman and kit at either or both of the service stations, in which case, 7a above would not apply.

8. Food and drink along the race course is prohibited, except as may be available at the two official refreshment (service) stops.
9. Body contact and/or deliberate blocking (as governed by R S R O A racing rules) is prohibited and any infraction thereof shall subject the guilty party to immediate disqualification.
10. Ground rules for the race will be announced to the skaters ½ hour before the start of the race.
11. In any situation not expressly covered herein or in the ground rules, decisions will be made by the officials of the race, in harmony with rules of good conscience and fair play. In all situations, the decisions of these officials will be final.

DISTANCE FOR THE Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby slated for Sunday, July 8, was authenticated Tuesday by the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission. Shown checking over the results with James Lannefeld (left), traffic engineer with the commission, is Bob Frisk, sports editor of Paddock Publications. Paddock's and Triangle Roller Rink of Arlington Heights are co-sponsoring the race in cooperation with J. J. McCleverty, executive director of the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission.

St. Viator Posts One Decision in Four Loop Games

A 2-1 decision over Hoffman Estates furnished St. Viator's American Legion team with its only victory in four Ninth District baseball outings last week.

Coach Frank Mariani's aggregation fell in encounters with Arlington Heights, Park Ridge, and Holy Cross.

Bill Ewald worked on the mound in the victory over Hoffman Estates on a yield of five hits. Mike Timmins absorbed the setback.

St. Viator tallied its two runs in the third on singles by Don Knudsen, Chuck Heinrich, Mike Gracyzk, and Jeff Haiduke. Hoffman had taken a brief 1-0 lead with a singleton in the opening frame.

Score by innings:

St. Viator	002 000 0—2 5
Hoffman	100 000 0—1 5

ST. VIATOR punched across three runs against Holy Cross but still dropped a 5-3 decision.

Haiduke started on the mound for the locals with Jimmy Vidt finishing up. Vidt fanned 10 in the final four frames.

Holy Cross led all the way, initiating its scoring in the second on two walks and an error.

ST. VIATOR tallied two in the fifth and one in the seventh. Supplying the big blows for the locals were Vidt and Joe Sanchez with triples.

Sanchez, who will be a freshman at St. Viator in the fall, is also a highly regarded pitcher who fanned six in a two-inning stint against Morton. Joe is author of nine no-hitters in organized baseball competition.

Perenially powerful Park Ridge had little trouble bumping St. Viator 12-3 and a story on Arlington's victory appears elsewhere in the sports section.

Pro Sport Center's Nine Opens With Win

Pounding out 14 hits over nine innings, Pro Sport Center initiated competition in the John L. Sullivan baseball league with an impressive 11-8 victory over Morgan Park's Cardinals Sunday afternoon.

Coach Dave Lynk's local outfit, newest entry in the John L. Sullivan league, counted four runs in the first inning, single markers in the second and fourth, and pushed over five in the sixth and seventh en route to the decision.

Unleashing an explosive attack with all but one of the starters collecting at least one safety, Pro Sport Center saw an early lead turn into a one-run deficit in the visitor's half of the sixth inning.

JOHN LIND'S two-run homer in the home half of the sixth gave the locals a lead they never relinquished with John Oberg and Mark Thorne finishing up on the mound for starter Gene Dahlquist.

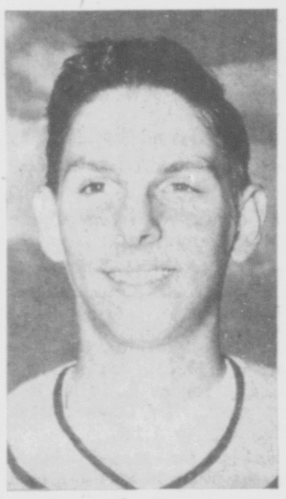
Pro Sport Center will host Clarendon Hills Sunday at Pioneer Park at 2 p.m. in its second league encounter of 1962.

Dan Vittum wielded the big bat for the locals in the opener with three singles, marking an impressive return to baseball for Vittum after a layoff of three years. Dan was an all-conference outfielder at Arlington High School.

MARK THORNE, Lind, and Fred Empkie each chipped in with two hits and Fred Lussow, Bob Glaser, Larry Weber, Randy Steeno, and Oberg rapped out one each.

Dahlquist, now a student at Arizona after starring in three sports at Arlington High, started on the mound for the Pro Sport nine and worked five innings, finally tiring in the 90-plus temperature.

Oberg, a left hander who enjoyed a big senior yerr at Arlington, toiled two innings, and Thorne, another southpaw who prepped at Prospect, finished up. Mark played the first seven innings at first base.



JOHN LIND

THE LOCALS fell behind by one run in the top half of the first inning but erupted with four markers in their first turn at bat in 1962.

With one out Vittum singled and when the dust had cleared there were two other hits, a hit batsman, walk and the first four runs. Larry Weber, former Arlington high infielder, laced a double and Empkie, former Prospect catcher, rifled a single.

Pro Sport Center added a singleton in the second on a walk, single, wild pitch, and error with Fred Lussow counting. In the fourth Lussow rode home again after slapping a single. Thorne and Lind followed with base hits.

LIND'S HOMER followed Thorne's single in the sixth, and the locals iced the contest with three in the seventh.

Morgan Park's Cardinals, down 5-1 after two innings, battled back to tie the count with three in the third and two in the fifth. The Cards went ahead with one run in the top of the sixth, but their lead was short-lived as the locals bounced back with two of their own in the sixth.

Morgan Park rapped out 10 hits off the slants of Dahlquist, Oberg, and Thorne but couldn't match the prolific hitting of Lynk's crew.

Lynk opened with an outfield of Vittum in left, Lussow in center, and Steeno in right. Dahlquist was on the mound with Empkie behind the plate. Thorne, Jerry Dixon, Lind, and Weber made up the infield from first to third.

Score by innings:

Morgan Park	103 021 001— 8-10
Pro Sport	410 102 30*—11-14

Mark Motors, 45th Artillery To Clash Sunday

Mark Motors and the 45th Artillery Brigade will clash Sunday afternoon at Pioneer Park in the featured game of the Arlington Park District's Classic 12-inch, Fast Pitch softball league.

Both clubs opened with impressive victories last Sunday, setting the stage for the headliner at 2 p.m.

In other action Sunday the Hasbrook Hawks will meet the Cardinals at Miner Jr. High School with the Jaycees tackling the Bravo Braves at Pioneer Park.

Spectators are urged to come out and watch the action Sunday with 2 p.m. starting times for each encounter.

DICK HOFFMAN fanned seven and hurled a steady game as Mark Motors bumped the Jay Cees, 8-5, last Sunday. Dave Brodnan supplied the big blow with a two-run homer, and Buddy and Mike Bencic turned in sparkling defensive maneuvers.

Mike recorded a tremendous catch in center field to cut off a possible home run.

In other contests Sunday the Cardinals clubbed the Bravo Braves 11-5 and the 45th Artillery unit blanked the Hasbrook Hawks 14-0.

The standings:	W	L

Chargers Rally to Gain Tie

The Chargers of Elk Grove Currency Exchange and Bob's Standard Service, current front runner in the Elk Grove Village Mens' Softball League, came from behind in the last inning to tie the Birchwood Elks, 22-22, missing the victory column for the first time this season.

Jack Van Hauter collected four safeties in five trips to the plate in leading the fifth place Elks' attack. Bob Pruitt hit two home runs for the Chargers.

With Bob Vormitag and Chuck Stromberg hitting two homers each, Klehm's defeated Champa 39-20, while Berthold's Nursery totaled 44 hits to rock the Jokers 41-21.

The Black Cats jinxed the Ramblers 21-16 in a struggle to avoid the cellar, with Stu Lombard walloping two homers.

Lane Tops Hogarty in Legion Duel

Arlington's John Lane and Mount Prospect's Jim Hogarty hooked up in a pitcher's duel last week with Arlington punching over single runs in the first and second innings for a 2-0 decision.

Coach Lloyd Meyer's outfit, able to touch Hogarty for just one safety, was aided by seven walks as it racked up its first Ninth District American Legion victory.

Joe Wertheimer counted in the first inning after getting on with a free pass, and Vince Furlong rode across in the second thanks to another gift from Hogarty.

MOUNT PROSPECT collected only one hit off the slants of right hander Lane, a third inning single by reliable Dave Leekley, one of Prospect High's top swingers in the spring.

Lane fanned five and walked five over the six innings in twirling his shutout.

Walks to Ken Layden, Wertheimer, and Ray Miller, a stolen base, passed ball, and wild pitch figured in Arlington's initial run with two errors helping send Furlong home with the second.

IN ADDITION to pitching a fine game, Lane also stroked the only hit off Hogarty, a second inning single. Ironically, Lane is not noted for his work at the plate.

Mount Prospect threatened in each of the first four innings but couldn't push anyone across. Ron Aukamp reached third in the first and Jerry Locy camped there in the second but that was as far as they got.

JOHN LANE

Hogarty settled down after a shaky start and although he had some trouble with his control, he still pitched a creditable game for Mount Prospect. Jim fanned nine over the six innings with only Layden, Ray Miller and Lane among the Arlington starters escaping his strikeout pitch.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Doggy and hot weekend—

Law weekend the folks who attended any of the various dog shows in the area were treated to a warm day, to say the least. Both Saturday and Sunday in northern Illinois were days that a lot of folks would rather forget. Might as well get used to it, summer has just started.

At the Chain O'Lakes Kennel Club show held at Grayslake on Sunday, there were some 27 families from the Paddock area with entries at this conformation show. In all, they had 40 dogs entered in various classes in a show which, if it keeps going the way it has, will be one of the larger shows in the country. There was a grand total of 825 dogs entered, representing some 85 different breeds.

Wins were so numerous for the 19 breeds entered by area residents that it would be next to impossible to list them all in the space that this column is allotted. The best-in-show dog was a Pomeranian, Champion Golden Rule Twinkle Star from Kewaskum, Wis. This was the ninth best in show for this dog, which, by the way, is less than two years old.

WHILE THINGS were going on in conformation at Grayslake, the main feature relative to obedience trials was the 12th annual obedience trial held by the Westside Dog Training Club at Hawthorne Race Course in Cicero. Here there was a total entry of 172 dogs in the trial and as far as wins by people in the area covered by the newspaper, I guess top honors should go to a Mount Prospect couple.

Ann and Tony Giovenco of Mount Prospect had their Poodle entered in the Novice B class and the dog ended up in a 3-way tie for first place, with a score of 198½ out of a possible 200. In the final run-off to establish the first, second and third place winners, the Giovencos' dog had to be satisfied with third place.

Regardless of the third place in the class, the dog did quite well—it also was the highest scoring dog in the non-sporting group and won a trophy for the highest scoring poodle in the trial, as well as a trophy for the highest scoring poodle in the Novice B class.

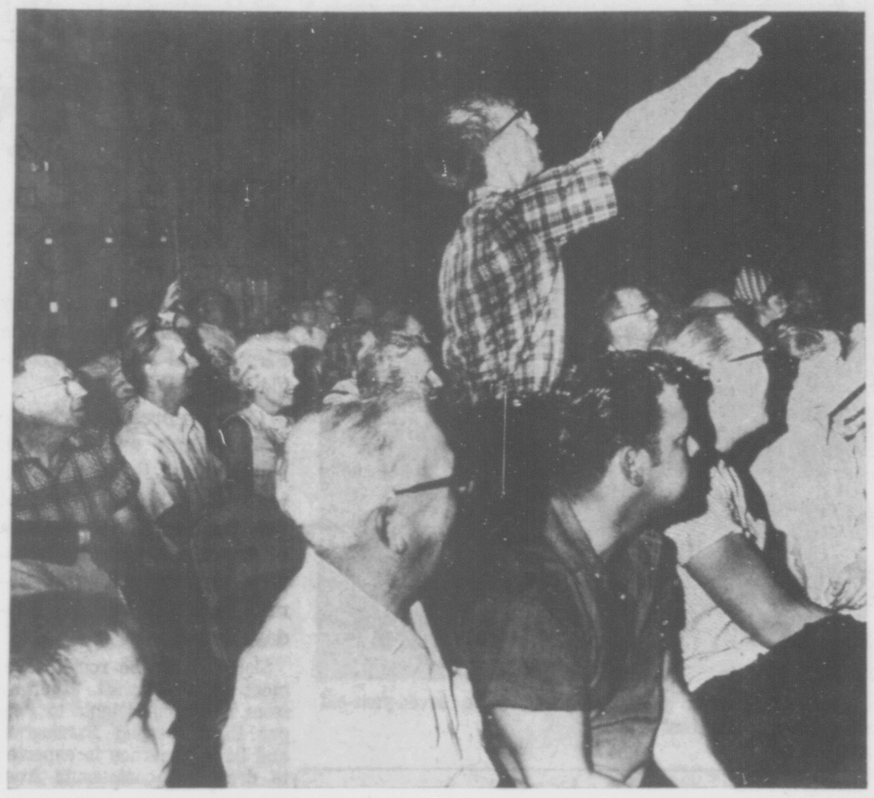
Wheaton K.C. closing date

Regarding shows, now that we are on the subject, a press release just in advises that the Wheaton Kennel Club will hold its seventh all-breed dog show and obedience trial on Saturday, July 7, at the DuPage County Fairgrounds, Manchester and County Farm Road, in Wheaton. Closing date is June 26. Call Robert Hoyt at NE 4-3414 for information.

Judging starts at 9 a.m. and German Shepherd judging as well as the obedience trials will be held outdoors. This should give the German Shepherd folks a chance to really get those dogs out where they can be gaited with plenty of room. Also, regarding the obedience trial, it is this editor's opinion that an obedience dog is not really an obedience dog unless he can work equally well both indoors and outdoors. What good is he if he can do what he is supposed to as an obedience dog in just one place or the other?

Barks & Bays—

The "France," new French Line trans-Atlantic steamship, really "puts on the dog" when it feeds its canine passengers. Had a note recently from Cliff Reber of the Ken-L-Ration folks that in addition to feeding Biscuit - Ken'l (Ken-L-Biskit) the dogs have a menu that features such items as, La Preference du Danois (beef bones-veal bones), which is not too bad. However, try this one . . . Le Regal de Sweekey (carrots - chopped meat - spinach—and toast). Wonder what after dinner wines are served?



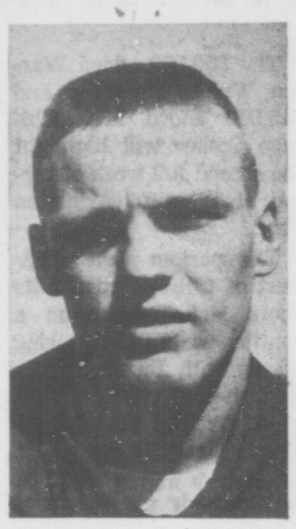
YOU, BULLY, YOU. A spectator crys "foul" during one of the main bouts last Friday evening in the professional wrestling exhibition at Palatine High School. Several outstanding pro matmen put on quite a show for the fans with the proceeds going to the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association.

Third in District

Mt. Prospect Legion Nine Claims 3 Wins

Danny Schmidt fired a masterful no-hitter Tuesday evening as Mount Prospect's American Legion baseball team blanked visiting Hoffman Estates, 5-0.

Schmidt was in complete command as Mount Prospect racked up its third Ninth District triumph and moved into a third place tie with Arlington Heights.



RON AUKAMP

Danny fanned 15 and allowed only two men to reach first base, both on walks. The no-hitter was the third suffered by the inept Hoffman Estates nine this year with pitchers from Park Ridge and Northlake also handcuffing the cellar dwellers.

RON AUKAMP wielded one of the big bats for Mount Prospect Tuesday with two hits driving in three runs. Mike Francek also delivered two safeties as the locals posted their third victory in five league outings.

Des Plaines rests atop the Ninth District ladder with a perfect 4-0 standard. Park Ridge is right behind at 5-1 and Mount Prospect and Arlington are tied at 3-2.

Mount Prospect posted victories over Holy Cross and Northlake in addition to the Hoffman Estates triumph in the initial week of league action. Arlington Heights and Des Plaines both shut out MP.

THE LOCALS pounded out 14 hits and had little trouble pasting outmanned Holy Cross, 16-3. Schmidt picked up another mound victory in this effortless decision.

Fancek, an all-league outfielder for two years running in the Interim, slapped a homer and triple, and Aukamp delivered a four-bagger for the big blows in the Mount Prospect attack.

Leading all the way, the locals almost blew a decision with Northlake, finally pulling out a 10-9 victory. A strong relief stint by Bob Hanson helped salvage the triumph.

aHnson came on in the fifth for starter Jim Hogarty.

MOUNT PROSPECT jumped off to an early lead with an extured homers by Aukamp and Bob Geller.

Bob Laden led off the stanza with a single and Aukamp homered him home. Geller followed Laden with another circuit clout.

In the Des Plaines encounter it was simply too much Chip Allen as the fire-baller who baffled Interim League opponents during the spring continued to demonstrate his mound mastery.

Allen had a no-hitter going with one out in the seventh when Geller and Aukamp pit together singles.

Steve Fossler worked on the hill for Prospect and suffered the 6-0 setback to the league leaders.

The story on the loss to Arlington Heights appears elsewhere in the sports section.

Black Miniature

Poodle Claims Four Trophies in Trials

A black miniature poodle owned and handled by Tony Giovenco, 302 N. Eastwood, Mount Prospect, walked off with four top trophies Sunday in the obedience trials at Hawthorne Race Track sponsored by Westside Dog Training Club. Out of a possible 200, Mimi received a score of 198½ to tie for first place in Novice B.

Losing in the run-off, she received a trophy for third place in Novice B, another for highest scoring poodle in the entire trial, one for highest scoring in Novice B and one for highest scoring dog in the non-sporting group. She is also to receive a fifth trophy as highest scoring dog in the Novice classes entered from Northwest Obedience Club, Inc. of which Giovenco is a member.

For Mimi, the show earned the second of the three legs required by the American Kennel Club for the Companion Dog Degree. She received a score of 196½ in her first show June 3 at New Lennox and is now eligible for the coveted Will Judy award, awarded to dogs who earn their three legs with scores of 195 or better in three consecutive shows.

ANOTHER high scoring dog in the trial was Beau, poodle owned and handled by Joan Strebel of Mount Prospect, who earned a 197 to tie for fifth place in Novice A. In his second show, New Lennox, Beau "dropped" to a 194.

Indians Handle Cubs, Braves in Pony League Games

The Indians' "As" stretched their winning streak to three games in the latest action from the Mount Prospect Pony League.

O'Keefe worked on the mound in a 10-4 victory over the Cubs with 10 strikeouts and some lusty offensive support from Rick Henderson who had three hits.

The Indians bombed the Braves on Sunday 10-4 with Henderson turning in a brilliant mound effort, striking out 16. Rick also furnished the long ball with a home run and double. Carponelli of the Indians also had a homer and double.

IN TWO tight games the Yankee "As" edged the Cardinals 6-5 and the hard-luck Braves 12-11. The Cubs whipped the Cards in their game Saturday.

In "B" action the Braves topped the Yankees 11-10 with Jim Simoni picking up the decision. Big batter for the Braves was Ken Vomacka with a grand slam homer and another two-run shot.

The Braves' "Bs" presented their fathers with a resounding 24-4 victory over the Indians Sunday. "Kip" Ball pitched three-hit baseball for the victors, and Joe Koza, Ken Vomacka, Doug White, and Jim Simoni furnished the hitting power with three hits each.

The defensive play of Ken Cherwin, Dave Kruger, Stu Gomm, and Dave Riggs was outstanding in leading the Braves to their fourth victory in five outings this season.

Arlington's Legion Nine Clubs Viator

What a difference a day mtkes.

Checked with just one hit by Mount Prospect's Jim Hogarty the previous night, Arlington's American Legion nine exploded for ten safeties and an effortless 12-1 victory over St. Viator last Thursday in another Ninth District test.

Rog Lindstrom supplied the big blow, a home run in the initial frame, but six other boys chipped in with base hits as Coach Lloyd Meyer's outfit posted its second straight league victory.

LINDSTROM added a single to his home run and Paul Splittorff and Joe Mueller also rapped out two hits each. Splittorff had a double in the fifth stanza.

Ross Retterer, Jim Ewart, Mike Frase, and Vince Furlong rounded out the Arlington offense with single hits each. Ross had a second inning double before relinquishing his catching duties to Ewart.

Four pitchers worked for Arlington with Furlong starting. Following Vince to the mound were Splittorff, Gary Spencer, and Steve Martin. Furlong yielded the only two St. Viator safeties, first inning blows by Chuck Heinrich and Mike Graczyk.

LINDSTROM'S homer supplied Arlington with its first run and from then on there was no stopping Meyer's aggregation. Arlington scored in every inning but the seventh and had base hits in each frame.

St. Viator counted its only marker in the fifth without the aid of a base knock. Jim Murray rode across after getting on via an error. An infield out and another boot sent Murray scampering home.

Illini Intact For '62

CHAMPAIGN, ILL., (UPI)—The University of Illinois announced today that not a single varsity football player failed to make the grade scholastically during the past semester.

It was a reversal from last spring when Pete Elliott's squad was shredded by ineligibilities. The wholesale losses, coupled with heavy fall injuries, led to the first winless season in 72 years of football at Illinois.

Only a handful of freshmen, only one of whom figured on the traveling squad, was lost.

The score for this semester and the winter semester, was two reserve players lost, giving the team its most successful academic year.

CHUCK PEDERSEN

Golf Series Coming

Chuck Pedersen, Class A, P.G.A. professional at Rolling Green Country Club, will initiate another series of golf columns next week in Paddock Publications' chain of suburban newspapers.

Pedersen has conducted his instructive columns for the past three years. He will concentrate on the bad shots of golf this summer — pulling, pushing, topping, etc.

A graduate of Arlington High School in 1953, Chuck has been the pro at Rolling Green Country Club on Rand Road in Arlington Heights for three years. He took over for Matt Jans after serving as the latter's assistant for five years.

At 27 Pedersen is one of the youngest club professionals in the area, but his age doesn't detract from his recognized ability as an outstanding teacher of the game.

Watch for his first column nextweek.

Seven Victories Top LL Mark

Braves, Stags, Solons Boast Most Wins in Arlington's Little League

It was another big week in the Arlington Heights Little League.

Blessed with ideal weather, a host of games found their way into the record book with the usual combination of excellent pitching, hitting, and all-round play.

Following the latest action in the extensive Arlington summer program, the Braves, Stags, and Solons are the "winningest" teams with each posting seven victories in league play. However, the Solons can't claim a first place ranking despite their 7-1 mark.

THE ROYALS hold the top rung in the Southwest Intermediate league with a 6½-½ standard. The Solons are right behind at 7-1.

Victories number six and seven for the Solons were effortless conquests of the Huskies and Marlins.

Bill Tully was the winning pitcher as the Solons bumped the Huskies 9-2. Todd Behrens hit a home run for the losers. Tom O'Hara got the win as the Solons blanked the Marlins 11-0. The Solons scored six runs in the second inning with Tully's triple and O'Hara's homer the long blows. Kurt Thomson also hit a homer for the winners.

With Bob Stigger hurling a neat five-hitter and Jerry Smith leading the offensive attack with a homer, triple, and single, the Marlins posted a 12-3 victory over the Barons. Joe Schneller also homered for the Marlins as did Mark Richter for the Barons.

Scoring three runs in the top half of the fifth, the Huskies and Terriers battled to a 6-6 deadlock. Ken Gabrielson and Johnny Lister hit triples for the Huskies.

IN THE SOUTHWEST Juniors division the Jays bombed the Buckeyes 14-9 for their first victory of the season, and the Jets posted a 12-2 win over the Padres. Mark Brown bested Steve Moore with Tom Harris and Glenn Abel cracking

Eight Encounters

Arlington's Legion Outfit in Busy Week

Inactivity isn't one of the problems facing the Arlington Heights American Legion team in 1962.

In the latest week of competition Coach Lloyd Meyer's busy crew engaged in eight contests, posting four victories and four setbacks.

Five of those encounters were Ninth District affairs, and Arlington came up with three victories over Mount Prospect, St. Viator, and Hoffman Estates.

Accounts of the games with Mount Prospect and St. Viator appear elsewhere.

MORTON OF Cicero came to town for a non-league contest and walked off with a 10-2 victory. The visitors rapped pitchers Roland Oberg and Steve Martin for 11 safeties with Martin absorbing the brunt of their attack. Oberg departed after a yield of two runs and two hits.

Arlington reached the Morton hurlers for six hits, including a double and single by Rog Lindstrom, who has been wielding a big bat for the locals thus far this summer.

Indicative of the futility of Arlington's attack was in the third frame when successive hits by Oberg, Ken Layden, and Joe Wertheimer resulted in only one run and failed to kick off any king-sized rally.

Russ Ward tallied the second and final run in the seventh after getting on with a walk.

Score by innings:

Morton	002	044	0—10-11
Arlington	001	000	1— 2- 6

FOLLOWING successive victories over St. Viator and Mount Prospect, Arlington ran into a potent Park Ridge attack and fell, 8-2. Southpaw Bill Munzel, who pitched Maine East's sophs to the West Suburban Conference title, handcuffed Arlington with only two hits.

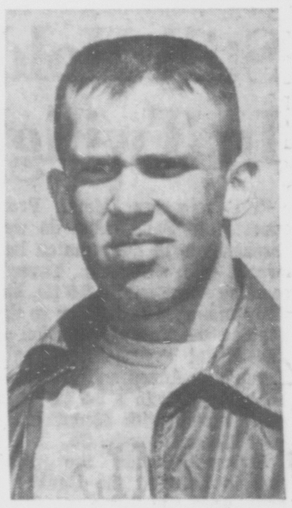
Munzel had a no-hitter going until the sixth when Ray Miller slapped out a single. Arlington's final hit was a leadoff triple by Mike Frase in the seventh frame, and this led to Arlington's second and final marker.

Paul Splittorff tallied the initial run in the sixth after reaching base on an error.

Park Ridge got to Oberg and Vince Furlong for nine hits, four in a fifth inning that resulted in four runs.

Score by innings:

Park Ridge	020	141	0—8-9
Arlington	000	001	1—2-2



ROG LINDSTROM

PALATINE bombed Arlington's John Lane in a district encounter and went to it again last week with a convincing 12-6 victory over the locals.

The hosts rapped out 14 hits over six frames in coasting to the six-run triumph. Arlington reached Palatine's Wayne Kehe for five hits, including a three-run home run by Layden.

Kehe went the route for Palatine while Lane and Oberg toiled for Arlington. Donahue and Helms were the big swingers for the victors with three hits each and Dettinger rapped a third inning home run.

Score by innings:

Arlington	020	103	0— 6- 5
Palatine	403	302	*—12-14

IN A SUNDAY doubleheader Arlington posted a 7-6 victory over Downers Grove after falling 10-7.

Downers scored seven runs on only two hits in the fourth inning of its 10-7 decision.

Arlington jumped off to an early 3-0 lead on a walk, error, and single by Miller but didn't score again until the fifth when Layden slapped a triple, Lindstrom a double, and Furlong a single.

Furlong's double brought in Layden with Arlington's seventh and final marker in the sixth. Vince had three hits in the contest.

Splittorff and Furlong worked on the hill for Arlington with Bruce Howat and Wolf toiling for Downers Grove.

Score by innings:

Arlington	300	031	0— 7-10
Downers	020	710	*—10- 5

MARTIN and Lane combined to check Downers in the nightcap 7-6 with successive home runs by Layden and Lindstrom in the third highlighting the decision.

Lindstrom continued his impressive hitting with another homer in the fifth and Retterer chipped in with a four-bagger. Lindstrom's second circuit clout proved to be the game's decisive run.

Score by innings:

Arlington	312	200	0—7-8
Downers	022	200	0—6-9

BASEBALL WAS set back a few years Monday evening as Arlington massacred an outmanned Hoffman Estates club, 32-1. (At least that was the number of runs clearly evident in the score book).

Any attempt to report how the runs were scored would border on the impossible. Layden did have a home run for the long blow with pitcher Spencer knocking out a triple.

Hoffman Estates scored one run in the first on two walks, a hit, and error and didn't collect another safety until the fourth.

Gunnell's Gaine On Field in Golf Play at Rob Roy

Gunnell's Restaurant increased their lead to 3½ points in the Rob Roy Tuesday Night League under the leadership of No. 4 man, Dick Hanselman, who shot a masterful round of 44-10—34. This gave him low net honors and two of the 6 points for the leaders in this opportune conquest of a strong Prospect Heights Pharmacy team.

As the half way mark is reached (the next round of play being position night) the restaurant team with Berney Magneson, Irv Rybicki, Warren Ervin and Dick Hanselman loom up as a formidable aggregation who have only one thought in mind and that is to steamroller every opponents who has the misfortune to tangle with this sharpshooting foursome.

Rand Henry Sunoco Station remained in second place as a result of a slim 4½ to 2½ victory over a scrappy Kirchhoff Insurance gang. Art Bradley, shooting as an alternate in the No. 1 slot, gave a big boost to the Rand Henry team by carding a 43-8—35 for low net honors in this encounter.

RODEWALD Farm Dairy ran into a fighting mad "last place" Webber Paint team and managed a 3½-all tie. Blomquist, No. 3 Webber man, and Meyer, also No. 3 for the Dairy boys, tied with low net 35s in this tussle.

Low gross honors for the evening were divided between three players all with 39s — Bob Noble, Norvel Funk and Red Ackerman.

DRIVING A 1962 CORVETTE (foreground) Lew Draper of Inverness placed fifth in "A" Production Class last weekend at Elkhart Lake, Wis. in the June Sprints. Draper finished eighth over-all in his first national race. Earlier this year he raced at Wilmotte Hills, Wis. and Lawrenceville, Ill.

25-Lap Main Event

Bill Strom Repeats Victory at Speedway

Bill Strom, West Allis, defending champion, became the first driver to score a double victory at the Waukegan Speedway as he came home the winner in the 25-lap main event for the modified stocks before 2,750 persons as the powerful modifieds staged their sixth program of the season. Strom had scored his first victory on opening night, May 13.

Strom had started second row inside and took the lead at the drop of the green flag, but he was forced to battle Bob Ratajczyk, Milwaukee, for most the distance. Ratajczyk took over on the 3rd, 4th and 5th laps, lost it to Strom on the 6th, regained it for the 7th circuit, but then relinquished it for good on the 8th time around.

The night's fastest qualifier and top favorite, Eddie Stillman, also of Milwaukee, and the current point leader in this year's championship race, lost considerable ground early in the event when slower cars nearly spun and collided in front of him. He was forced to a near stop, losing several of the valuable positions he had already gained and finished a weak ninth. Paul Feldner, Colgate, took third. Speed for the event was recorded at 49.56 mph over the hard, dry slippery oval.

WINNER OF the 15-lap semi feature was Elkhorn, Wis., driver Larry Leach who captured his first checkered flag of the season. He took the lead on the 5th lap and was never again challenged as he sped to victory averaging 49.34 mph, and finishing a quarter-lap ahead of second place Milt Curcio of Racine. Curcio had battled early leader Harold Wade, Waukegan, for the position for several laps after Wade had lost the lead to Leach. On the 13th lap Curcio took the position and held it by a slim margin to the finish.

The night's action got off to a swift start, when Bob Norman of Trevor, Wis., spun out in the first 10-lap heat, taking Dick Vanderspool, Grayslake and Steve Stevens, Lake Villa, with him. Stevens and Vanderspool sailed into the concrete wall as newcomer, Earl Mulkings, Racine, took the lead. On the 6th lap, however, Mulkins drifted too wide, hit the two stalled machines and was out of any further competition, as another Racine driver, Russ Reynolds, went on for the win.

Ron Larsen, Racine came from the rear to pass pole sitter, Bill Strom on the 8th lap and win at an average speed of 49.28 mph. Stillman did the same thing in the fourth heat, passing teammate Ratajczyk on the ninth circuit and took the win at the fastest speed of the night; 50.79 mph.

A SPECIAL trophy dash for the top six qualifiers was staged as a father's day extra and an exciting race it was too, as Don Sorce of West Allis, beat off the last lap challenges of Stillman in a very exciting finish to win the event and set a six lap record of 51.22 mph.

Dennis Burgan, Zion, scored a last turn victory to win the 12 lap sportsmen feature after leader John Johnson of Milwaukee was bumped out of contention by Lee Mayfield, Round Lake, while Johnson was attempting to lap Mayfield. The event was stopped in the 8th lap when Tom Ketchum, Crystal Lake, rolled his car over in the south turn. He was not injured.

Track Manager Mike Kaishian has announced a field of some 60 cars and drivers that are expected to participate as modified and sportsmen stock car racing moves into its seventh big week, next Sunday night, June 24, at the Waukegan Speedway. Headlining a list of top modified stars will be the current point leader, and the 1958 and 1959 track champion, Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee.

Sportsmen racing for the strictly stock class of machines will also be featured. Time trials will begin at 7:15 with racing getting under way at 8:30 p.m. The track is located just west of Waukegan on Washington street.

Bankers Falter, Still Hold Lead In Twilight Play

The very best Mount Prospect State Bank could do was break even in their match last week with Kruse's Tavern, coming home with a 5-5 tie, but they managed to hold on to the lead in the Tuesday division of the Mount Prospect Twilight League as Annen and Busse also came in with a 5-5 tie after their match with Mount Prospect Electric Constr. Co.

However, while the point margin between the Bankers and Annen and Busse remained the same, Winkelman's Shell Service came home with a 7½-2½ victory over Licht's Paint Store and managed to squeeze between the two, taking over second place and relegating the Realtors to third.

Meanwhile, our friends from Phil's Pure Oil, after faltering for two sessions, broke back into the picture with a very satisfactory 8-2 triumph over Golden's Food Shop, which moved the Oilers into fourth place only 2-2/3 points behind the league leaders.

OTHER winners for the evening were Wille Lumber and Fuel, who eked-out 6-4 over Kersting's Garden Center, and Kirchhoff Insurance who set back Keefer's Pharmacy by a similar 6-4 margin.

Low gross scores were posted by Len Johnson, 36, Jim Driscoll, 38, and Walt Double, 39. Birdies were reported by Len Johnson on 1 and 9, Ken Sophie on 10, and Jim Driscoll on 13 and 17.

Anne Heuer Is Arlington Entry for Miss Illinois

Anne Heuer, a Memphis, Tenn., native who has done a lot of traveling in her 19 years, will represent Arlington Heights in the Miss Illinois pageant June 27-30 at Elk Grove.

The winner of the state contest will compete in the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 3 and 4.

A June graduate of Prospect High School, Miss Heuer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. David Heuer, 102 S. Brighton Place.

BEFORE MOVING to Arlington Heights in 1960, the Heuers lived in Durban, South Africa, for nine years. From 1948 to 1951 they lived in Havana, Cuba.

During these years they traveled along the east coast of Africa, in Egypt and through much of Europe.

Heuer is employed by International Harvester.

The Miss Illinois contest should be "lots of fun and a wonderful experience," Miss Heuer said. She has gained much experience through appearances before the public and on radio and television since being chosen Miss Arlington Heights last September.

JUDGING ON the local and state levels, based on beauty, talent and poise, is patterned on the Miss America contest. The 47 Illinois contestants will participate in talent, bathing suit and formal gown divisions.

Miss Heuer plans to do readings similar to those she did for the Arlington Heights contest, with some variation, for the state pageant. She read two poems by Elizabeth Barrett Browning in the local competition.

But the village beauty queen is not set on an acting career of any sort; this fall she will enroll in nurses' training at the University of Colorado at Boulder. (A

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY

I'm one of those little people with big ears that grown ups are always talking about. I keep quiet and listen. That is how I learned about advertising. I know all about how my parents use Want Ads. Like the time they ran an ad to sell my outgrown playpen, bathinette and baby bed. Then they used the money to buy me a good used bike for my birthday. They saw it advertised in another Want Ad. When I see one of these ads that says "Want Ads Are For Everybody," I know what it means and I believe it.

Q. I have attended two bridal showers on the same girl which of course entailed two gifts. Am I supposed to give her a wedding gift too?

A. Since you were a close enough friend of the bride to be invited to two showers, you are also friend enough to give her a wedding gift. Under these circumstances, the shower gifts can be much smaller and less expensive than the subsequent wedding gift.

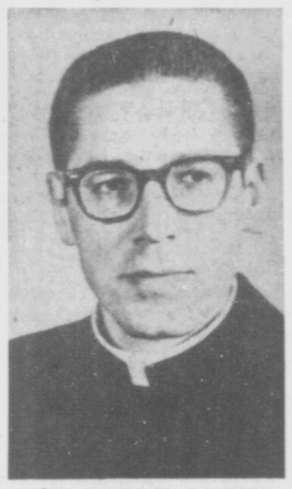
Priest Celebrates First Mass Here

The Rev. Jules H. Baumer, son of Capt. and Mrs. Harry W. Baumer of 614 S. Vail Ave., Arlington Heights, celebrated his first solemn mass last Sunday in Our Lady of the Wayside Church.

A reception for the newly ordained priest of the Society of Jesus was held in the parish hall immediately following.

Assistant priest for the solemn mass was the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor of Our Lady of the Wayside Church. The Rev. Joseph J. Reikas, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul Church, Rockford, was deacon; and the Rev. William A. Sullivan of St. Ignatius High School, Cleveland, Ohio, delivered the sermon.

THE MOST Rev. Alexander M. Zaleski, auxiliary bishop of Detroit, conferred the powers of the priesthood on Father Baumer and ten other Jesuits in the chapel of Colombiere College, Clarkston, Mich., last Thursday.



REV. JULES H. BAUMER

Born in Chicago in 1931, Father Baumer attended St. Margaret Mary's grammar school and Loyola Academy there. He was graduated from Loyola High School in Los Angeles in 1949. That same year he entered the Society of Jesus and took four years of ascetical and classical studies at Milford Novitiate, Milford, Ohio.

In 1953 he transferred to West Baden College, Ind., for three years of philosophical studies.

FATHER BAUMER was a member of the faculty of Loyola Academy, Chicago, in 1956 and from 1957 to 1959 of St. Ignatius High School, Cleveland. In 1959 he returned to West Baden College to begin his study of Theoloy.

He is the brother of William J. Baumer of 1515 N. Vail Ave., Arlington Heights. (A

Q. Is it necessary to have a train on a white satin wedding dress?

A. This depends upon the formality of the wedding – and, of course, upon the bride's wishes in the matter.

Simple Arithmetic Plus a Simple Plan Can Produce Up to 4½% Earnings–

Here's How:

OPENING YOUR ACCOUNT

You decide the handiest amount to save. In a Statement of Intention, you indicate that you will make monthly additions in this amount for not less than 36 nor more than 96 months.

No addition can be more than 60 days late, or more than 12 months in advance. (All savings and earnings should be left untouched at least three years.)

HOW THE EARNINGS ARE PAID

Regular Earnings — Funds in a Monthly Savings Bonus Account continue to reap our basic savings rate. Regular earnings are added to your account on every dividend payment date.

¼% Bonus Earnings — The first three years of our Bonus Account, funds earn an extra ¼ % yearly. The bonus is credited in your savings book on every dividend date, including the earnings distribution that comes after the end of this three-year period.

YOUR BONUS INCREASES TO ½%

. . . at the beginning of the new earnings period that starts following your 36th monthly addition. You earn the ½ % bonus as long as you continue saving, until the contract matures as indicated in your Statement of Intention — a maximum of 96 months after opening your account.

If you wish to continue monthly additions beyond the number of months indicated, you may request an extension of your bonus earnings arrangement.

WITHDRAWAL OF FUNDS

If you withdraw any funds before your contract matures, the bonus arrangement is cancelled and you get all regular and extra earnings credited to that time. No penalty for withdrawing. Savings left intact continue earning our basic savings rate.

If you discontinue monthly additions at any time, but leave your balance untouched, you retain every penny of earnings credited to your account. The bonus arrangement is terminated, effective after the previous earnings distribution.

400 Attend Gas Meeting

Some 400 stockholders and guests attended Northern Illinois Gas Co. annual stockholders meeting June 12.

All nine NI-Gas directors were re-elected. Stockholders also approved a charter amendment broadening and modernizing the utility's statement of corporate purposes. A stockholder proposal relating to preemptive rights was rejected by the stockholders.

It also was disclosed at the meeting that the NI-Gas board of directors earlier in the day had authorized the utility to establish a line of credit with five major Chicago banks (Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company of Chicago, First National Bank of Chicago, Harris Trust & Savings Bank, LaSalle National Bank and Northern Trust Company) for up to $20 million.

Marvin Chandler, NI-Gas president, said that the utility's cash requirements for the balance of the year could be met through short-term bank loans instead of through permanent debt which NI-Gas earlier had planned to sell. (BB

August Folkman Retires After 27 Years With Firm

August L Folkman, 807 S. Busse Road, Mount Prospect, retired June 1 after 27 years with Stewart-Warner Electronics, Division of Stewart-Warner Corp.

A resident of Arlington Heights for many years, he began his career in August 1934 as a radio tester and analyzer. Later he was transferred to the Test Equipment Department where he helped to design and build equipment used for testing radios and the components used in the sets.

In 1942 Mr. Folkman was promoted to supervisor of the radio production lines and held this position until 1948. With the advent of television and his extensive background in the electronics field, he was put in charge of the production of Stewart-Warner television sets.

IN 1942, WITH the coming of complex electronics systems, he returned to the Test Equipment Department where he has helped to design and build complex testing devices for the Military and Industrial Electronic systems produced by Stewart-Warner.

Employees on the floor where Mr. Folkman worked helped him to celebrate with cake and coffee and gift of money and a travel alarm clock. Members of his department held a dinner in his honor, with his wife, Vera, as a special guest.

MR. FOLKMAN and his wife are the parents of four children, Vance, Daune, Vera Green and Maynie Tobler and have seven grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Folkman are building a new home in Shawano, Wis., and plan to retire there after October 1 (BB

Quarterly Payment Begun at Oak Park

John P. Domeier, president and chairman of the board, Oak Park Federal Savings, has announced that the association will begin payment of earnings on a quarterly basis effective July 1.

The new program is more convenient to the saver because previously he waited six months for earnings to be credited to his account. Most savers prefer to wait until the end of the earnings period to withdraw from their account so that their earnings will not be interrupted. Now, earnings will be credited to his account four times a year—June 30, Sept. 30, Dec. 31, and March 31, according to Domeier.

Another advantage is that when earnings are compounded, they become a part of the account balance twice as frequently. The earnings themselves begin working twice as soon, and the account yields a higher profit than when earnings are computed semi-annually.nually.

The association's current rate is 4¼ per cent on regular savings, and 4¾ per cent on the two bonus accounts.

Oak Park Federal Savings was organized in 1934—the same year that an act of Congress, created the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, which insures savings accounts up to $10,000. The firm started with less than $100,000 in resources, reaching the $1,000,000 point by 1940, and $130,000,000 in 1962. (BB

Hills-McCanna Pays Tribute to Hedberg

Hills-McCanna Co. officials recently paid tribute to its senior vice-president, John Hedberg, who retired May 1 after 41 years with that company.

Hedberg, who lives with his wife, Margaret, at 621 Ironwood, came to the United States from Sweden in 1916. He joined Hills-McCanna in 1921 as a toolmaker and later served as tool room foreman, shop superintendent, and foundry superintendent. In 1951 he was elected vice president in charge of manufacturing.

In accepting the best wishes of his asssociates at a special luncheon, Hedberg said: "It has been most rewarding to me to have been able to join a small shop with less than 30 employees and see it grow to a vigorous company operating internationally and providing steady employment for nearly 500 men and women. My decision to come to the United States as a young man has been more than justified."

An avid sports fan, Hedberg has long been a staunch supporter of Chicago's football and baseball teams. His favorite hobby and he expects to spend much of his leisure time with rod and reel. (BB

Newspapers Vital To Food Ads: Exec

BOSTON, MASS., (UPI) — A food store executive said last week that newspaper advertising is the cheapest and most effective method of moving volumes of food at the retail level.

Orville W. Johler, vice president in charge of advertising and merchandising for 5,000 IGA Food Stores throughout the nation, said "There is no substitute for the printed word."

Johler's remarks came at the opening of an advertising seminar for New England IGA advertising managers.

"There is no substitute for the printed word. It remains a ready reference for as long as it is desired. Both radio and television advertising, unless you can afford their expensive saturation techniques, are too costly, as it is seen by the potential buyer for a few fleeting moments.

"Television and radio are good media for those firms that have big budgets. If we are to sell food competitively priced, the cost of our advertising is something we must watch closely." (BB

McDonald's Shows Hamburger Popular

The lowly hamburger has become big business—it is the biggest single meat item sold in America today, whether in restaurants or over the meat counter.

Its popularity is attested in the growth of the McDonald's chain of hamburger restaurants, which has grilled 600 million hamburgers since starting in business as a chain operation with two units in 1955.

In the past year McDonald's put an estimated 19,800,000 pounds of beef between 16,500,000 dozens of buns, which at 15 cents each plus drinks (including 4,125,000 gallons of milkshakes) added up to more than $54 million in gross sales.

"Science" is the answer given by Ray A. Kroc, who is board chairman of the McDonald's chain and the guiding force behind its growth story.

"We worked out the precise formula of making hamburger to the public's liking, from the exact size to the catsup and mustard proportions," Kroc noted. "In applying science to the hamburger, we did not forget the most important factor of all—taste."

Everything from the size of the bun (diameter 3¾ inches) to how much onion goes on a burger (¼ ounce) is precisely spelled out in a confidential 84-page specifications book on McDonald's operations. A research laboratory was set up to design special equipment to speed hamburger making (a mechanical device sprays exactly so much mustard and catsup on each burger).

McDonald's even has a Hamburger University, the only one of its kind, located in Elk Grove, Ill., where operators and managers of its units take a three-week course in a regular classroom with blackboards and cutaway models of restaurant equipment. Upon completion of the course, there is a graduation ceremony with each student awarded an M.H. degree-or Master of Hamburgerology. (BB

THE NASSAU is one of five new Miller Builders holiday series model homes in Brentwood, Des Plaines. This style has three bedrooms, two full baths, attached garage, full house central air conditioning and a finished recreation room. Every model, furnished, is available with up to five bedrooms, two and one-half full baths and full-house air conditioning. Firm Pres. Al Miller said, every home includes the air conditioning because "A thorough research was made of home owners and that was the most important feature purchased after the home had been occupied."

Symons Manufactures More Than 200 Items

Symons Manufacturing Co. of Des Plaines is today the world's largest producer of forms and forming equipment for poured-in-place concrete construction.

It manufactures over 200 separate items related to the concrete construction industry.

THE COMPANY was originally founded in 1901 in Kansas City, Mo., by A. H. Symons and was known as Symons Clamp & Manfacturing Co., The word "clamp" denoted a product invented by Symons and the first to be produced by the company, the Symons column clamp, which is still produced today.

In 1917 Symons moved the operation to Chicago. During this period the safety shore was invented, and it continues to be a basic piece of construction equipment.

After World War II Symons expanded the line and began the manufacture of hardware and ties for all types of wall forming.

IN MAY 1961, on a 24-acre site in Des Plaines, Illinois, we began to build a 100,000 square foot office and factory to be used as manufacturing and administrative headquarters. At this location the company already had a 10,000 square foot warehouse and 60,000 square feet of paved space for storage.

The move to the new location was made last December, when the expansion of the firm was emphasized by dropping the name "clamp" from the title.

Symons Manufacturing Co. has 300 employees, of which 129 are in the Production Department. The 32-man sales force operation has expanded to 11 branch offices which stretch across the country. These warehouse facilities (in addition to Des Plaines) are located in Atlanta, Baltimore, Cleveland, Dallas, Kansas City, Kearny, New Jersey, Minneapolis, Oakland, Seattle and South El Monte, Calif.

Symons also sells its products through 34 dealers located in other major marketing centers throughout the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico. (BB

Home Building Permits Drop

Permits issued for single family homes in the Chicago metropolitan area fell below last year's norm during the month of May, 1962, marking the sixth consecutive month that such permits were down, according to a release of a survey reported by Bell Savings and Loan Association, Chicago,

In contrast to this apparent trend, the number of suburban apartment units constructed rose to an all time high for the month. Suburban apartment volume shows an increase of 87 per cent over last year's total for the month.

DURING THE month 2,305 home building permits were issued, a decrease of 142 compared to the reports of May, 1961. This plummet resulted in a $3 million decrease in evaluated construction.

Northwest suburban Arlington Heights gave rise to 64 new homes, to lead the suburbs in construction and total building value with an assessment of $1,458,320.

Arlington Heights, Addison, Des Plaines, Itasca, Palatine, and Wheeling were among the few communities to net increases on the survey chart.

Warranting fewer permits were Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Mount Prospect, Northbrook, Rolling Meadows, Roselle, Schaumburg, Streamwood, and Wood Dale. (BB

It takes care and attention to keep trees and shrubs healthy and growing through the summer.

WATER is probably more important than any other single factor in keeping plants growing in hot weather. Large plants need lots of water. Trees or shrubs planted this year will particularly need watering throughout the season. In watering these plants, the soil should be soaked at least a foot deep. This can be done by placing a hose at the base of the plant and letting it run slowly for several hours. Root soakers can be used which place the water directly in the soil. Watering once every ten days should give the plants plenty of water.

Root soakers can also be used to advantage on established trees and shrubs. These plants will not need watering as often, but a good soaking is advisable whenever a week of hot weather occurs without rain. If unsufficient rain falls to soak the soil, watering may be advisable anyway.

WEEDS often interfere with the natural development of trees and shrubs by competing for moisture and nutrients. Weeds should be pulled out or chopped out with a hoe. Be careful not to dig too deeply into the soil around the plants as this may injure the smaller feeder roots which are quite near the surface even under large trees.

INSECTS will cause a lot of damage to ornamental plants this year. Red spider mites will be particularly damaging to evergreens with a strong jet of water once a week, and spraying with a miticide such as aramite or kelthane will help to prevent this damage.

Bagworms damage deciduous as well as evergreen plants. Lead arsenate or malathion will control them.

APHIDS are particularly destructive on decisuous plants and are quite annoying due to a stocky material, secreted while they feed, which soon covers cars or anything else parked under trees for any length of time. Aphids can be controlled by spraying with lindane.

BORERS — Most borers that attack trees or shrubs are the larvae of bettles or moths. They hatch from eggs deposited on the bark of a tree or shrub. Soon after hatching, they bore into the wood of the plant. Healthy, vigorous trees are unattractive to borers. Newly planted trees suffering from transplanting shock, and older trees growing in unfavorable places, where little moisture or food is available become attractive to the pests.

CONTROL — Prevention of borer attack is easier than a cure. To discourage borers, keep the trunks of newly set trees wrapped with heavy paper for the first two years, or until the trees are established and growing vigorously. Special paper, 3 to 4 inches wide, in rolls suitable for spiral wraps can be purchased from your garden store. Start the wrap just below the lowest branch and spiral it downward to the ground. Heap soil around the base of the tree to close the space between the wrap and the ground. Secure the wrapping in place with stout twine.

Borer attack can be prevented, for the most part, by a DDT spray applied to tree trunks: 4 pounds of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder or one gallon of 25 per cent DDT emulsificable concentrate to 100 gallons of water. Spray at monthly intervals throughout the summer to kill the young borers as they hatch from the eggs. Application of DDT to the entire tree is not recommended unless necessary because it may result in serious infestations of mites and aphids. A durable insecticide deposit can be made from DDT, powdered skim milk and water. To a mixture of 4 parts of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder and 1 part of powdered skim milk, add enough water to make a smooth slurry that can be applied to the trunks of the trees with a paint brush. Dead and dying branches should be pruned from infested trees and burned. Borers in the wood can be killed if the tunnels are cleaned out with a piece of wire and carbon disulfide or nicotine sulfate is injected into the holes with an oil can. The holes should be plugged with putty after treatment. Carbon disulfide is highly inflammable and can be ignited by a spark of cigarette.

Arlington Man Earns Architecture Degree

An Arlington Heights student is one of the first three to earn bachelor of architecture degrees from Ohio University at Athens.

He is John A. Kincheloe, son of the Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Kincheloe, 703 S. Highland Ave.

The other graduates are John S. Cathers of Canal Winchester, Ohio, and Thomas C. Harrigan of Zanesville, Ohio.

The five-year degree program was established two years ago as an expansion of a previous curriculum leading to a degree in fine arts, with a major in architecture. All three of the first graduates received the latter in 1961 but continued on to the architectural degree.

All students now enrolled in the School of Architecture will be candidates for the five-year professional degree in the future, according to Director Walter A. Taylor.

The new professional curriculum in architecture incorporates many of the official recommendations of a report of the Carnegie Corporation - American Institute of Architect's Survey of Education and Registration, for which Taylor was coordinator and managing editor. CC

Make Jaunt to Illinois Beach State Park

Located North of Waukegan, Rt. 42

(Here is the sixth in a series of articles prepared for Paddock Publications by Mrs. Connie B. Howes of Northbrook, a free lance writer. The series, entitled "We're Off in Chicagoland," is concerned with places of interest to take the children.)

by CONNIE B. HOWES

What could be more fun than on a warm summer day hopping into the family car and driving upstate to the Illinois Beach State Park for a day at the beach?

The main entrance to the park is located on Route 42, north of Waukegan. The park is open every day of the year. No admission is charged.

Originally opened in 1931 as a private park, the state acquired the 1,408 acres of land in 1945 to be opened in 1948 as the first public beach in the State of Illinois.

The dunes which comprise the area were once part of Lake Michigan. As the last glacier receded over 25,000 years ago, the lake dropped twice in 20-foot stages, thus causing the unique formation of flats and dunes. The plant life in this area still shows marks of the last glacier period.

The land has had many uses over the years. In 1915 it was the location of one of the Charlie Chaplin movies. A gravel pit was once operated in the area by a railroad. Many companies once used the lake ice to fill their ice houses. During World War II the army used the land for combat training for troops from Fort Sheridan.

EARLY SETTLERS in the Zion-Waukegan area found remains of over 30 Indian workshop sites with implements which were used for hunting, fishing and war. Traces were also found showing that these Indians raised corn in the area. In the 1600's the land was visited by many French explorers.

The beach at the park offers excellent bathing. It is 3½ miles long, from 100 to 150 yards wide. Three new modern beach houses have been built for the public convenience, one of which will be opened this year along with the original facilities built by the state.

Beachcombers will love walking along the unbroken shore line. A children's playground adjoins the beach by the main parking area.

THE CENTER of the park is the main picnicking area. Ample tables are provided for your use. Although there are a few fireplaces, you are wiser if you bring a grille for cooking from home. Due to the scarcity of fire wood, it is also advisable to bring charcoal for your fire.

The north end of the park offers facilities for tent and trailer camping. This area provides picnic tables. In the future a building is planned with central toilet and shower facilities as well as laundry equipment. At present the campers use the facilities in the beach house across the road from the camping area.

Permits are required for camping, and they may be obtained upon arrival from the park custodian, Stephen Hotham, or in advance by writing the Illinois Beach State Park, Box 6, Zion, Ill.

JUST SOUTH of the central area stands the new Illinois Beach Lodge. The beautiful 96-room hotel commands a panoramic view of the beach and the flats. Here you will find accommodations for the family, a dining room, snack bar, and gift shop. The state plans to shortly announce a new concessionaire for the lodge. This should greatly improve its facilities, making it an ideal spot for a family holiday weekend or longer.

The entire south of the park is the nature area. A road winds through the dunes and flats here. There are areas you can park and walk to observe the unique flora. This plant life was studied in 1893 by the curator of the Kew Gardens in England who found many interesting varieties of flowers, trees and shrubs which are known nowhere else in the world.

The world's smallest flowering plant grows here, the Wolffia Columbiana which floats just under the surface of the marsh water. Two branches of the Dead River flow through the area. The native Savin Juniper, better known as the Waukegan Juniper, covers many of the dunes.

ROBERT Douglas, the well-known horticulturist, replanted the extreme south end of the park with Austrian and Scotch pines, which have grown large, weatherbeaten and twisted. Seven varieties of roses are native, including the Rosa Blanda, or smooth wild rose, so called because of its lack of thorns.

This park now offers unsurpassed bathing and unique natural dune formations and plant life. The development of the park continued rapidly until recently. It is now at a standstill, theoretically due to lack of funds.

There are some people in the state government who now want to allow numerous concessionaires in the area, building amusement areas and running a miniature train through the nature study area. You can visit the park, have a wonderful day at the beach. Perhaps you will write your State Representative stating your opinion as to the future development.

I personally hope that the present state of natural beauty is allowed to remain untouched, and thus affording the State of Illinois one of the most beautiful parks in the United States.

Church Warns TV Can Be 'Barrier'

ADRIAN, MICH., (UPI) — The Detroit Conference Methodist Board of Christian Social Concerns said last week it believed television might be promoting "passive dependence" and acting as a barrier between family members.

In a report issued at its annual conference here, the board said areas of action for the church must be directed toward the home impact of television — the responsible use in political reporting and development of standards to guide families in using the medium.

The board also took note of a "growing hesitancy" on the part of churches to realistically and directly face the problem of alcohol. (A14

Miss Illinois Finals Broadcast Announced

Mal Bellairs, WBBM disc jockey who will be master of ceremonies during the four-day event, beginning June 27, will host the 15-minute radio broadcast, from 10:45 to 11 p.m.

MAL BELLAIRS

The Miss Illinois air bubble theatre, erected at Arlington Heights and Higgins roads earlier this week, will house the nightly shows.

James B. Snyder Jr., state pageant director from Elk Grove Village, said the 50,000 watt, clear channel facilities will be able to carry the announcement of the winning contestant throughout Illinois.

PEPSI-COLA General Bottler organization of Illinois will sponsor the broadcast.

Maria Beale Fletcher, reigning Miss America, will attend the pageant. Also on hand will be Jackie Bingert, Miss Illinois, 1961.

Snyder said the first three nights of the event will feature talent, swimsuit and evening gown competitions.

THE GIRLS will be competing for $5,000 in scholarships and $3,000 in merchandise prizes.

The girls will arrive June 26 about 2 p.m. Housing will be provided by the Flying Carpet Motor Inn, Mannheim Road, opposite O'Hare International Airport.

Preliminary competitions will begin at 8 p.m., June 27 and continue nightly until June 29, with one-third of the girls in evening gowns, one-third in swimsuits, and one-third in talent presentations each night.

A PARADE, including floats, marching bands and a 55-car motorcade for the girls will pass through Elk Grove Village at 2 p.m., June 30.

Final competition will begin at 8 p.m., June 30, ending in the crowning of Miss Illinois 1962, who will represent the state at the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J., in September. (A-14

Today's Agriculture

by CARL F. MEES
Chairman, County Extension Service

Now that most high school graduations are over, many students are still wondering what the future holds for them. For many this may be the first and most important major decision they have made.

It may be interesting to relate that there are jobs available for 15,000 agricultural college graduates annually, but only about 7,500 are being trained. While it is desirable that those trained in agriculture have a farm background, this is not a requirement.

A profession some students may want to consider is that of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine. It may surprise you to know that out of the graduating class of 31 in Veterinary Medicine at the University of Illinois in 1962 six were from Cook County. This is a substantial number from an urban county.

Those who received the D.V.M. degree from Cook county were: Ronald A. Bankneider of Chicago; Bernard Feldman, Chicago; George Kleist, Calumet City; James Ogden, Homewood, Herbert Preiser, Des Plaines and Robert Russell of Chicago.

Congratulations to this group of fine young graduates.

While driving to the University of Illinois at Urbana last week, I could not help but notice the rotation of crops that farmers were following. Most of the land was in soil depleting crops, but occasionally I saw some very nice fields of sweet clover and alfalfa. I think herein lies the answer to our over production of agricultural products. I would like to see a program developed and followed whereby farmers were encouraged (by incentive payments, if necessary) to convert soil depleting acres to soil conserving acres. This was the idea of the soil bank developed a few years ago, but not continued long enough to be effective.

Sowing land to legumes, is like a bank account, the fertility is there when it is needed. Undoubtedly it is cheaper for the government to store fertility in the soil than excess grain in storage bins. If this were the only item in a farm program, it seems to me that in a few years we could have our production balanced with our needs, agriculture could then operate on a supply and demand basis, and no incentive payment of any kind would be needed to bolster agriculture income.

If production and needs were more nearly in balance it would have a tendency to raise the price consumers pay for food, but not to any noticeable amount, unless there would be a severe setback in production. This has not been the case in the past 20 years. (A14

Be Careful Over July 4 Holiday

Will the Fourth of July leave you with pleasant memories of a holiday well spent, unmarked by accidents and injuries to you and your loved ones? The answer depends upon you.

Children love the loud cracking and sputtering of fireworks and many parents, even through illegal purchase, will place these unpredictable and dangerous gadgets in the hands of their youngsters.

Regret and grief do not compensate for the loss of eyes or fingers, severe burns, or even loss of life.

IT IS DIFFICULT for a child to heed a parent's warning to be careful when natural curiosity is to explore the firecracker that lies silent on the ground. Nor is it possible for the child to understand that the pretty sparkler will do anything more than be beautiful in its dancing lights while clutched in a hand.

Plan for a safe and sane Independence Day celebration. Every neighborhood arranges a public display of gayly colored lights and fireworks, outings, and public entertainments. Take your child to one of these and let him enjoy to the utmost the beauty and excitement.

If an automobile trip is desired, lay out a schedule that requires no high speed driving to get there and back within the time available.

UNFORTUNATELY, many people have the idea that they are the only good drivers on the road and are thus inclined to become careless. They will take chances which lead to accidents.

This is true especially in the hours when the roads are crowded with travelers going away from home or returning, when a slow pace often becomes irksome. Don't mix gasoline and alcohol at any time.

If the day is being spent on or near a lake or stream, precautions should be taken to prevent a tragedy. Even the best swimmers should not get too far away from possible help if they should tire or get a cramp. Obviously, the inexpert swimmer should not get beyond his depth. Don't overload a boat, or move about in one. Check local boating regulations designed for safe operation of boats.

ON A TRIP to the woods, be on the lookout for poisonous weeds. These can spoil an otherwise pleasant holiday. Likewise, be careful of overexposure to the sun.

Adherence to these and other simple rules of conduct—including consideration of the other fellow—will help make the "Fourth" a day of happy memories. (A-14

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Cherries are ripe and are being harvested. Why not a cherry carnival?

The Public Library will be open to all wishing good reading this summer on Thursdays from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Twenty fifth wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Scharringhausen brought many friends and an abundance of gifts; they were married June 17, 1897—she was Miss Caroline Steinmeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Steinmeyer. Their present lovely home was the home of the bridegroom's parents, who carried on the old creamery on the site of the present building.

St. Peter's School picnic will be held Sunday afternoon and evening, June 25, in Meyer's Park. Music, group dancing, drills, games and races will be enjoyed in the afternoon. In the evening a program will be rendered by the three choirs of the church, and Cook County Diplomas will be awarded to 20 graduates.

Six of our "brightest and best" young women graduated from Arlington Heights High School, June 15.

The new Methodist minister, Rev. Mangun, arrived in Arlington Heights on Friday; Saturday he made calls on many members of the congregation; Sunday he preached, conducting two services. Arrangements have been made for a kindergarten in Arlington Heights. The Methodist Sunday School has suggested using its rooms and equipment, but there is no thought of making it a Methodist kindergarten. It is being planned for the good of the community. Supt. Williams of the public school has given his hearty approval of the plan.

PALATINE: Palatine is going to have a real community Fourth of July celebration this year if present plans materialize.

Palatine was never so well oiled. Two cars have been distributed and another is on its way, making 20,000 gallons in all. The cost will total about $1,300, the majority of which is received from vehicle tax. Clerk Hart says that as soon as the oil appeared on our streets, the auto license rush started. This is the first year that the oil is paid for entirely from village funds.

Work on the Gunther residence in the Brodhay subdivision is progressing rapidly. The men are all excellent workers and except for the invasion of some neighbors, friendly bees, there is nothing that ever stops the work. The boys are all in favor of a law keeping all bees outside of the city limits or keeping them at home. As a result of these neighboring bees some of the workmen have refused to work and others have done soonly after sustaining painful injuries. Scarcity of honey may result if these bees are allowed to roam.

Immediate hopes for the relief of the crowded conditions at the Palatine public school by an erection of a new high school building went a glimmering Saturday when the proposition to give the board of education the right to build the building for which the bond issue had previously been approved was decisively beaten by a vote of 414 against and 301 in favor of the new building. 719 votes were cast, the largest vote in the history of the district.

30 Years Ago—June 24, 1932

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: The races start at Arlington Park on June 27, at one of the most beautiful tracks in the world. Many prominent Eastern society persons who came west for the Republican convention, remain over for this premier. That the Democratic conventions open on the same day means that the first week of Arlington will have more than her share of visiting notables.

Arlington village board worked Monday night to devise a way in which protection could be given to the cab companies which give year around service to local people but which are given competition by outside cabs during the race season. If an outside cab discontinues service for a period of ten days any time during the year, the village can recover $3 a day for the period that the cab was not operated. Recovery will be under a $1,000 bond which the code requires must be filed by the cab firm when application for license is made.

The exercises at St. James Church were of unusual importance. The large confirmation class of about 80 with their sponsors, made a large company. This is the first visit of Bishop Sheil to Arlington Heights. The choir sang special numbers impressively, and the decorations were beautiful.

PALATINE: Dr. Frank Orman Beck, who made the graduation talk to the 34 High school graduates, Friday evening, told them that "Education is what you have left after you have forgotten all you learned at school." "True education is something separate from mere class-room teaching." (A-14

Auxiliary Sponsoring 6th Annual Art Fair

BY LUCILE ERNST

The Women's Auxiliary to the McHenry Hospital will sponsor the Sixth Annual Country Art Fair which will be held in McHenry on Friday, June 22, to Sunday, June 24. Some 100 local artists will be represented with oils, watercolors, sculpture and ceramics.

All art fairs are fun to attend and do an enormous amount of good, both for the artists and for those who are exposed to art. I am sure that the McHenry Country Art Fair will be fun. Whether one likes art or not, he should go to McHenry once in a while.

It is strange how one locality can be so different from another although they are relatively near in time and space. McHenry is a world apart. It is a shimmering green gold town, a link in the chain of lakes.

IF THERE IS anything more beautiful than the sun shattering itself into a million shining splinters against the lake it is the moonlight wrinkled on the water and churned into a silver foam.

Excuse my exuberance, but this brings me to the point of my sermon for the day. Nature is, was, and always will be more beautiful than art. Often the sentimentalist will insist that they are the same. I hope I don't sound dogmatic, but they just aren't. They have only one thing in common which I'll get to in a moment.

Anyone and everyone can and does appreciate the beauty of the world around him. It is easy. Even primitive people see beauty in the silent watchful moon and the power of the gods in the sun.

ART IS something quite different. All of nature in essence is simple. It is man which is complex. Art is the nature of the universe as seen and expressed by the complex mind and soul of man. Understanding his expression takes a bit of doing. It is easier not to bother.

I said before that art and nature had one thing in common. As an optimist, I hope they have more, but as a realist, I do know they have a common failing, Fifteenth Century merchandising.

Once I stood with a friend in the moonlight. It was not romantic. My friend was an astute business man who lacked the soul of a poet. Come to think of it, he may not have had a soul at all.

WE STOOD IN the black satin night and the moon smoothly coated the pale white marble pillar beneath my hand. My friend seemed to be lost in the wonder of shadows and silver. "Oh," he groaned, "if you could just bottle it, you could make a fortune."

This sentimental thought has never quite left me. In the industrial world of the Twentieth Century, art and nature stand alone, unbottled, unmerchandised, and unsold.

Nature, I can understand. It can't be restricted. It is free. The moon shines on rich and poor alike and there is no charge. If there were, we would find a way to pay the price.

Art has always been restricted, kept for those with the price to pay. It is still sold as it was in the Fifteenth Century, to those who search it out. Every other commodity I can think of is promoted, merchandised, and made available to the middle class who had no idea that they ever even needed it.

POOR PEOPLE own automobiles worth several thousand dollars. And what do they own in the line of art. Nothing. And what do they think about art? Nothing. They don't think about it at all. No one ever sold them art.

I hope they never bottle art but I do wish for the sake of the artists that art could be sold to the people, that a painting or a carving would be as necessary as a bottle of coke or a can of beer. (BILL

Singing Star Guest At Studio Open House

Anita Bryant is the winningest loser in the history of the Miss America beauty pageant. As second runner-up in 1959, she really won; if she had won first place, she would have been too busy to accept the wonderful offers which led to her being a Columbia recording star.

Miss Bryant, a personal friend of Roy Baumann, will be a guest at the Roy Baumann Music Studios, 24 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, Saturday, June 23, during an open house from 1 to 5 p.m.

Miss Bryant qualifies for several "firsts." She entered the Miss America beauty pageant as the first contestant to be sponsored by a church, the First Christian church of Tulsa and in 1960 became the first homecoming queen in West Point's history.

IN 1960 ANITA Bryant won the TV Academy of Arts and Sciences award as best TV vocalist and was named best female recording artist of the year. Her three Gold records are "'Til There was You," "Paper Roses," and "In My Little Corner of the World."

Miss Bryant had her own radio show in Tulsa at age 14. Following that she was named Miss Tulsa, Miss Oklahoma and then runner-up in the Miss America pageant. She was a winner in the Arthur Godfrey Talent Search and appeared on his morning show and was on the Don McNeal show for a year. During this time she also attended Northwestern University, studying drama, speech and piano to help her give a more polished performance. She is unusual in that she uses no gimmicks in recording, doing only straight vocals.

TODAY MISS Bryant records for Columbia, is the "Coke Girl" on CBS daytime TV, and is entertaining at various state fairs. In August she will be a guest at the Wisconsin state fair in Milwaukee, appearing with Ricky Nelson and Tennessee Ernie Ford.

Anita Bryant will be at Roy Baumann's Saturday from 1 to 5 p. m. to meet all her friends.

ANITA BRYANT, singing star, will be a guest at the Roy Baumann Music Studios, 24 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, during an open house from 1 to 5 p.m.

'Western Days' Set For Market Place

Saturday will be a big day at Market Place Shopping Center, Route 58 and 83 in Des Plaines.

Western Days will be here. Headlining the full day of activities will be free Stagecoach rides for everyone — young and old. This will be an uthentic stagecoach to make all the children feel like authentic western passengers.

All children visiting the center will receive free snapguns from the "Chuck Wagon."

To liven up the day's festivities, "Yodelin' Slim," star of stage, television and movies will be at Market Place in person from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

R. Maxey, president of the Market Place Shopping Center Merchants Association, says "Saturday should be a day of great fun and activity at our center. We urge everyone to join with us." (B8

THE LOVELY Rita Moreno who won an Academy Award for "West Side Story," holds forth in "I Am A Camera" through June 24 in the Edgewater Beach Playhouse at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago. She will appear only at the Edgewater in the prize-winning comedy-drama.

Comedy Hit Slated For Edgewater Bill

Following Oscar Winner Rita Moreno in "I Am A Camera" which closes June 24, the Edgewater Beach Playhouse presents a rollicking comedy hit direct from six months in New York, Norman Krasna's "Sunday in New York."

The exclusive Chicago showing—it will not appear in the Loop— is by special arrangement with Producer David Merrick, June 25-July 8. When "Sunday in New York" opened on Broadway, it was hailed by the critics as a gay, fast-moving comedy about young people in the big city.

"IT SPARKLES with freshness and humor," wrote Howard Taubman of the New York Times. Other comments by critics: "The frenzy's funny," "Salaam! Shalom! Saluds! and Sante! to 'Sunday in New York,' It's about sex and that's funny in any language."

The Edgewater, the green-and-orange tent at the Edgewater Beach Playhouse, is open nightly, Monday through Friday at 8:30, two shows on Saturdays at 7 and 10 p.m., and an early one on Sundays at 7 p.m. For information, call LO 1-6308.

Suburban Families 'Adopt' Hong Kong Teenage Boy

The family of Russell P. Hughes, Inverness, and that of his son, Russell P. Hughes, Jr., Arlington Heights, have financially adopted Chin Wai Keung, a 13-year-old Chinese boy living in Hong Kong, through the Foster Parents' Plan, Inc. New York.

The foster parents have pledged $15 a month towards the child's support and education for a one year period.

Living with his parents and six other children, in an eight-by-ten foot cubicle, Chin relies on an aggragate family income of about $35 a month.

HE IS ONE of more than 76,000 children who have received personal aid or rehabilitation through the Foster Parents' Plan since its inception in 1937. Over 600,000 individuals in America have helped the needy children of foreign lands through the plan in the past 24 years.

The foundation is presently concentrating its efforts on the strife-torn and famished areas of Greece, Italy, Korea, France, Viet Nam, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

An independent, non-profit organization, the Foster Parents' Plan provides orphaned or otherwise destitute children with care, education, and the moral support required to mold them into responsible representatives of this generation.

IN A LETTER of gratitude addressed to the elder and younger Hughes families, Miss Gloria C. Matthews, executive director of Foster Parents' Plan, said on behalf of the foundation, "We are indeed grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, Jr. and Sr. for giving Chin Wai Keung this wonderful gift of hope and help."

Miss Matthews stated further that "we prayerfully hope many others who read this will also extend a helping hand to a distressed child."

OF THE child's $15 monthly grant, he receives $8 as an outright cash dividend. The remainder of the money is used for periodic food packages and new clothing, medical services, and educational fees.

Chin's foster parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell P. Hughes Jr., 210 E. Orchard Lane, Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Russel P. Hughes Sr., 442 Inverway Road, Inverness.

Iris Hybrid: Symbol of Growing Suburb

Paddock Publications - 63 THURS., JUNE 21, 1962

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

IRIS PLANTING AT THE Stewart Libby home on Arlington Heights Road, Itasca, served as a meeting place recently for Mrs. P. A. Pederson, ways and means chairman of Itasca Garden Club; Mrs. Harold Davenport, flower show chairman and nationally accredited flower show judge; and Mrs. Wesley Usher, vice president of the Itasca Junior Women's Club. All are supporters of the "plant iris as the village flower" project for community beautification.

Flower Is 'Pride' of Itasca Village

by BETH WEIR

Their blooms may have faded, but still fresh in the minds of Itascans and train commuters passing through the colorful village are the beautiful beds of iris planted in the town's park across from the railroad station.

Passers-by are quick to note the delicate apricot pink hybrids at the east end, but outside of townspeople, few know that the iris of unusual color has the distinction of being both the village flower and its symbol.

This bed and the one opposite, boasting a rainbow of color, are credited to two women's groups who have worked hand-in-hand to promote the fleur-de-lis as village flower. And the project has been long in development.

SOME 15 years ago the Itasca Garden Club wanted Itasca to have its very own flower and become known by it, as lilacs are famed in Lombard and tulips in the "tulip town" of Holland, Mich.

But it had to be a hardy flower, right for Itasca soil, and easy to raise by both novices and green thumbers of long experience if the project was to be a success. As a starter, Mrs. Edwin Ryan, owner of the Willow Garden in Glen Ellyn, presented the group with 10 of her newly-developed apricot hybrid irises.

In that year, 1947, the unnamed hybrids were planted at the home of Mrs. P. A. Pederson, 535 Arlington Road, Itasca, until a permanent planting spot was decided upon. She and her husband tended the original rhizomes and from time to time separated them for planting at nearby yards of neighbors and other garden club members.

AFTER several seasons the clump had grown to a size suitable for transplanting, and was then moved to the most likely location, the village parkway. At that time local residents added to the collection and further donations arrived from Charles Klehm and Son Nursery.

Although a sizable amount of iris beds were planted in and around the village, the garden club's flower project was far from being close to the goal set down when the plan was adopted.

Garden club members had hoped that almost every home would display the village flower in a prominent spot for all to see. But because of a long-time habit, many villagers chose to plant the blooms in back yards, instead of a front location.

THE PROJECT moved slowly, but interest was renewed 11 years later when the apricot hybrid was named "Itasca Pride." This was through the efforts of the Itasca Garden Club and the Itasca Junior Women's Club, which banded together to promote village-wide cooperation.

It became part of the juniors' 5 point "project Itasca," to provide one lasting improvement in the village. The program lasted two years and was later entered in a community achievement contest sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

Original chairman of the project was Mrs. Wesley Usher, now vice president of the juniors and a garden club member. Due to extra efforts at that time, many iris beds were moved to front locations at area homes in keeping with the club's aim.

FROM THE 10 hybrids first planted, dozens of roots grew, making possible their sale by the two clubs to maintain older iris beds and assist in various horticulture projects in the village proper.

Current blooms, in addition to the "Itasca Pride," which is in in the process of being registered by the National Iris Association, were in shades of blue, black, pink, yellow, pale lavendar and salmon. All rhizomes will be sold again this year during the month of August.

Working together, the two clubs recently arranged to carry the "Itasca iris theme" beyond the village limits through the clever use of iris stickers on residents' cars.

And if the enthusiasm of its sponsors is met with equal cooperation of the townspeople, the time will soon arrive when spring will bring a profusion or iris blooms marking every street and parkway of the town known fondly as Itasca, the Village of Iris.

LAST OF THE IRIS BLOOMS in Itasca's parkway were claimed by Christopher Dreyer and Peter Auxier last week after their mothers and other clubwomen arrived on the scene to cut back the plants now known as the village flower and symbol. The iris planting project, initiated by Itasca Garden Club, now has the help of another group, the Itasca Juniors.

STOPPING TO ADMIRE IRIS bed at roadside in Itasca last week were the above members of Itasca Junior Women's Club: Mrs. Conrad Dreyer, iris chairman; Mrs. William C. Auxier, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Carl Hurst, president, seated. Earlier in the day they met with Itasca Garden Club at the village parkway to check growth of "Itasca Pride," a planting of apricot hybrid iris named for the town in '58. Rhizomes will be sold by the two clubs this August.

You and Your Problems

Prospect of Moving Bothers Housewife

by DR. GERARD G. NEUMAN

Dear Dr. Neuman,

My husband has a very good job offered to him, but we would have to move to New Jersey and I can't bear the thought of leaving. We've both lived here all our lives. We've gone to school here and our friends are all here.

Our families are very upset that we would even think of moving. We live close to both our parents and they've been a real help to us. My mother says that now that she can stop worrying about me and start enjoying her children and her grandchildren, we want to take it all away from her.

DR. NEUMAN

I know the job offers just what my husband needs for his advancement, but don't we owe something to our families too? I just don't know what to do.

Mrs. S.

From a child's first steps to maturity, growing up is a gradual process of breaking away. This doesn't make it any easier, though, to face the next stage when the time comes. By living so close to your parents, Mrs. S., you've prolonged some of the earlier childhood relationships, which makes it so much harder for you to face breaking away now.

THE FACT that your husband is considering the new job at all shows that he is ready to try this next necessary step toward maturity. As his wife, you can be of real help and support, since he, too, is feeling doubts and anxieties about the move.

You and your husband apparently both feel that the job is right from a career point of view. In terms of your family, it holds much promise. A married couple starts a family of their own, and their primary loyalty and responsibility must be to this new family. They are no longer children in their parents' home, but adults with responsibility for building their own future.

MOVING TO a new location is hard to think about, because it means so many changes. For example, leaving close friends is hard. However, if you've learned to make friends here, you've had an important learning experience for making friends in the new location. The same holds true for other problems you may worry about in thinking about the specific changes the move will make in your life. Whatever you have learned and gained as a person will stand you in good stead wherever you may live.

While moving away doesn't mean losing any of the things you've learned, in itself it is an experience from which you can gain. As you successfully meet and solve the problems such a move brings, it will add to your future ability to face life with greater self-confidence and self-reliance.

If you have any questions or comments you want to direct to Dr. Neuman, address your letter to Box 18, c/o Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell Street, Arlington Heights, Ill. Confidentiality will be respected.

Food Poisoning Is Summertime Danger

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (UPI)—The Illinois Public Health Department Tuesday warned Illinois resident of the dangers of food poisoning during the summer months.

Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, department director, said last year some 592 cases of food poisoning were reported. There were also an additional 236 cases caused by an undetermined agent.

Yoder said most instances of food poisoning result from food that is handled too much, inadequately, processed, or imperfectly preserved.

POTATO SALAD and similar dishes are examples of excessively handled and often imperfectly preserved food, he said.

Yoder said these salads should be prepared quickly, covered and refrigerated until eaten.

Special care should be exercised in preapring and storing food for picnics and other group affairs when the meal is prepared hours in advance.

Yoder said there were also 265 poisoning cases last year which stemmed from egg and poultry products and milk.

Handy Hams

A generation ago ham had to be parboiled for one hour; only then could it be cooked. Today hams come pre-cooked, partially cooked, and uncooked, but not one of them has to be parboiled.

Take Plants Outside During Hot Weather

Many house plants, both flowering and foliage types, benefit from a summer vacation outdoors.

According to G. M. Fosler, University of Illinois floriculturist, the outdoor period may strengthen the plants for the winter months indoors. But don't just move them outside and forget about them. Here are some suggestions:

DISCARD plants that have outlived their usefulness, including those that are too big for their indoors niche and those that can't be reduced in size by pruning.

Before taking plants outdoors, repot in larger containers those needing more room in which to grow. Also kill any insect pests that might be on the plants.

Group your house plants according to their light needs. Provide an outdoor bed with full sun for such plants as geraniums, amaryllis and succulents; partial shade for azaleas and orchids and Christmas cacti; and continuous moderate shade for foliage plants in general. A protected location, out of the wind, is also desirable.

PLACING the pots in the ground or in a special bed of peat moss or sand will lessen the need for watering. Sink the pots into the bed so that the rims are only slightly above the soil surface. Surround the base of each pot with cinders or gravel to provide free drainage. This arrangement will also prevent the plants from rooting over the pot during the summer to avoid lopsidedness.

If this method is used, the plants won't need to be watered often. Nevertheless, check them at frequent intervals, especially during dry periods. Actively growing plants also require periodic fertilization during the summer. Fosler recommends using a complete soluble-type fertilizer, applied according to the manufacturer's directions.

Iris Grower Wins Blue Ribbon Award

An amateur iris "green-thumber" who began to grow the fleur de lis after it was named officially as Itasca's flower, won a blue ribbon at the Willowbrook Iris Show held this month.

A Mary Randall iris in Bengel rose color took top acclaim for Mrs. Raymond Zuehlke of Arlington Heights Road, Itasca. Entered in the violet and purple category, it won a hybrid iris plant for the local gardener.

SHE ENTERED the iris "figuring I'd never win, but had nothing to lose." Mrs. Zuehlke has more than 50 varieties of iris growing in her garden and is a member of the American Iris and Northern Illinois Iris Societies.

An avid gardener, she previously has won ribbons for other flowers and vegetables.

Iris, which require a little spraying, are not too hard to grow in the Itasca area, Mrs. Zuehlke said. She added, however, that this year's spring weather with its wind and rain was not conducive to iris growing.

Mrs. Zuehlke started her winning iris plant last autumn.

The Male Mentality

I know four fellas who had just better not laugh at the female sex and their foibles again. Talk about women being excitable and dizzy, Well!

MARY

It started calmly enough with the four of them deciding to go play golf. At a certain hour. From then on all heck broke loose. They scattered to their respective homes to change. In the meantime, the weather took quite a turn, like from sunny and warm to cold and raining like crazy.

One fella, during the sunny and warm stage, changed into Bermudas. As it cooled, he changed into long trousers and a sweater. When it rained, he changed back into the old white collar bit. All this was reported to my love via the telephone as the two of them were about 10 miles apart.

Shortly it started to rain in our area. And, I mean rain. Father gloomily averred that he guessed they would have to give it up. No sooner had he popped the words out of his mouth than buddy called to inform him that buddy was changing his clothes again as the sun was shining where he was. I failed to get the significance of this as they were going to play right here. Where it is still raining, not only cats and dogs, but pitchforks.

It did not daunt Father as he said buddy's town was about a half an hour away from us. Weatherwise. So, in the pouring wet they loaded their clubs into the car and away they went. Through the flooded streets and with windshield wipers operating to full capacity.

In the meantime, another buddy called and sadly asked me what the verdict was. When I told him that three of the nuts were sloshing their way to the course and I thought all of them were more than a little balmy, he informed me liltingly that it never rained in your heart on a golf course. I thought this quite poetic of him. If a wee bit goofy.

You know what happened? They hadn't been gone 15 minutes and the 10 mile away weather hit us. The sun came out. The streets dried up. The sky turned blue. I wish they had asked me. I would have gone. (SF SERVING CAKE with a shovel isn't recommended by Duncan Hines, but when a Paddock employee dropped a cake, which was to have served 80 fellow workers, the newspaper's food editor, Beth Weir, came to the rescue. Intended for the celebration of several birthdays, the cake landed frosting side down at Paddock's front door and was a total loss. (S

South Pacific Honeymoon Trip for Palatine Bride

After a honeymoon in Hawaii, the Tahitian and Fiji Islands and New Zealand, a Palatine bride, Miss Barbara Jane MacLea, daughter of Mrs. Robert K. MacLea, 347 W. Hellen, and her groom, Joseph Rome Sesto n, will make Australia their home for the next two years. A former resident of New York State, the bride returned to her home state where she met her future husband, son of the Rome A. The couple's marriage took place June 9 in the Church of St. Vincent Ferrer in New York City and was followed by a reception for 90 guests in the Barbizon Plaza Hotel. Also returning to New York for the ceremony were the bride's mother, her brother, Robert, who gave her in marriage, and her sister, Donna, who was one of the bridesmaids. Another sister, Mrs. George C. Coombs of White Plains, N. Y., was matron of honor.

ALSO SERVING as bridesmaids were the bride's college friends, Mrs. William E. Gundy of Boston and Mrs. Michael Waldbillig of Albany, N. Y. The attendants were in identical dresses of mint green silk with lace bodices, bell skirts and back bow and streamers of velbet. They also wore matching headpieces with circular veils and carried bouquets of rose buds, Mrs. Coombs in pink and the bridesmaids in yellow.

The bride wore a gown of ivory peau de soie and an orange blossom h e a d p i e c e which held a fingertip silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

James L. Sexton of Minneapolis was best man for his brother and ushers, all of New York City, were Donald F. X. Finn, John R. Mitchell and Lawrence A. Quigley.

He received a master's degrees from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration and is a member of the Harvard Club of New York City. A former naval aviator, he is now with Esso Standard Eastern and has been transferred to Australia from the New York office. (S

Ladies: Take Care In Soap Quantity

Cold water was dashed today upon some favorite laundry notions mistakenly held by the average U.S. housewife.

For instance, she almost invariably uses too much soap in her wash—causing more than 90 per cent of the so-called "dingy gray" laundry she later complains about, r e s e a r c h shows.

That's the word from the Water Specialities Foundation, a research organization in houseware products, with headquarters at 846-848 Milwaukee Ave., Chicago.

THE LAUNDRY water need not be billowing with suds for efficient cleansing, yet housewives persistently use almost twice the amounts of soap or detergents really needed, research shows. And this extra soap just often can't be completely rinsed away, hence the gray.

Also, the yellowing of her husband's shirt collars, her own blouses, u n d e r g a r m e n t s, shoulder straps and foundation garments can be eliminated entirely if conditioned soft water is used, instead of ordinary soft water or hard water, which contains minerals which combine with soap to form unsightly scum, curds and laundry headaches, research indicates.

WSF said incorrect laundry often intensifies the staining, pointing out that the most important of all elements in the laundry is the condition of the water used.

Housewives were urged by the WSF to use sufficient powders or concentrated liquid water softeners to "condition" laundry water for the whitest, stain-free wash.

ONE OF the newest such liquid water conditioners to reach food store shelves, the WSF said, is "Miracle White," fully guaranteed to remove all such stains including rust, and decrease soap and detergent use, too.

The WSF also suggests these simple steps for housewives?

Sort clothes by degree of soil, by type of fabric and by colorfastness.

And don't overload the machine. A six-lb load will wash better than a heavier load. (S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Nicest Birthday

As we stood in line, waiting our turn to buy tickets to the coal mine, I said to Bridget and Suzy, "We can only spend about an hour and a half here, girls, if we're to have lunch and get to the movie on time."

I must admit their replies surprised me. "Oh, Mama, we'd rather stay here until we see everything," Bridget insisted.

Suzy agreed. "Oh yes, Mrs. McArdle, I've never been to the Museum of Science and Industry before and I'd love to stay here too." The plan for Bridget's 10th birthday was to take her best friend, Suzy, with her on an excursion to the Museum, to lunch and a movie downtown. It was reassuring to hear my ten year old compions prefer to give up the celluloid world for some first hand knowledge of the world around them.

The girls had seen pictures of the coal mine and the U-505 sub in their history books and so were particularly interested in these exhibits. It amazes me to hear how interested the men sound, who give their explanations of the operation of a coal mine, when they must repeat their words 50 times a day! One old gentleman in particular made the cutting and blasting of coal sound like the most exciting work in the world and the children (there was a classroom with us) were so quiet you could hear a cinder drop.

None of us had seen the U-505 before. The trip through this famous German sub and the short movie describing its capture is worth the trip to the Museum. Of course, we included in our tour Colleen Moore's Doll House, the communications exhibits and in the Harvester Farm watched baby chicks hatch.

I was quite undecided about where to have lunch, until Suzy said, as we neared McCormick Place, that she had never been there either. This was an excellent solution — easy to park, an inexpensive cafeteria and a beautiful view of the lake. There was not much else to see there, although we did visit the gigantic exhibition floor where Dr. Graham was holding his Crusade and, oh yes, also one of the several lovely rest rooms to be found in this exquisite building.

The Aquarium was next on our tour schedule — Suzy also had never been there. I'm glad she had been to the Prudential Building, because I had a feeling they were both working up to "just one more" stop. Fortunately we overstayed our Aquarium stop and had to start for home — my feet were beginning to feel like raw hamburger and I guess we had had enough sightseeing for one day, since my two little companions fell asleep on the way home. I was happy to hear Bridget say when we arrived home, "Thanks, Mama, for the nicest birthday I ever had."

My love,
Patty

Pleasure Travel Becomes 'Big Business' in America

by JEANNE WELCH

Just mention travel to the average American and eyes light up. We are a peripatetic breed, eager for new sights and new experiences. This interest, plus the rapid strides made in transportation facilities, has made the pleasure travel business big business in today's world.

Travel, then, is a newsworthy subject. As a travel buff of long standing, first as an amateur and then as a professional travel writer, I am delighted that Paddock Publications is giving me an opportunity to visit with its readers via a potpourri column of what's happening in the world of pleasure travel.

Readers' comments will be welcomed. If there are particular areas, or countries, in which you're interested, drop me a line and we'll try to cover them in subsequent columns.

YOU MIGHT as well know right now that one of the things I usually harp on is how wonderful travel agents are, and how it is too bad that many people don't understand and use their services.

We're accustomed to consulting an architect when we build a home; an attorney when we have legal problems — specialists in all fields are dear to our hearts for we believe, and rightly, that their experience is valuable.

Why not, then, utilize the experience of the travel agent when you're planning a trip — a long or a short one. It will save you valuable time, eliminate irritating details and, in the long run, save you money, too.

If, after dreaming about a trip to Hawaii for years, you're suddenly so impatient to get there that you want to make it in one evening American Airlines and Pan American World Airways have a new flight pattern that is for you. Now you can leave O'Hare at 6:50 p.m. (CDT) and thanks to a difference in time zones, arrive in Honolulu the same evening, just before midnight Hawaii time.

(As a former resident of Hawaii I'll tell you that "Hawaii time" is official, but "Hawaiian time" is an island term corresponding roughly to the Mexican "manana." Time moves leisurely in the islands).

THE NONSTOP trip from O'Hare to Los Angeles is made on an American 707 Astrojet, with dinner served en route. At Los Angeles a Pan Am station wagon will meet you and drive you to the Pan American Jet Clipper which leaves at 9:45 p.m. (PDT). It arrives at Honolulu at 11:15 p.m. (HST). If you have friends in Honolulu, don't worry about keeping them up for your late arrival. They can have a gala evening, stopping at the little lei huts which fringe the airport to purchase your welcoming leis and dining leisurely in the fine airport restaurant. When your Pan Am Clipper comes winging in over the Pacific they'll be hanging over the fence, ready to offer you the traditional "Aloha" of welcome.

Florida trips are not exclusively for honeymooners — or the retired. The state's resorts and hotels — indeed all of its travel and recreational facilities — are now emphasizing the delights of a Florida vacation for the whole family. In step with this trend, most of the hotels and motels participating in Eastern Air Lines' annual summer "Happy Holiday" budget package tours now offer special features for children and teenagers. Some of the hotels employ teachers or other trained children's and youth activities directors.

Here's an opportunity for a vacation with the children, yet one where the adults can get off by themselves for a day or an evening. With Florida roomrates now at off-season bargain levels, and airfares for children under 17 going at half-rate, Florida looks like a pretty good choice for a family vacation that won't produce a badly battered budget as an aftermath.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Plan An Indian Cook-out

By DOLORES HAUGH

HAUGH!! UGH!! And all that kind of Indian talk means here is another picnic idea. Set up your wigwam for little wampum you can have a picnic with Indians for a theme.

INVITATIONS

Tape two pieces of twig crosswise on the bottom of an orange fire, which is made out of a double fold of construction paper, making sure it fits into a standard envelope. Inside write the following:

Heap big pow-wow going on
Over at our own wigwam,
Smoke signals say
It will be this day....
Bringum self at sign of moon
Tell um that you comeum soon
Feast and dance, smoke pipe of peace
Dawn till dark big pow-wow not cease.

State again time, date and if you wish, have assigned entertainment. By that ask two couples to provide Indian dances, songs, tom-tom twist, or anything just so it has to do with the Indians. Costumes are easy and fun as they add color to the party.

MENU

A typical meal would be one with corn cooked in the husks under hot coals and steaks (buffalo naturally), wild onions, carrots, and plenty of hot coffee. Though not Indian, what is a dinner without coffee? Make a huge cake with a complete Indian village of either paper or plastic on top or one made in two eight or nine-inch cake pans, frosted in brown with licorice string hair, and marked with war paint. It can be finished off by sticking bright feathers, real or construction paper, all around or just one with a head band of contrasting frosting will make a hit. Name your Indian, Chief Low-Calorie and watch him go to his ancestors, but quickly.

ENTERTAINMENT

Your couples can perform as per their invitations, but if teens or tots use this as a theme there are many Indian games they can play such as Giant Step, all lined up and then who can step the farthest, or the falling Moon, where every child stands in a circle, one in the center with large beach ball which is the moon, he throws the ball high and the outer ring of children must catch it so it does not break on the ground or there will be no light.

Races and pony races, on brooms, can round out the entertainment. These work well for a birthday party and each guest can have a headband, feather and his face painted. Bow and arrow, for young and old, beaded jewelry, leather items may all be used for gifts, awards or just favors. Wind up the entertainment with Tales of the Indians, or songs around the campfire.

DECORATIONS

For the picnic or the birthday party, your table will be the focal point, so use an Indian blanket for a tablecloth. Make an arrangement of corn, wild flowers and an Indian tom-tom or arrows crossed. Use heavy pottery dishes in dark brown or paper if you prefer, especially for birthdays. At picnics, unless you have trays, paper plates are hard to manage.

Be sure your guests have large napkins, with corn or finger eating, terry cloth guest towels in bright colors are excellent napkins. Smoke um pipe of peace, too at end of pow-wow and this can be fun if you can rig up a pipe that looks authentic. So you join um Injun picnic and getum good time, ugh? (S

Should We All Be Happy as Larks?

by BETTY AINSLIE

We should all be happy as larks. Aren't we in a world suddenly granted at least 20 additional years to our life span? So what happens? Can we enjoy those additional years?

Heck no. We're kept so busy worrying about how we'll hang on to that extra time we don't have the opportunity to enjoy it.

If you smoke and enjoy smoking and have smoked for a number of years—better just give the whole thing up or no additional years will be yours. According to a late Reader's Digest report, the filthy weed can bring on all sorts of life shortening disabilities.

I gather that if men and women would turn to cigars or pipes we might again have our tootsies on the right road to health if we haven't already ruined our lungs with the earlier puffing of polluted packs of the vile weed.

MAYBE WE feel fine, but after 40 all sorts of pitfalls lie in this path of life. Don't rush, don't get excited, don't exert yourself because your life is entering the dangerous health reefs. Don't eat what you like. Strong exercise is taboo, don't touch sweets, don't drink, don't get angry. Take a pill to keep your mental outlook happy, don't worry, don't gripe, don't argue. Anything that sends a rush of honest red blood through your veins is dangerous. Keep cool, keep calm and you'll collect those extra years.

Provided, of course, the advertisements haven't made you a nervous wreck just watching out for all the do's and don'ts.

Cholesterol is suddenly a popular and deadly word. After 40 (there's that figure again) we must avoid the innocent yolk of an egg and treat fats like the plague. You take your fats poly-unsaturated or you don't take them at all. Pick up any bottle of vegetable oil and you will find the comforting words poly-unsaturated, never hydrogenated. At least half of the oils calories are poly-unsaturated, mono-unsaturated 20 per cent and saturated 25 to 30 per cent and aren't you glad you looked, now things are as clear as mud.

THAT GIRL with the wrinkled brow and perplexed look on TV is trying to select the right oil for family consumption. She sees this magic word poly-unsaturated and smiles. That's for her by golly, and for all the gullible watchers of the program.

Women shoppers have to get right down to the fine print in selecting food to stock the family larder, even if we don't understand what we read the words do have a nice ring.

If hubby's waistline is comfortably spreading he's slipped on an unsuspecting diet. Suddenly there are no cookies being baked, no candy to enjoy, whipped cream is abolished—in fact just about everything that tastes good is slyly slipped from the dinner menu. Pop may insist he weighs just the same as he did 20 years ago, give or take a few pounds, it's merely that the poundage is shifting.

A ROUSING game of handball, tennis or 18 holes of golf will take care of that waistline. But is wifey happy over this statement? Heavens no! She's been reading and listening to more frightening advice guaranteed to gray her hair. Exercise—that is if hubby wants to be a weekend athlete—is out.

In fact we can bite our fingernails in indecision as to which is better; a bit more fat on Papa, which won't help his heart, or exercise which isn't supposed to help it either.

The advertising and advice which is being handed to us daily sure makes those extra years look awful hard to manage to get through. How can we relax and enjoy those extra years donated to us by men of science when we have to worry about so many little things?

TAKE GRAY hair for instance. We may be getting older but only you and your hairdresser will know if you and your beauty shop get together over the dye pots. Denture breath—. Do you use tooth paste on yours? A pox on you if you do—And have you felt your blood lately? Is it tired?

What about that poor group B that was given just ordinary tooth paste? Does anyone worry about the 34 per cent more cavities that they're going to have because they weren't let in on the secret ingredient of group A? Or how about the unfortunate people who never have met Katy Winters?

Every age group is a target for advertising. Beginning with "ask your mommy to pick up one the next time she is at the store," to "rush in now while the supplies last."

THE POOR troubled teens have the boys worrying about whether "A little dab will do it," and the girls to "not let romance fade, fade fade away."

In fact so many advertisements are so busy establishing the slogans and catch jingles for their products in our minds, you can't remember the name of the product.

So maybe the next time Pop goes out to the kitchen for a sandwich during the TV commercial we'd better go along. It's safer adding calories to those extra years than worry lines, wrinkles and frayed nerves when you view all the pitfalls that can happen to you and your family in the short space of a few commercials.(S

June is the Month for Brides

The beauty of a June bride – or any other bride – is less an accident than it is the result of extensive preparation and planning. For, in the last exciting days before the walk down the pew-lined aisle, it is the professional who is relied upon to assure that everything is "perfect."

By JOHN REDDY Photographs by LARRY CAMERON

From the time a girl is old enough to start pasting petticoats to paper dolls, her mind's eye begins fashioning the dress of satin or lacy organza that will — along with bouquets of white roses or stephaniotis, the ringing of bells — be a tribute to the man to whom she says "I do."

Yet, when the real thing arrives, even the most imaginative prospective bride finds herself relying in part on the tried and proven experience of those whose job it is to make the wedding day "the most perfect day ever."

A cooperating group of enterprising merchants in Arlington Heights, aware of the contribution good service is toward the success of a wedding and the establishment of a home, is offering special bridal advice and service.

The big idea is that an entire wedding can be arranged locally — a big difference being the accent on personal service that can best be provided locally.

Before Dorothy Hartman established "Gi-Gi" Marie Bridals, the nearest place for wedding gowns was Elgin, Evanston or Chicago. Now, however, anxious brides can find answers to pressing questions just around the corner — where they can also squeeze a fitting into a rigid premarital routine.

Mrs. Hartman's professional assistance aids prospective brides in making that dream image become real. "Most girls know pretty well what they want and we try to see that everything is appropriate for them."

Furnishing that first apartment or home becomes less of a challenge if some one keeps in mind the future, according to Joe Schneller, of Schneller Furniture. "He observed that the traditional furniture he features seems to be a favorite, noting that young couples are concerned first with either a living room or bedroom set.

"We try to provide them with furnishings they can build around. Some couples begin paying on furnishings a year and a half ahead."

Dorothy Flaherty, Flaherty Jewelers, reflected that younger couples always consider a set of silver, but noted that the price seems to scare. Some, however, acquire silver on the time plan, indicating a trend back toward silver. The expense of college, said Mrs. Flaherty, is a major consideration of many young couples in putting off acquiring silver or stainless hollowware."

Ralph Windheim, of Community Camera, said brides seem always to want a pictorial record of the wedding and generally "leave it pretty much up to us to cover it."

A sewing needle once served as a life saver for a bridesmaid when Walt Bender of Arlington Florist made a floral delivery. As well as helping in selection and creation of wedding bouquets, Bender, who says "we're the last ones on the scene," carries smelling salts and an assortment of materials to help in any variety of emergencies.

While Paul Collins, president of Arlington Heights Savings and Loan Association, observes that more and more couples are starting accounts prior to marriage, others in increasing numbers are showing an increasing financial awareness, obtaining invaluable advice from officers of his organization.

But Wayne Griffin, travel agent, who has helped any number of couples by fitting their honeymoon to a budget, says "We try to help them so they can come back with a few bucks in their pocket. Especially honeymooners. Some have the grandiose idea that you can do it up in Nassau Beach for $200."

DOROTHY HARTMAN provides perspective for detail during fitting.

THERE PROBABLY IS no more hectic time in a girl's life than the morning of her wedding. Bridal service by Arlington Heights merchants subdues pre-wedding jitters.

Bride, Groom Compose Music, Text for Unique Ceremony

Original nuptial music as well as the text for the ceremony itself were composed and written by Martha Alice Mills and her bridegroom, Edmund John Wood, for their marriage which took place May 19 in Union Chapel of Macalester College in St. Paul.

Witnessing the unique double ring service were friends of the couple from 14 different nations, including Holland, Nigeria, Australia, Equador, Germany, Columbia, India, Japan and France, all foreign journalists at Macalester, where the bride and groom have been studying. Guests also included the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Mills, 402 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, and the groom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Wood of Pullman, Wash. and the bridal party included the bride's sister, Robin Mills, as bridesmaid and the bridal couple's brothers, Charles Mills and Alan Wood, as ushers.

DR. HUGO Thompson, Congregational minister and philosophy professor at the college, officiated at the 10 a.m. service which was followed by a reception in Wallace Hall of the college and by lunch for the family at the Town House Restaurant in St. Paul. After a brief honeymoon in Nebraska, the newlyweds are residing at 1674 Grand Ave., St. Paul, where both will be entering graduate law school at the University of Minnesota in the fall.

For her wedding, during which she was given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a street-length white lace gown over peau de soie satin. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a headpiece of the peau and she carried a single red fuji mum.

MISS MONA Anderson of St. Paul Park, Minn., former college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor and wore an aqua organza over taffeta street-length gown and carried a single white fuji mum, as did the bride's sister, Robin, as bridesmaid.

Mrs. Mills chose a rose beige sheath with short jacket and corsage of pink roses and Mrs. Wood chose a cream colored embroidered eyelet sheath with pale blue jacket and corsage of pink roses.

Richard Sigwalt of Odebolt, Iowa was best man. (S

Carla Potts is First Bride in New Church

First couple to be married in the new Christ Lutheran Church in Normal, Ill. were Miss Carla Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Potts, Meacham Road, Palatine, and John P. Stephens, son of Cdr. and Mrs. James M. Stephens of Villa Park. Their marriage took place June 9 in a 3 o'clock double ring, candlelight, service performed by Rev. H. C. Pragman.

Both students at Illinois State Normal University, the bride will graduate in August and then teach Latin in Collinsville High School. Her groom attended Northwestern University and was graduated from ISNU before beginning graduate study at the latter school.

The couple was attended by Miss Phyllis Steider of Roanoke, Ill. and Capt. James E. Stephens of Dayton, brother of the groom. The bride's brothers, Henry and Donald Potts of Palatine, were ushers.

FOR HER marriage the brde chose a colonial style gown fashioned with chantilly lace bodice and silk organza overskirt caught up in chantilly roses. The dress also featured a sabrina neckline and a scalloped hemline of chantilly. A crown of pearl tear drops held her nylon tulle veil and she carried a white Bible covered with a white orchid.

Miss Steider was in a pale yellow street-length taffeta dress and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses with white carnations and a framing of white lace. The bride's mother chose a blue silk organza dress over a flower-printed sheath with matching coat. She also chose white sequin hat and bag. The groom's mother was in a beige silk chiffon with lace overblouse and white accessories and both mothers wore symbidium orchid corsages.

Dinner for 50 relatives and friends was held at 4:30 in the church hall after which Mr. Stephens took his bride on a wedding trip to Lake of the Ozarks. (S

Kelly-Sullivan Rites Held in Gary, Indiana

The wedding of their son, Dennis W. Sullivan, took the Willard J. Sullivans, 291 Park Drive, Palatine, to Gary, Ind., on May 19. Dennis' brde was the former Judith Lynn Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Kelly of Gary.

The ceremony took place at 11 a.m. in Holy Angels Cathedral with Father Murzyn officiating. Later a wedding luncheon was served to family and friends in Gary Country Club.

THE COUPLE both attended Purdue University, the bridegroom having affiliated with Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity while there. He is presently employed as sales engineer for Parker Hannifin Corp. and living in Detroit with his bride.

For her wedding, the bride chose a silk organza sheath dress with lace panels trimming the bodice and skirt, the skirt ending in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was secured by a cluster of pearls and leaves, and she carried a white orchid on a white lace covered Bible.

THE BRIDE'S attendants were all gowned alike in white chiffon over aqua taffeta sheath dresses and carried aqua and white carnations and roses. Nancy Farquharson of La Grange was maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sisters, Karen and Beverly, served as bridesmaids.

Best man was Jack Wilson of Elmwood Park, and ushering the guests to their pews were Douglas Kelly of Gary, the bride's brother, and Stan Henderson of St. Louis. The latter two are fraternity brothers of the groom.

The newlyweds spent a week's honeymoon in Miami before settling in Detroit. (S

Teens Are Enthusiastic Over Chocolate Drinks

Teen-agers have some tastes of which a parent can wholeheartedly approve! Among these is their taste for milk drinks, the chocolate milkshake, for instance.

Produce a variety of delicious chocolate milkshakes almost instantly, starting with quick chocolate-flavored mix. In addition to its excellent chocolate flavor, it contains valuable vitamins and iron.

DREAMY CHOCOLATE MILK SHAKE

1 quart (4 cups) milk

Combine quick chocolate-flavored mix and milk in a 1½-quart refrigerator container. Stir to blend. Cover and chill. Shake well before serving. If desired, garnish with a dollop of marshmallow cream. Yield: 4 servings.

Choco-Peanut Milk Shake: Blend together 2 tablespoons creamstyle peanut butter and ¼ cup of the milk. Place in container. Add remaining milk and quick chocolate-flavored mix. Stir to blend.

Minty Way Milk Shake: Add ¼ teaspoon peppermint flavoring to chocolate milk mixture in container. If desired, stir each serving with a peppermint stick. (S

Student 'Frosted' Over Sweet Recipe

URBANA—Having too little egg in proportion to sugar is one of the reasons "seven-minute" frosting forms a crust.

Therefore, it is wise to use two eggs to each cup of sugar, according to Mrs. Pearl Janssen, University of Illinois home economist. This recommendation is based on a student's report in experimental foods class.

Mrs. Janssen reports that the student also found that using one tablespoon of corn sirup to each cup of sugar also helps to prevent crustiness in the frosting.

THE STUDY also showed that seven minutes is not an accurate guide for beating. The time varied from six to seven minutes, depending on the ingredients, the temperature and the beating. For this reason Mrs. Janssen says the appearance of the frosting is a better guide to doneness than an exact beating time.

She recommends stopping the beating when the frosting looks glossy and holds a stiff peak. If the frosting is overbeaten, a crust will form during storage.

The student also experimented with some ingredients not presently used by homemakers. She tried two vegetable gums and a glucose derivative. The frostings containing the vegetable gums were not successful.

THEY WERE too gummy. The one containing the glucose product was successful and showed promise as a way to get smooth, easy-to cut, good-looking frosting. At the present time, however, the homemaker cannot buy the glucose product in supermarkets because it is used mainly in commercial bakeries and experimental work. (S

Cheese, Sour Cream Unite For Potato Salad 'Idaho'

With the first warm breeze comes the thought of cool summer foods, treats that spell a leisurely life after winter's hearty fare. A dish of top listing is potato salad, and the recipes are as varied as the seasonings favored by your taste.

There are, however, a few pointers for perfection in the cooking of the potatoes themselves. Idahos make good salad. They'll cook up mealy-dry and hold their flavor, cold or hot.

PLACE THEM in a heavy pot, perhaps a Dutch oven, with cold salted water one inch up on the sides. Cover tightly. Bring the water to a boiling point quickly, then reduce the heat to simmer.

Begin fork-testing after ½ hour of cooking. When just tender, remove from heat and drain off water. Dry over low heat. Peel the potatoes while hot. A paper towel makes a good holder. For a good looking salad, keep them neat and orderly in the cubing.

First halve them lengthwise. Withflat side down, cut each half in ¾-inch strips, then crosswise to make bite-size cubes. Gourmet secret—mix salad ingredients with warm potatoes to absorb seasonings.

IF COLD potatoes are used, pour heated vinegar, French dressing or white table wine over them for the same reason.

June Dairy Month Marks Huge Foods Sales Event

This year June Dairy Month celebrates its 26th anniversary as a nationwide promotion saluting the dairy industry.

For more than a quarter-century, it has been a time of recognition by the nation of the dairy industry's vital contribution to America's economy, health and welfare.

In view of national concern of physical fitness and President Kennedy's suggestion that all Americans drink more milk, body-building dairy foods should be included on everyone's shopping list.

JUNE DAIRY Month is the largest annual dairy foods sales event in the food business. It is recognized as the year's greatest sales opportunity for dairy foods and related items. The "American Dairy Princess," Louise Knolle, is currently on a 5-week tour to promote June Dairy Month. She will "speak-up" for milk in some 20 states, appear on network radio and TV, local stations, and be interviewed by the press.

On June 1, the personal saleslady for the American Dairy Association, Dinah Shore, did a special dairy show over NBC-TV, and gave interesting ideas using dairy products for summer meal planning.

SINCE 1937, June Dairy Month has grown into the world's largest single dairy food sales and information campaign. Again in 1962, the story of milk and dairy foods is being presented to the public by all parts of the industry.

Thirteen national dairy organizations sponsor June Dairy Month. Leaders in agriculture, business, education and government, and scores of enterprises tied to the multi-billion dollar industry, are uniting in the annual observance.

And on the local level, Paddock Publications is cooperating with the American Dairy Association's theme, "Quick, Cool and Casual," by featuring dairy recipes for salads, desserts and milk drinks in its Suburban Living section. (S

Men Err In Ideas On Women

EVANSTON, ILL., (UPI) — Most ideas about women, as advanced by men, are wrong, a Northwestern University professor of marketing and research said Friday.

Speaking at the University's annual Alumni Day celebration, Stuart H. Britt said women are not the emotional spenders men think they are, but are "intelligent managers of their individual household exchequers."

BRITT SAID that more than any other time or place, spending in America today is influenced by women and by what they think.

"American women have a good deal of sense about money," Britt said. "They not only know where it comes from and where it goes, but they try to get value for each dollar spent."

Fresh Rhubarb Pie Is Gardener's Delight

No-Bake Favorite Made With 'Jello'

by LOIS SEILER

Pep up pork chops with the excellent recipe shared with us today by Mrs. Herman P. Hempel of Mount Prospect. She serves Barbecued Park Chops for luncheons or dinners, and they are always a success. Easy to prepare, the chops are simply baked in a savory barbecue sauce. "They become so tender you can cut them with a fork," Mrs. Hempel said. "And they have a delicious flavor from the tangy sauce."

Another appealing feature of this recipe is that the meat can be placed in the oven and forgotten until serving time. As accompaniments Mrs. Hempel suggests baked potatoes, which can be baked along with the chops, a vegetable and salad.

One of her favorite summer desserts is a tempting Rhubarb Ice Box Pie. Homemakers like Mrs. Hempel, who grow rhubarb in their gardens, will especially want to take advantage of this delightful and unusual recipe.

THERE IS no baking to this pie. Hot cooked rhubarb is combined with lemon or orange-flavored jello. When congealed whipped Milnot is folded in. Poured into a graham cracker or corn flake crust, the dessert is refrigerated for several hours.

The pie can be served garnished with graham cracker crumbs or whipped cream. Its slightly tart flavor makes it a refreshing summertime treat.

BARBECUED PORK CHOPS

1 small onion, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon brown sugar
½ small bottle catsup
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup water

Place above ingredients into a saucepan and bring to a boil. Simmer slowly for 30 to 40 minutes. This amount of sauce is sufficient for 10 to 12 pork chops.

Put raw chops, trimmed of fat, in a layer in a small roaster. Salt them, pour sauce over all and cover pan. Bake at 350 or 375 degrees for 1½ hours. The lid may be removed the last 10 to 15 minutes.

RHUBARB ICE BOX PIE

2 cups rhubarb cut in ½ inch pieces
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 package lemon or orange jello
1 small can Milnot

Cook rhubarb in the water and sugar until done. While hot, add jello. Let congeal until quite stiff. Fold in stiffly-beaten Milnot. (The Milnot must be chilled overnight.)

Pour mixture into a 10-inch pie pan lined with a graham cracker crust or corn flakes rolled fine. Place in refrigerator for several hours until set. This pie can be made a day ahead.

Serve garnished with whipped cream or graham cracker crumbs.

LUNCHEON SURPRISES

3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
¼ pound American cheese, cubed
2 tablespoons onion, chopped
2 tablespoons green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons sweet pickle, chopped
2 tablespoons stuffed olives, chopped
½ cup mayonnaise
6 weiner rolls

Mix ingredients together and spread between buttered weiner rolls. Wrap individually in foil. Bake 30 minutes at 325 degrees. (SH

Another of Mrs. Hempel's favorite recipes is called Luncheon Surprises. Not only is this recipe appropriate for luncheons, but for late evening snacks as well.

Tuna fish, hard-cooked egg, cubed cheese, chopped onion, green pepper, pickles and olives are combined with mayonnaise and spread between weiner rolls. Each bun is individually wrapped in foil and baked for a half hour.

THE TASTY Surprises are quite filling and need only potato salad or a fruit or vegetable salad as an accompaniment. They can be made a day ahead and stored in the refrigerator, or can even be prepared weeks in advance and frozen.

In addition to her culinry interests, Mrs. Hempel also finds satisfaction in her work as a braille transcriber both for the Mark Twain School in Wheeling and the Chicago Public Library.

She and her husband reside at 117 N. Elmhurst Ave. in Mount Prospect and belong to the South Park Church in Park Ridge. They have two married sons and five grandchildren.

FRESH RHUBRAB GROWN in her own garden was used to prepare the elegant Rhubarb Ice Box Pie being served by Mrs. Herman P. Hempel of Mount Prospect. There is no baking to this refreshing pie, which is one of this good cook's favorite summertime desserts. (SH

MOUNT PROSPECT PLAZA

CHICAGO—Retail beef is poised for a dramatic comeback to the University of Illinois consumer service value list this week and with promotional attention prices could drop from 4 cents to 8 cents a pound on some forequarter cuts. General quotes are expected to drop fractionally on the whole line from relatively high prevailing price levels.

Seasonal action at live and wholesale markets that jockeyed beef into this favorable position also moved pork (highest since March) and lamb higher on their own cycling schedule.

Exceptions are in processed ham lines, canned hams particualrly moving into pre-July Fourth bargain position. Bacon jumped sharply, some retails climbing to 79 cents on better lines over a general base of 63-69 cents.

POULTRY joins beef, too, as the best-supplied menu makers, fryers showing improvement in weight and numbers, turkeys being as usual abundant in terms of new crop and storage stocks, and eggs turning sharply lower at wholesale to set lower retail quotes.

More variety and seasonally sliding costs improve the fresh fruit and vegetable outlook, although the entire produce market still rates its tag of being unpredictable and erratic. Melons continue to elude the value list on the basis of high prices.

Locally grown strawberries, along with imported peaches and grapes, decline slightly. In better position are carrots, sweetcorn, green beans, medium size peppers, beets and the full range of "greens"—endive, escarole, spinach and the like.

THE U. OF I. consensus bargain list for the marketing period ending June 23 includes: meats — beef chuck roasts, steaks, ground beef, pork picnics, canned hams, pork steaks; poultry—fryers, large eggs, turkeys; produce—peaches, strawberries, bananas, grapes, salad greens, cabbage, cucumbers, radishes and new potatoes.

Some price recovery was noted for cattle but lighter weights and common market grades were troublesome. Wholesale costs slid to bring retails to the brink of general declines which can set in at any time for forequarter cuts.

Retail quotes on a competitive basis show blade cut chuck roasts quoting highest at 59 cents and can be much lower, round bone roasts 75 cents, rump and sirloin tip roasts 98 cents-$1.09, standing rib roasts 69 cents for 5th-6th cuts and 89 cents for 1st-4th cuts, rib steaks 69-89 cents, sirloin steaks 89 cents - $1.09, porterhouse steaks 98 cents-$1.39, and round steaks 79-95 cents.

PORK RESISTS much retail feature attempt with soaring live costs, up as much as 1¼ cents, and wholesales that zoomed as much as 3 cents, the problem being curtailed receipts, and shorter seasonal supplies of dressed pork.

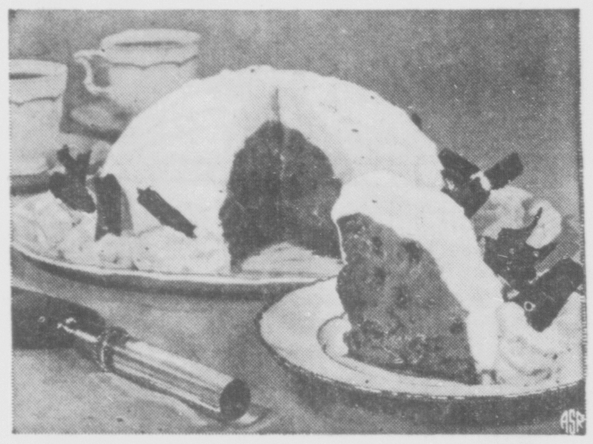
Without feature attempts, retails should prevail at rib cuts 45 cents, loin cuts 55 cents, center chops 95 cents. Bacon 63-69 cents and in some cases up to 79 cents on first line brands. While hams drift lower into holiday feature position, consensus quotes are lacking.

Limited live lamb receipts, especially of desired grades and weights, stabilize live prices, and at wholesale light-weights create problems of cut-out to raise costs another one cent. Retails on legs and chops climbed on the basis of difficulty in filling orders. Shoulder roasts quote generally 49 cents, shoulder chops 79-89 cents, leg roasts 75-79 cents, rib chops $1.09-$1.19, and loin chops $1.39.

Fryers are unchanged at retails of 27-35 cents, turkeys hold 39-45 cents although some price breaks are indicated with the approaching holiday (and concern in the trade over the storage abundance), while stewing hens rate a spot-bargain nod at no more than 39 cents quotes for heavier weights.

Eggs fell ½ cent to 3 cents to reverse last week's trend, posting lower retail quotes of 39-47 cents for grade A large whites. The storage situation improved, too, shell eggs 42,400 cases over year-ago and frozen eggs up 1,742,000 pounds to confirm the long-range, low-cost outlook.

Chocolate Bombe Boasts 'Mystery' Fruit Filling



It may look complicated, but this delicious fruit-filled chocolate Bombe is easy to make. The results are so good so luscious, that you'll want to make this recipe one to use for many celebrations! Nice to be able to make dessert a day ahead of the party, too—leaving extra time for party preparation on the big day!

CHOCOLATE MYSTERY BOMBE

1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
¼ cup water
½ cup granulated sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
¾ teaspoon rum extract
1 cup whipping cream
½ cup finely chopped dark seedless raisins
½ cup finely chopped dried figs

Line a 1½-quart mold with the ice cream and freeze until firm—about one hour. Melt chocolate in water over low heat, stirring until blended. Add sugar and salt. Simmer 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Pour slowly over egg yolks, blending well. Cool. Add vanilla and rum extracts.

Whip cream and fold into chocolate mixture. Then fold in raisins and figs. Spoon into center of mold. Freeze overnight. Unmold to serve. Garnish with shaved chocolate, if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Main Dish For Summer— Avocado-Shrimp Boats

The main dish for a summer luncheon will be a swimming success if it's festive "Avocado Shrimp Boats." Should you prefer to use fresh shrimp in these luscious avocado "boats," cook and devein ½ pound of shrimp and add ¼ teaspoon salt to the recipe.

SUMMER avocados from California will be in local markets until October. Most have purplish-black, pebbled skins and are ovoid to pear-shaped. Inside, they are the same as the winter varieties.

To test a summer avocado for eating-ripeness, cup it between your hands; if it yields to firm pressure, serve it. Or if a toothpick slides easily into the stem end, the avocado is ready to eat.

AVOCADO SHRIMP BOATS

2 tablespoons chopped green onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup French dressing
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 can (4½ oz.) deveined shrimp
2 California avocados
Lemon juice
Salad greens

Combine onion, green pepper, dressing, horseradish and shrimp; chill. Cut avocados lengthwise into halves; remove seeds and skin and sprinkle with lemon juice. With a small French ball cutter or ¼ teaspoon measure, cut 3 or 4 balls from each halfshell and add to shrimp mixture. Spoon mixture into half-shells. Serve on salad greens. Makes 4 servings. (SH

Frankie Masters' Orchestra Heads Benefit Entertainment

Frankie Masters and his orchestra will be the featured entertainment Friday, June 29, when members of Arlington Heights Center of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago again present an evening of dining and dancing at the swank Post and Paddock Club. A repeat performance of last year, the affair will begin with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner in the Post and Paddock, after which members and their friends will adjourn to the spacious Classic Club for dancing to Frankie Masters and his 12-piece orchestra.

The buffet dinner has been planned by the Post and Paddock's maitre d', Emile, and will again include an array of both hot and cold gourmet foods as well as the club's famous desserts.

THE INFANT Welfare party is one of the few occasions on which the exclusive Post and Paddock has been opened to a benefit group and last year was a "first" for a local group. Attendance at the gala affair is by invitation from Infant Welfare members and so far the guest list includes not only local friends of the members, but many from out-of-town who welcome this opportunity to again hobnob in the Post and Paddock.

Tickets, limited to 400 persons, were nearly sold out weeks ago; however some members are still holding a few tickets for guests who are finding it necessary to switch vacation and other plans to attend the party. Last year's party netted $2,400 for Infant Welfare Society and helped toward the $5,000 the local group was able to contribute to the Society during its first year of formation.

This year's contributions will include proceeds from the group's luncheon and fashion show presented in early Spring and the total, already one of the larger donations among the 51 centers in the Chicagoland area, promises to be even greater in '62.

CONTRIBUTIONS from the centers go toward expenses incurred in operating the society's child development center and stations for infants and pre-school children and its program of pre-natal care, home calls and nutrition for underprivileged mothers. (S

Elk Grove Village Pair Plan Summer in DeKalb

An Elk Grove Village couple were married in the local Queen of the Rosary Church on June 9 and are residing in DeKalb for the summer, after a 2-week honeymoon. The former Linda Marie Wilhelm, daughter of the V. E. Wilhelms, 551 Clearmont Drive, became the bride of Daniel Thomas Cunniff at 3 o'clock that Saturday afternoon in double ring rites.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cunniff, 22 Ridgewood Road. He and his bride will live in DeKalb while he does graduate work at Northern Illinois University, and they will return here when he begins teaching in Mount Prospect in fall.

HE IS A graduate of Northern Illinois, and his bride attended the university for one year. She also had a year at Southern Illinois University. Both are graduates of Proviso Township High School.

Father Morrison united the pair before an altar decorated with two baskets of mixed flowers. Organist was Mrs. Johann Kalina, and soloist was Mrs. Rosalie Burk.

YELLOW and white formed the color scheme for the bridal party. The bride's gown was fashioned of white silk organza and chantilly lace. The lace bodice, accented with sequins, had long sleeves and a rounded neckline, and the organza skirt had two panels of lace running from the waist to the floor.

Her tulle veil was held by a round headpiece encircled with pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

THE YELLOW of the color scheme was carried out in the attire of the bride's attendants, who were gowned alike in organza sheath dresses with overskirts. They had matching yellow shoes and hats and carried colonial bouquets of white daisies with yellow centers and tied with yellow ribbons.

Nancy Tomisek of Forest Park was maid of honor, and Shirley Devor of La Grange Park and Gail Wilkins of Maywood were bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was Dominik Micholas of Melrose Park, and as ushers were Ray Schrapkowski of Oak Lawn and Paul Shuh of Westchester.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilhelm wore a pink flowered chiffon over taffeta dress with matching coat and shoes. The bridegroom's mother chose aqua chiffon in a sheath style and had matching accessories.

The reception was held in the Maitre d' Restaurant in Elk Grove, where 135 guests were served a wedding dinner.

The Way We See It

Political 'Surgery' Is Rx for District

(This is the last of three special editorials on the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.)

As a source of patronage, the Metropolitan Sanitary District is second to none. This vast "Seventh Wonder of American Engineering" — supported by the taxes of residents of all northwest suburban communities with the exception of Buffalo Grove — serves as a gigantic welfare state for the party faithful from all over the Chicagoland area.

The J. L. Jacobs Co., a consulting firm, conducted a personnel study last September which revealed that 44 per cent of all employes served in a temporary capacity.

Later investigations show that this figure has varied little since the study was made. There are over 700 temporary jobs in the sanitary district out of approximately 2,100 to 2,-200 jobs. This means that about a third of the jobs in the district are held by temporary employes.

It has further been established that 14 classifications of jobs out of scores of sanitary district job classifications account for 75 per cent of all temporary jobs.

Temporary jobs are given to persons who haven't passed civil service examinations. In fact, even if civil service exams were started at this time, the Jacobs company estimates, it would take several years to fill all temporary jobs with civil servants.

The consulting firm also found that morale in the sanitary district was at rock-bottom, and understandably so. For those persons holding temporary jobs often command salaries in excess of those paid to the sanitary district's civil servants.

The doubt persists that many of these jobs have been created for work which does not exist, and this assumption has been reinforced in recent months by newspaper disclosures showing taverns and coffee shops as the favorite working day haunts of sanitary district employes.

About the only time taxpayers can expect temporary job holders of the sanitary district to expand energy is around election time. Unfortunately, these outbursts of activity are not in the interest of earning what one is paid from the public payroll, but in getting the voters out to insure the precinct captain-committeeman-sanitary district employe job security.

The voter can only feel a sense of frustration when confronted with slates for sanitary district trustees. Neither party has managed the district's affairs with any thought toward the public good.

When the Democrats wrested control of the district back from the Republicans a dozen years ago, it changed little except that the party of Jefferson has appeared somewhat more rapacious than the party of Lincoln in its deallings. This can probably be attributed to the fact that this citadel of patronage, questionable contracts and land leases, payroll padding and cheating, had been denied them for some time. Perhaps this is why they resemble men with an unquenchable thirst gathered around a well they fear may soon go dry.

Four trustee positions are open in the November elections. Because of the long history of plunder and corruption associated with the sanitary district, we recommend the sponsoring of a nonpartisan slate by some civic organization such as the Better Government Association, Civic Federation of Chicago, or the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry to bring a measure of responsibility and integrity back to this institution.

Surely, men of incorruptible character and ability can be found to manage the affairs of this vast engineering complex; to rid it of loafers and patronage plums; to let unquestionable contracts; to see that sanitary district land leased to private business nets a fair return.

A sanitary district trustee is paid $10,000 a year for what amounts to a part-time job, since his presence is only required for board and committee meetings.

Considering the level to which this scandal-infested, tax-supported body has slipped, however, a trustee would find himself engaged in full-time work. It would require courage, persistence, and uncompromising honesty.

The affairs of the sanitary district have been deplorable since the "whoopee era" of the '20s when taxpayers were charged $1,050,000 for a bridle path, $6,900 for a night on the town, and the district payroll included 30 state legislators and 50 weekly newspaper editors.

Corruption — like cancer — never diminishes. It can be arrested. But usually it grows until it is cut out. Such surgery is desperately needed in the November elections.

A National Feeling

Where were the American flags on Flag Day, June 14? Where will they be on July 4?

On the 187th birthday of our American flag, shopping areas of many northwest suburbs were bedecked with new 50-star banners, some with 49 stars, and some with 48.

But in residential areas few flags, new or old, were visible. True, our flag is only a symbol designed to represent "a new constellation" and stronghold of Democracy. But there have been few times in United States history when a show of patriotism and national belief was more necessary than it is today.

The show of patriotism in the home should be as strong, if not stronger, during the present "cold war" than it was during the First and Second World Wars and the Korean War.

A decline in personal national feeling must be followed by a decline in the nation which derives its strength from that feeling.

The display of our national banner is a nearly costless investment in the future of personal freedom and world Democracy.

Critic's Corner

'Adjustment' To Suburbia?

by JOHN REDDY
News Editor, Palatine Enterprise

When I was young — about four years ago — I used to go carousing with a good chum, supporting our innumerable theses for world salvation with the assistance of one elbow on a liquor-stained bar.

One night, as we strode pompously along a neon-lit pavement, my good friend, his eyes clouded somewhat nostalgicly, half spied and half tripped over an unfortunate derelict who was squatted on a stoop between a restaurant and a bar.

And this good friend found it in his heart to give the ragged looking figure a half dollar — and a similar amount to a companion who stumbled in a lurch from the shadow of the walkup hallway.

REDDY

AS I PUFFED rather dramatically on a throat-choking cigar, I retained my senses and kept my hand in my pocket, chiding my good friend about his susceptibility. I called him a soft touch and cussed him that lasted until dawn by charging that his donation set off a philosophical disto the unfortunate thrill seeker was simply a manner of soothing his own conscience.

With ideal righteousness, I declared that my good friend chose to follow the easy way out, dismissing his responsibility to society by simply giving a token offering—and at that only by chance.

Now I didn't give anybody anything that night. My philosophy, as it developed in the darkness before dawn, seemed to dictate that any contribution I might make should go to a professional organization that could put my meager offering to maximum use.

BEING indecisive, I found it difficult to arrive at a decision as to just which organization, if any, I would endorse. Matter of fact, I never arrived at any decision.

THEN I married, started a family, and moved my mortgage to suburbia where I would have a little crab grass to show for it.

Naturally, I cut my exposure to street-strolling derelicts considerably, not being able to afford much more than five rooms of furniture, lawn devices that still have me baffled and an assortment of other things that I am aware of only when bills arrive.

Now, instead of destitute men with spital-stained stubble, I am confronted with emotion-provoking young boys, toddler-carrying mothers, energetic looking fathers, and soft speaking neighbors. All have a worthwhile operation for which they seek support—generally by ringing the doorbell between 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday.

ORDINARILY, this would not be any problem. But I still haven't made up my mind as to which organizations are worthy of my financial support. And I'm confused by the growing number of collection days.

Ten years from now the numerals on the calendar will have been replaced by symbols of doughnuts, peanuts, poppies, bells, flags, etc.

But this doesn't really matter. For I now live in a suburban community and seemingly always give in and contribute to whomever rings the doorbell.

One day, however, I actually felt good about the whole thing. I had read of a collection to take place and decided ahead of time to contribute generously—and for me that isn't much.

I LEARNED later that I had given away the funds that the household financial wizard had earmarked for restoration of images on our child-scarred television box.

With much despair over having nothing to stare at on TV, I pondered my dilemma deep in an easy chair. Then, with something of a dull pain came a flash.

I began to play with the children—it seemed like fun. I told my wife how much I appreciated her and even mixed up an iced tea to relieve ironing board rigors. I finally settled down to a book and was surprised to discover that I found it interesting.

Now this story is a lie; but I wish it weren't.

From Marguerite Stitt Church:

The Clarion Call

America's existing treaties should be re-evaluated in a complete re-appraisal of U.S. foreign policy, Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church (R.-Ill.) said Saturday speaking at Northwestern University's 104th commencement exercises.

"Our allies and our opponents must be made aware of our aim, and of our will to achieve it," she told the 10,000 students, graduates and parents who filled McGaw Memorial Hall for the graduating ceremony. The Evanston congresswomen, who retires this year, delivered the commencement address and received an honorary degree from her alma mater.

REP. CHURCH

"The U.S. must develop a clear, consistent policy based on our self-interest. By 'self-interest,' I mean our determination to be free and to preserve the freedom of our people. The overriding issue in foreign and domestic affairs is 'shall freedom as we know it perish from the earth'?

"THE BATTLE for freedom must be won," Mrs. Church emphasized. "Won through our own increased effort to improve its application at home, warding off all enroachments. Won through finding better methods of extending its meaning to an eager and frenzied world. Won through greater associated efforts with those who share an appreciation of its values.

"There must be the will to win.

"There must be the capacity to win. The U.S. must remain strong in its economy, in its defense and, above all, in its moral and spiritual dedication.

"There must be the faith that we can win — faith in ourselves and in our cause."

Mrs. Church took as her topic, "A Motion to Reconsider," the parliamentary device by which lawmakers are given "an opportunity to take a last look, to chance a fresh appraisal, to ward off ultimate damage, before the legislative die is set.

"My title expresses my unshakable conviction that the time is due to take a fresh look at our problems, to reappraise our national strength and goals, to re-evaluate our national purpose and will. The basis for this must be: Will man continue to be? And will he continue to be free?"

SHE THEN posed eight "soul-searching questions" for Americans:

—"Have we softened the national will and purpose?

—"Have we, from love of 'foam-cushioned living,' lost our individual self-reliance and become weak in the arms of government cradling?

—"Are we entering into a Socialist republic, based on control of the individual through government regulation? Are our liberties being eroded inch by inch so that we may not recognize, until too late, the complete destruction of our freedom?

—"Have we substituted dollars for firm leadership on moral principles — and this in the face of a $300 billion national debt?

—"ARE WE truly 'friendly to neutrals, neutral toward our enemies, and hostile toward our friends'?

—"Have we failed to spread throughout the world a true picture of us as a young, virile, freedom-loving, God-respecting nation? If so why?

—"Have we really 'declared the Ten Commandments obsolete'?

—"Have we become so concerned with causes that we have lost sight of our principles?"

MRS. CHURCH said "there is nothing false or antiquated about the force of human freedom and the great principles on which this country has been built — or, for that matter, about the Ten Commandments.

"Those who would have you believe these concepts are false or antiquated, are those who trifle with your freedom."

Off-Beat Reading

Target: Eggheads' America

by MARTIN E. MARTY

Suppose you styled yourself an egghead. Suppose you chose to write an egghead's guide to America. Suppose your name were Wade Thompson and you did write "Egghead's Guide to America" (Macmillan, $3.50) and offer it for sale to American eggheads and non-eggheads. Suppose you looked around you for the likely targets to satirize. You can guess what they would be: college football is always ready to take knocks (but not professional—eggheads like that form of the sport.)

MARTY

COLLEGE fraternities would be a sitting duck. Nuclear armaments, militarism, the Radio City Music Hall kitsch-culture, Norman Vincent Peale (treated as 'entertainment'), the House Un-American Activities Committee, the F.B.I., the D.A.R. They regularly provide targets for the intellectual community.

Well, Wade Thompson offers no surprises. Sure enough, every one of them comes under his satirical scrutiny. You would think, therefore, that this could be a very dull book. It isn't. Wade Thompson is too interesting a writer and his treatment too much off-beat to let it lapse into a one-more-time incantation of the same themes.

THOMPSON describes himself as, among other things, "a poet of fabulous obscurity, a pacifist, a socialistic anarchist; I'm sex obsessed. I have a Ph. D. and absolute pitch." He had better stay in New York (he teaches at Long Island University); we would never let him loose in our suburbs!

Yet he is good to have around because even if those items and people listed above take regular knocks from eggheads, they do provide worthwhile targets. What is the common denominator behind them all? Not necessarily that they exist but that people take them too seriously; their defenders just won't let them be laughed at. I enjoy football but don't think it needs philosphical defense and worshipful admirers.

Fraternity-men are my best friends ("but would you want your daughter to marry one?") but someone ought to take apart the solemnity of their religious rituals. Wade Thompson did and does. You may recall the headlines he made when he proposed to debate the subjects of abolition of football and frats. His opponents-to-be wouldn't debate—the topics were too sacred.

DO YOU agree here? "Which brings us to Religion. In America everybody loves religion. We're pious as all h---. Skepticism is quite out of fashion, and atheism is practically unheard of. Despite our piety, however, Americans are remarkably unreligious. We simply have no taste for it. No feel. Karl Marx once called religion the 'opiate of the people'; here it's more like the Bond Bread of the people (okay to have around—indeed it furthers free enterprise—but you don't actually eat the stuff.)" On the right wing, Thompson enjoins: "In cold, cruel fact, Communism as an internal threat does not now, and never did, amount to a hill of beans. Even J. Edgar Hoover admits as much. . . But Commie-hysteria has now become our favorite national pastime—better than baseball because everybody can play it . . ."

Thompson is half-serious half the time, but quite serious the rest of it. If you wince too often, be sure to ask yourself whether it may not be good therapy. None of us is healthy if we have too many sacred cows in the pasture that "the egghead's guide" attacks.

By the way, it is very light reading. Nothing to tip the hammock over on a hot summer's day.

GOP Sheriff Candidate Vows Action

CHICAGO, (UPI) — The Republican Candidate for sheriff of Cook County said Thursday night that padded payrolls in the Chicago City Hall come under the Sheriff's law enforcement obligations just as well as the suppression of gambling and vice.

Richard B. Ogilvie, speaking at a fund raising dinner, said he plans to "Go after organized crime in all of Cook County, not only outside Chicago, but everywhere that the crime syndicate has its connections whether it is the city hall or county building."

Oglivie, a former federal prosecutor, announced plans for a super-secret intelligence unit to investigate the crime syndicate and its political contacts. He promised a complete overhaul of the sheriff's office and a new rehabilitation program for the County Jail.

Cite Parents In Vandalism

Sad but true, vandalism seems to be rearing its ugly head in the new community, because of delinquent parents, which we sincerely hope is in a stage of minority as yet.

As a homeowner it is not difficult to detect arrogance and resentment to authority among boys and girls in the community. Pertinent remarks of "drop dead" and "go soak your head, crab," snapped back at decent tax-paying citizens are getting widespread. Senior citizens are laughed at and ridiculed. There are also numerous complaints of unprovoked bullying of small children peacefully walking along the street to the village store.

CHILDREN have always been a wonder to behold, and innocent words of wisdom do come from the mouths of babes, but remarks of the latter carry the stench of "subversive brainwashing," from parents who defend and refuse to discipline their young, because as one father put it, "I don't want to nag the boy, he's just a kid."

No one need point a finger, however, eyes are not deceiving when they behold littered lawns, broken saplings, and shrubbery; broken branches of beautiful fruit trees and mutilated birds strewn along the road, not mentioning what the constant harassment is doing to one's health and well-being.

Homeowners who demand nothing but to enjoy serene privacy within their home grounds have their premises suddenly invaded by these village "misfits" who scream like blood-thirsty vampires as they roar through the village on bicycles.

PEACE loving farmers are suddenly posting "No Trespassing" signs—why? The grounds of a lovely golf course after many years is suddenly surrounded by fencing—why? Privacy of ownership is being rudely violated.

In an election not so long hence, village voters proved by choice, some manner of policing was vital and necessary, however, the police as vigilant as they may be, cannot do the job alone. It is the sacred duty and obligation of every parent to give them whole-hearted cooperation.

A rotten apple is not rid of its decay until you destroy the worm nearest its core, which applies to good home training—within the home. Schools and churches can only then nurture and encourage it.

DON'T MISJUDGE me, I am not the village grouch nor the self-righteous homemaker who can see "no wrong in her little darlings." On the contrary, I am a mother and love the patter of little feet; I also welcome compatible playmates, but, handing out discipline to my own brood seems a worthless effort when the laxity of other parents turns that "patter" into a boisterous rumble of destruction.

There is a legend that Buffalo Grove was inhabited by Indians in the early days of Illinois history. These, and those early settlers who came after should be given the honor they so richly deserve for preserving its natural beauty, and only Unity In Action Can Help Keep It So.

For obvious reasons, kindly withhold my name from print as conversing among home owners who care, I am voicing the opinion of many.

The Fence Post — Letters to the Editor

Church-State Discussion Is Tagged 'Hollow Flag Waving'

Recently a committee member of the POAU was allowed an audience in the Fence Post regarding requests by parents of our community and their representatives to the Arlington-Prospect High School Board on the subject of excused absence for an annual half-day religious exercise. In the opinion of the writer, this article amounted to hollow flag waving and empty oratory.

A careful reading of his letter will show that in essence he claimed this request was a transgression of the law of church-state separation and against the best interests of the Constitution of the United States.

FIRST, THE specific reference to religion in the Constitution is not found in the Constitution itself. Rather it is contained in Article I of the Bill of Rights, and these Bill of Rights were added as an afterthought and a safeguard which was intended to protect the individual citizen from abuses by the government and not to protect the government from abuses by the individual.

In context with the body of the other articles in the original Bill of Rights the sentence clearly reads that Congress shall neither force a religion on the people, nor shall it restrain people from practicing their religion.

By logical inference the rights of the nonbeliever are protected, but any aim to erase religious belief or practice is restrained to the bounds of justice, meaning the rights of other citizens under the Constitution and to the bounds of truth. He cannot expect the support of the government, and he must limit his efforts to persuasion only.

IN MY opinion the terms "law of church and state separation" have very little meaning except the very obvious one that we are protected from a state religion, or vice versa from a militant atheism such as practiced now in Russia under communism.

There is no set pattern or tradition in the history of education in our country. It might shock this committee member were he to catalogue the many instances of cooperation between religious bodies and public educational institutions.

For example, since 1927 in the state of Minnesota a number of scattered communities have had a continuous program of shared time in operation involving an exchange of students both at grammar and high school levels, and embracing such subjects as shop courses, industrial arts, home economics and shortages and offered a well-rounded program to meet the needs of all at no additional cost to either school system.

AS A suggestion I would like to see the POAU spend its energies fighting the real enemies of freedom which are the compulsory aspects of our American way of government, the excesses and abuses of intrenched bureaucracy, over-regimentation in farming and business over-centralization of political power, and the flight to government guaranteed security at every level. As the text of the recent Republican declarations of principles set forth, public assistance programs should put a floor over the pit of poverty, never a ceiling on personal achievement.

Incidentally, there are two other statements in the GOP declaration of principles which bear careful consideration and relate to education:

"Federal direction must never be substituted for local or private control of our schools . . . Tax relief should be given to those who bear the burden of financing education for themselves or for others."

Rowdy Children Pose Problems

No doubt you will receive many letters regarding the recent killing of the suburban boy who crossed a lawn.

Did the youngsters ever stop to think how much work goes into a nice lawn, etc. ? I am in the same position as that family was, and my heart goes all out to them. Being middle-aged and owning a home has its misfortunes.

WE LIVE in the better section of Mount Prospect, and we have a family of five children on one side of us who just feel our home shall I say grounds, are theirs too.

The driveway always has the little youngsters with their bikes on and believe you me I tried everything, telling or yelling doesn't help. It is entirely up to the parents and they just are lax in everything.

When I planted tulips and they came up the children tore them up and the young trees we planted were mutilated that they no longer grew. I have flower pots on the front porch and one day these were all broken in pieces and thrown all over the front porch and when I complained to the mother, all she said "Oh dear, I don't know what to say." Didn't clout the kids—God forbid.

You see this and many other disturbances go on—All the kids in the neighborhood run all over our place or some stand in front of our picture window sticking out their tongues and calling us crabs.

THERE IS no respect left in the world or shall I say in this generation who are raising future Americans. All I can say is they are all going to be number one bullies.

I am sure many elderly and middle aged folks feel like we do. Thank goodness, our children are married and they are raising families, but disciplinary methods certainly are used there. Can't the paper publish an article stating that when people buy property they like to have others "Stay Off." Now with vacation time, it will be some fun, especially where children are left unattended and do as they please.

We, my husband and I, feel parents need the disciplining and then pass it on to the kids.

Drop Masquerade Of Impartiality

It must be getting close to an election. Your paper has dropped its masquerade of impartiality and, with the rest of the one-party press, is parroting the A.M.A-G.O.P. party line on the President's Medical Care Bill.

Once again, the contradictory, somewhat humorous argument is advanced that the King-Anderson Bill is "Socialism" only it doesn't provide enough benefits! Won't you people get on one side or the other—does the bill go too far or not far enough?

SURE, THERE is a $90 deductible clause in the bill. If there wasn't, I can hear the Republican "aginners" arguing that the hospitals would be flooded with people with sore toes and chapped lips. President Kennedy is proposing to ease the blow of excessively heavy medical bills— not to eliminate medical expense entirely.

The Kerr-Mills Bill is a complete flop! Witness our own State of Illinois! Under Kerr-Mills, the state must match federal funds dollar for dollar. Now just where in 1962 is Illinois going to procure these matching funds? Kerr-Mills—not King-Thompson—is the hoax being perpetrated on the American people. And most states are less wealthy than Illinois. West Virginia was the first state to try Kerr-Mills on a large scale and in 14 months, the whole program collapsed in abysmal failure! Try Kerr-Mills indeed—it has been tried. Governor Rockefeller labels it inadequate and even Life Magazine calls it a bad law.

On June 15, Governor Kerner announced cuts would have to be made in "aid to the medically indigent aged." This means no matching funds for Kerr-Mills.

A substantial minority of America's doctors are throwing off the A.M.A. shackles and are organizing to back the President's bill. One of the best-kept secrets in America (by the press) is that the 170,000 member American Nurses' Association endorses the King-Thompson Bill.

THE AMERICAN People will not be fooled. The calamity-howlers opposing the King-Anderson have no workable alternative to propose. They are the same old obstructionist crowd that has fought social progress in America for 30 years. I'd hate to see America without the programs once denounced as "Socialism."

Fortunately for all of us, the old crowd has lost most of the battles—and they will lose this one! If not in this Congress, then in the next—or the next.

Principal Has Some Good Words

I could not leave the community of Arlington Heights, or my position as principal of Arlington High School, without expressing my deep appreciation to Paddock Publications for their important role in making this such a fine community in which to live and work.

I have been impressed throughout the last 10 years, not only with the increasing size of the paper, but with its increasing stature and service. I am best acquainted, of course, with the coverage of school activities. I commend particularly the fine work of Bob Frisk, who has covered the sports program at Arlington High School, and Helene Bristol, who has covered the activities of the high school district, for the high calibre of their performance.

BOB HAS been an ideal sports reporter. His work has been thorough, and his support has been positive and consistent. Mrs. Bristol's program has enabled her to make an outstanding contribution to public interest and understanding. She has been thoroughly cooperative, and a fine person to know.

I would also want to commend Bill Schoepke very highly. Bill has helped us so many times when we had a deadline to meet, or a special job of printing to do. Not only the high quality of the work of his staff, but the spirit of cooperation and helpfulnesss which he has exhibited at all times, have been greatly appreciated.

We are continuing our subscription to Paddock Publications. It will help us to maintain contact with the community that we have come to love. Thank you for helping to make and to keep this type of community.

E. Eugene Oliver

Toastmistress Club Grateful

In the name of the immediate past presidnet, Mrs. Albert Peters of Arlington Heights, the Midtown Toastmistress Club wishes to thank Paddock Publications, and in particular, Miss Marianne Scott, Women's Editor, for the fine coverage extended to all our club affairs.

We are truly grateful to your fine paper for the splendid cooperation given to our group.

Bus Service Need Is Told

I'm just a grandmother with a couple of teenage grandchildren, who like to go places and do things, but with no transportation but a bike or someone to transport them wherever they want to go.

I think it's a shame and disgrace that a town of this size should be without bus service or public transportation. No wonder there are so many teenage drivers on the roads. I should think that between the towns of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Wheeling and Rolling Meadows, the officials could get together and provide some kind of bus service on the main thoroughfares such as Central Road, State Road, Kirchoff Road, 83, Northwest Highway, Rand and Milwaukee or 21.

My heart goes out to these kids when I see them standing along the road trying to thumb a ride to places where they'd like to go and can't get there. Everybody would be willing to pay bus fare just to be able to get where they want to go.

I know I, myself, often wish for public transportation so I wouldn't be dependent upon someone to take me where I want to go. No wonder there are delinquent young people when nobody wants to help them.

Now let's see what can be done to remedy this situation.

E. H.

Reader 'Sick' Of Criticism

I am getting a little sick of hearing and reading criticism of your articles on the aged people. Regardless of what one's politics are, your articles were fine reading and did a real service in providing us with information about problems we have not really fully understood.

Normally I don't get very upset about comments on articles that appear in the newspapers, but I do think your paper has been unjustly criticized for what was a really good effort. I think some of these people that attack the aged articles must be nuts.

Urges Taxes On Valuable Cemeteries

CHICAGO, (UPI) — The Monument Builders of Chicagoland said Monday that cemeteries worth more than $100 million should be added to the property tax rolls.

In a letter to State Sen. E.B. Groen, Pekin, chairman of a legislative commission investigating cemeteries, an attorney for the monument makers contended that 44 cemeteries in the Chicago area should not be tax exempt. Albert J. Meserow, the attorney, said the cemeteries sold for profit momuments, grave markers, flowers and grave boxes.

He cited an Illinois Supreme Court decision that a tax exempt cemetery should not be allowed to compete with a tax-paying monument dealer.

Engineers Announce Area Work

CHICAGO, (UPI) — The Corps of Engineers, celebrating its 187th anniversary last week, said that more than $95 million in construction and supply contracts are in effect or planned for Illinois.

The engineers said more than $17 million in supply contracts have been awarded to plants in the Peoria area; $1.3 million in construction contracts for the Beardstown Flood Control Project; $2.5 million for reinforcing fabric from Bartonville; $7.1 million for construction and supplies in Chicago suburbs, and $61.9 million in contracts with firms in the immediate Chicago area. They Take Him at His Word, Leave

SAGINAW, MICH., (UPI) — An education specialist apparently took pity on his audience here Friday night.

Dr. Paul Gardner of the National Aeronautical Space Agency (NASA) addressed the annual Greater Saginaw Chamber of Commerce meeting.

As his speech got under way, Gardner stopped, and advised his audience that his talk was highly technical, dealing with NASA aspirations. Those who would rather not listen, he said, were free to leave any time they desired.

About 200 of the 269 dinner guests left the room. (A14

Tame, Tawny Tom Startles Resident

MILWAUKEE, WIS., (UPI)— An ocelot, a tawny cat that looks like a miniature leopard, stalked the streets of Milwaukee Saturday after slipping away from its master, Miss Peggy Lord, 22, of Minneapolis.

The tame cat, which had its teeth filed and claws removed, startled Henry Peters, 86, Milwaukee, while Peters was working in his son's yard. The year-old male cat, 18 inches long and 12 inches high, suddenly appeared and brushed against him.

PETERS SCREAMED, his son, Harvey W. Peters, came running when he heard that a wild animal was in the yard.

Patrolmen Richard Duszynski and Stanley Szepanski reported no difficulty in putting a rope on the cat's collar and leading it to a waiting patrol wagon.

Miss Lord told police that she had thought she had fastened a leash to the cat's Rhinestone collar before opening the door of the car she was riding in. The ocelot disappeared when she turned away momentarily.

JOSEPH SCHNELLER

Are You Buying VALUE?

Value

in the dictionary is "A fair or proper equivalent in money, commodities for something sold or exchanged." Value is measured by the ability of an object to enrich your living.

Value

in furniture is measured by how well the furniture does its job and how pretty it looks doing it. This kind of value in furniture will give you great personal satisfaction and pay dividends on your decorating dollars for many years to come.

Value

in furniture can be found if you keep two equally important points in mind when you buy it. It must satisfy you because it is good looking AND it must stand up, giving you good service. You can't afford to buy furniture on the basis of looks and price alone. Even so-called inexpensive furniture and the discount-priced furniture represent a major expenditure that you probably won't want to repeat for some years to come. You won't have to repeat it if you know how to tell good value from face value in furniture. It's really economical to pay a little more for the well-made, quality furniture which will stand up through years of comfortable, gracious living . . . you'll find you get your money's worth!

Value

is what we believe you will find when you buy furniture from Schneller Furniture Co. You can be certain of quality and availability by selecting well-established furniture styles from our reputable manufacturers. We believe the value our customers have received is responsible for the fact that we are celebrating 14 years of growth.

Value

is also in the extra services that are yours when you buy at Schneller's. Our trained decorators will give you expert advice at no charge — at the store or in your home. Our complete home furnishings departments give you shopping convenience and your satisfaction is guaranteed. Our terms are as low as 10% down with low finance rates. No carrying charge 90-day accounts are available.

Value

is what you'll find an extraordinary amount of if you'll stop at Schneller's today . . . our 14th Anniversary specials will give you years of Value!
